TREASURY BOARD OVER-RULINGS

Re Election Accounts

TORONTO, November 19th, 1919.

DEAR SIR,—Referring to Vouchers Nos. 31217, $206.10—31262, $1,211.97—31263, $152.89—31264, $2,151.84—31511, $117.73—31512, $182.38—31513, $165.35—31515, $199.11—31517, $153.75 and 31518, $266.45.

As the amounts in each case would seem to indicate that the accounts in connection with several services mentioned therein had been finally closed for the amounts as stated therein, I should be glad if you would kindly send us the accounts in each case accordingly.

Yours truly,

J. CLANCY,

Auditor.

E. A. Maclaurin, Esq.,
Auditor, Criminal Justice Accounts.

AUDIT OFFICE.

TORONTO, November 24th, 1919.

DEAR SIR,—I wrote you on the 19th inst. calling attention to certain Vouchers with requisitions for further payments to the officials mentioned therein, to which I have not had the advantage of receiving any response.

May I ask if the amounts involved in these as in many similar cases represent accountable warrants under Section 57, Subsection 3 of the Election Act, or are they payments of balances claimed in each case as they would seem to indicate?

An early reply will greatly oblige.

Yours truly,

J. CLANCY,

Auditor.

E. A. Maclaurin, Esq.,
Auditor, Criminal Justice Accounts.

AUDIT OFFICE, CRIMINAL JUSTICE ACCOUNTS.

TORONTO, November 24th, 1919.

DEAR SIR,—I am in receipt of yours of this date and in answer thereto would say that the amounts of the requisitions mentioned by you represent Accountable Warrants under Section 57, Subsection 2 of the Election Act.

They are not in any case payment of balances to the Chairman of the Board in whose favour they are asked, but are advances to enable them to pay accounts which, under the Regulations, must be paid through them.

Yours truly,

E. A. MACLAURIN,

Auditor, Criminal Justice Accounts.

Mr. Clancy,
Provincial Auditor, Buildings.

AUDIT OFFICE.

TORONTO, December 9th, 1919.

Re Election Accounts

DEAR SIR,—We have received the following vouchers respecting the Electoral Districts mentioned therein:—

Voucher No. 1854, North Huron.
" " 1855, North York.
" " 1856, West Middlesex.
" " 1857, Russell.
" " 2055, Niagara Falls.
" " 2056, Glengarry.
" " 2057, North Essex.
" " 2058, Centre Simcoe.

I have to call your attention to the fact that only a small portion of the election accounts in each of the foregoing cases have been furnished.

I should be obliged for the balance of these accounts at your earliest convenience.

Yours truly,

J. CLANCY,
Auditor.

E. A. Maclaurin, Esq.,
Auditor, Criminal Justice Accounts.

AUDIT OFFICE.

TORONTO, December 9th, 1919.

DEAR SIR,—A small batch of incomplete Election Accounts has just been received, to which prompt attention will be given.

I enclose a copy of letter sent to Mr. Maclaurin touching the matter.

Yours truly,

J. CLANCY,
Auditor.

Hon. W. E. Raney, K.C.
Attorney-General.

Department of Attorney-General.

Toronto, December 11th, 1919.

Dear Sir,—I am advised that after accounts in respect of the recent General Election have been audited by the Auditor of Criminal Justice Accounts you consider it your duty, under The Audit Act, to re-audit these accounts, and, with this end in view, you have written to the Auditor of Criminal Justice Accounts asking that a balance of certain Election Accounts be forwarded to you, no doubt for the purpose of audit, and you have called the attention of the Attorney-General to the fact that you have received a small batch of incomplete Election Accounts.

I have requested the opinion of the Attorney-General with regard to your duty in connection with these Election Accounts, and he is of opinion that you are not required to re-audit these accounts, and that after the Auditor of Criminal Justice Accounts has audited them you have no duty in the matter except to countersign the cheques which are issued in payment.

The Government wishes, therefore, to express the desire that you will not submit Election Accounts to any further audit, but will forthwith countersign the cheques which are from time to time issued by the Treasurer in payment thereof.

Yours faithfully,

E. C. Drury.

James Clancy, Esq.,
Provincial Auditor,

Audit Office.

Toronto, December 13th, 1919.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of your letter of the 13th inst., which I have read with care as being impressed with its importance.

I have, however, to respectfully submit that Section 57 of The Ontario Election Act, 1918 (which is presumably relied upon), does not alter or limit the operation of Section 9, Section 10, Subsection 1 and Section 15 of the Audit Act, but, on the contrary, the provisions of the Acts referred to may be read and taken as standing together in all respects without conflict.

Under Section 9 in this case, as well as in all other cases, without distinction, some officer or clerk (whether the Auditor of Criminal Justice Accounts so called, or some other officer or clerk in the Department, would not appear to be material) is required to audit the accounts of the several services in the first instance, but such Departmental audit does not in any way relieve the Auditor from the discharge of the duty imposed upon him under Section 10, Subsection 1, to examine, check and audit all accounts or receipts and expenditures of public moneys, and, therefore, any suggestion to the effect that what is termed a re-audit or that the manner, mode or procedure in auditing the accounts in question differs in the least from that adopted in respect to all other accounts, it is submitted, is obviously without foundation in fact.

If, as provided by Section 14, Subsection 1, of the Audit Act (subject to the provisions of sub-clauses (a), (b) and (c) thereof, a cheque for public money shall not issue except upon the certificate of the Auditor, it must appear clear that the Auditor shall first examine, check and audit these accounts, as required by Section 10, Subsection 1, before venturing to certify the issue of a cheque for payment of the same—a statutory duty from which he is not by any Act of the Legislature relieved.

Under Section 15 the Auditor shall countersign all cheques issued by the Treasurer, which would include all cheques issued by the Treasurer pursuant to the provisions of Section 57, Subsection 4, of the Ontario Election Act, 1918, but subject alike in all cases (unless otherwise provided) to the express condition that before countersigning the Auditor shall satisfy himself that the issue of the cheque is authorized.

Having regard to the foregoing, I regret that I am compelled to say that I am unable to certify the issue of cheques for payment of these accounts, which I have not seen and of which I have no knowledge, notwithstanding that they involve an aggregate expenditure of more than a quarter of a million dollars.

Objection is taken pursuant to the provisions of Section 14, Subsection 1 (c), of the Audit Act.

Yours truly,

J. CLANCY,
Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—Having reference to the letter of the Honourable Mr. Drury addressed to you, and dated the 11th December, 1919, and your reply thereto, dated the 13th December, 1919, I beg to say that I am directed by the Honourable the Attorney-General to inform you that this matter will be referred to the Treasury Board for a ruling under Clause C, of Subsection 1 of Section 14 of the Audit Act, Chapter 23, R.S.O. 1914.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL OFFICE.

Copy of a Minute of the Treasury Board, dated the 18th day of December, 1919.

A difference having arisen between the Provincial Auditor and the Department of Attorney-General as to the issue of certain cheques amounting to $1,285.12, for the payment of Election Accounts on the requisitions of the Auditor of Criminal Justice Accounts, dated 7th and 9th December, 1919, which requisitions were approved by the Deputy Attorney-General, the matter is referred to the Treasury Board, in accordance with the provisions of Clause "C," Subsection 1 of Section 14, of the Audit Act, cap. 23, R.S.O. 1914, for determination.

Upon consideration of the correspondence submitted, the objection of the Auditor, and the answer thereto of the Attorney-General, the Board is of opinion that the procedure as to the payment of Election Accounts is set out in clause 4 of Section 57 of the Ontario Election Act, 1918, and that said provision is in lieu of and overrides the provisions of the Audit Act, and that the Provincial Auditor's duty with regard to said accounts begins and ends with the countersigning of the cheques issued in payment thereof, and, under the circumstances, directs that the said accounts be paid and cheques therefor issued accordingly.

Certified,

Clerk, Treasury Board.

Re Crown Counsel Accounts

Dear Sir,—We are very anxious that these Crown Counsel Accounts should be paid and I understand they are being held in your office because the appropriation to which they should have been charged for last year was exhausted.

Under the Statute Law Amendment Act, 1914, section 7, accounts for services during the preceding fiscal year which remain unpaid at the end of period referred to in section 21 of The Audit Act shall be paid out of the appropriation for the ensuing fiscal year.

This provision seems plain and I shall be glad if you will follow it and issue cheques for the accounts as soon as possible. I remind you that under a similar set of circumstances some years ago the matter was referred to the Treasury Board who ruled as I have above indicated. See Provincial Auditor's Report, 1915-1916, page 12.

Yours very truly,

E. Bayly,
Deputy Attorney-General.

James Clancy, Esq.,
Provincial Auditor.

Audit Office.

Toronto, December 1st, 1919.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of your letter of the 27th inst. in which you seem to evince greater anxiety for payment of these accounts than would appear to have animated the Department during the period when they could have been properly paid within the fiscal year to which they belong.

The present case is merely adding one more to the long procession of similar cases recurring in the Department from time to time with a seeming complacent reliance upon Section 7 of the Statute Law Amendment Act, 1914, which you approvingly quote as affording a refuge for official delinquency, as is clearly exemplified in the following facts.

Experience does not fail to constantly confirm the belief that no proper books of account are kept in the Department showing expenditures made against appropriations.

A statement in accordance with the provisions of Section 24 (b) of the Audit Act was furnished the Department on the 15th day of October, 1919, showing the unexpended balances of Vote 16, Item 51, "Crown Counsel Prosecutions, estimates, 1919," as being $737.90 at the close of the preceding month of September—yet without having had the least regard to the provisions of Section 26 of the Audit Act, a requisition signed by the Deputy Attorney-General approving payments of accounts amounting to $4,339.60 chargeable to the aforesaid appropriation was made on the 3rd day of November, following the last day of the fiscal year.

Reverting to Section 7 of the Statute Law Amendment Act, 1914, which is couched in sweeping general terms, it is submitted that its meaning may be best understood by a careful consideration of the state of facts to which it is intended to apply—in other words to, if possible, ascertain the extent of the change made, if any, in the provisions of Section 21 of the Audit Act.

The constitutional rule that all grants of public money shall have the assent of the Crown before being made a charge upon the public revenue is so obviously settled as to render any presumption of its relaxation an impossible condition.

Having regard to this paramount condition, the operation of Section 7 of the Statute Law Amendment Act, 1914, would obviously appear to be restricted to the payment of such accounts of the preceding fiscal year as have specific appropriations taken for them in the usual way in the estimates for the ensuing fiscal year and could not extend to the payment of any accounts for which there is no direct legislative appropriation as required by Section 12 of the Audit Act.

It is submitted that any departure from this indispensable safeguard would be a complete surrender of legislative control over the expenditure of the public money to the mere will of an official in a Department, and would incidentally bring the Appropriation Act for defraying the several charges and expenses of the public service from the 1st day of November, 1919, to the 31st day of October, 1920, in direct conflict with the earlier act of 1914, with the attendant legal consequences of the later act prevailing.

In reply to the last paragraph of your letter I have to remind you that in the case to which you refer, the Auditor was abruptly prevented from presenting any case for the consideration of the Treasury Board—the Department having assumed that task for him.

Yours truly,

J. Clancy,

Auditor.

DEAR SIR,—I have your letter of the 1st instant and refrain from replying to the first six paragraphs as they, while interesting, are not relevant to the matter in question.

The rest of your letter clearly means that upon the application for these cheques you have reported that the expenditure is not authorized by law and I am requesting the Attorney-General, therefore, for an opinion, in pursuance of the Audit Act, Section 14 (1) (a) (a clause I may say which you appear constantly to overlook or misread) upon the ground that you have reported in your letter of the 1st of December that the expenditure (upon Crown Counsel Accounts) is not authorized by law, and if the Attorney General's opinion is favorable, I shall request the Treasurer to direct the issue of the cheques.

I have to submit that it must appear sufficient for all purposes to say that, whatever my letter of the 1st inst. includes or means, it is obviously certain that it does not mean, nor is it capable of being tortured into the purely calculated meaning which you have been pleased to place upon it in your letter of the 3rd inst.

DEPARTMENT OF ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

TORONTO, December 17th, 1919.

DEAR SIR,—I am informed by Mr. Fitch, of our office, that certain Crown Counsel Accounts, amounting to $6,217.60, which were forwarded for payment on the 3rd November, were returned on the 20th November, with the statement that there was not sufficient funds to pay these accounts in the appropriation for such purpose in the fiscal year of 1918-19.

These accounts were again submitted for payment out of the appropriation for the fiscal year 1919-20, under the amendment of subsection of section 21 of the Audit Act, made by Section 7 of the Statute Law Amendment Act, 1913, cap. 21, 4 George V. I am informed that the accounts were again returned with the statement that, as these accounts were for the fiscal year 1918-19, they could not be paid out of the appropriation for the fiscal year 1919-20; that the amendment made by section 7 of cap. 21, 4 George V, was of no effect, as it had been in effect repealed by the enactment of the different Supply Acts in each session, having reference particularly to the Supply Act passed last session, being cap. 1, 9 George V.

I am directed by the Honourable the Attorney-General to inform you that this matter will be referred to the Treasury Board for a ruling under Clause "C" of subsection 1 of section 14 of the Audit Act, cap. 23, R.S.O. 1914.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL OFFICE.

Copy of a Minute of the Treasury Board, dated the 18th day of December, 1919.

A difference having arisen between the Provincial Auditor and the Department of Attorney-General as to the issue of cheques, amounting to $6,217.60, for the payment of certain Crown Counsel Prosecutions Accounts on the requisitions of the Deputy Attorney-General, dated 3rd and 18th November, 1919, the matter is referred by the Department for the determination of the Treasury Board under the provisions of Clause "C," sub-section 1 of section 14 of the Audit Act, cap. 23, R.S.O. 1914.

Upon consideration of the correspondence submitted, the objection of the Auditor, and the answer of the Attorney-General thereto, as set out in his memorandum of 17th December, 1919, the Board is of opinion that the Auditor is in error in the stand taken by him, and directs that the said accounts be paid, and that cheques therefor be issued accordingly.

Certified,

J. LONSDALE CAPREOL,
Clerk, Treasury Board.

AUDIT OFFICE.

TORONTO, December 20th, 1919.

DEAR SIR,—I have to-day received a copy of a minute of the Treasury Board, dated the 18th day of December, 1919, the concluding paragraph of which reads as follows:

> "Upon consideration of the correspondence submitted, the objection of the Auditor, and the answer of the Attorney-General thereto, as set out in his memorandum of 17th December, 1919, the Board is of opinion that the Auditor is in error in the stand taken by him, and directs that the said accounts be paid, and that cheques therefor be issued accordingly."

It will be seen, upon a very cursory examination of the document referred to as the answer of the Attorney-General to the Auditor, dated the 17th day of December, 1919, that the so-called answer does not take exception to, nor does it even pretend to call in question any ground of objection set out in the letter of the Auditor of the 1st day of December, 1919, but, on the contrary, may well be taken as a complete acquiescence in respect thereto, when regard is had to the stern fact that the Department had failed or refused to comply with the statutory duty imposed upon it by sub-clause 4 of section 14, subsection 2 (c) of the Audit Act.

It will also be seen that as a necessary consequence of the course adopted by the Department, the Treasury Board has not made any finding in respect of any of the specific grounds of objection set out in the letter of the Auditor of the 1st day of December, 1919, but, instead, has limited its finding to the secondary matter of a direction to issue cheques for payment of certain specified accounts,. thereby leaving the paramount question of legislative authority for payment of such accounts without the least consideration.

This question, introduced as it has been by a single department of the public service under colour of section 7 of the Statute Law Amendment Act, 1914, it is submitted, is of such supreme importance as to demand a plain declaration of the state of the law in respect thereto.

Under the conditions stated herein, it is quite impossible that the Auditor could know how to proceed with the multitude of cases now standing, or with other cases ready to be pressed from all quarters, or, in fact, that he could take any action in the matter.

If it be the fact that under section 7 of the Statute Law Amendment Act, 1914, the Legislature has conferred power to tax the people of the Province without the consent of the Crown, with the exercise of such power resting upon no other or better foundation than the mere accident of contingent conditions.

And if it be the law that it is no longer necessary to provide in the estimates in the usual way for unpaid accounts, quite irrespective of the fiscal years to which they belong, nothing can be more certain than that the Treasury Board has not declared that such is the fact or the law.

Yours truly,

J. Clancy,

Toronto, December 22nd, 1919.

Dear Sir,—Referring to your letters of the 18th and 20th inst., I beg to enclose you a copy of the memorandum placed before the Treasury Board in this matter.

In clause 3 I think it has been fairly stated what your objections are. This is what was before the Treasury Board, and the Treasury Board, by their minute, have held that you are in error in these objections. Surely this is as clear a finding as could possibly be made.

Yours truly,

A. N. Middleton,
Solicitor, Attorney-General's Department.

Memorandum for Treasury Board.

1. The purpose for which the expenditure is required is for the payment of Crown Counsel Prosecutions.

2. The appropriation to which the expenditures are chargeable is Vote 16, Item 53, "Crown Counsel Prosecutions."

3. The objections taken by the Auditor are that these accounts belong to the fiscal year 1918-19 and cannot be paid out of the appropriation for the fiscal year 1919-20; that the Amendment to sub-section 1 of section 21 of the Audit Act, as made by section 7 of the Statute Law Amendment Act, 1914, cap. 21, 4 George V, which is as follows: "But any accounts for services during the preceding fiscal year which remain unpaid at the end of the period above mentioned, shall be paid out of the appropriation for the ensuing fiscal year," does not apply, as such amendment has been in effect repealed by the Supply Act, enacted in each year, having particular reference to the Supply Act passed last session, being cap. 1, 9 George V, 4. The answer to the objections taken by the Auditor is that the amendment made by section 7 of cap. 21, 4 George V, is clearly not repealed by the enactment of the different Supply Acts, but that the same is still in full force and effect, and that the accounts in question, though they belong to the fiscal year of 1918-19, should be paid out of the appropriations for the fiscal year 1919-20.

Toronto, December 17th, 1919.

Audit Office.

Toronto, December 23rd, 1919.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of your letter of the 22nd inst., enclosing a revised copy of your memorandum to the Treasury Board, dated the 17th day of December, 1919, which purports to be an answer to the objections taken by the Auditor in his letter of the 1st day of December, 1919.

The statement herein attributed to the Auditor, namely, "that the amendment to subsection 1 of section 21 of the Audit Act, as made by section 7 of the Statute Law Amendment Act, 1914, does not apply, as such amendment has been in effect repealed by the Supply Act enacted each year," is absolutely without foundation, and, it is submitted, an unprovoked distortion of the facts.

What I did say was, that "the operation of section 7 of the Statute Law Amendment Act, 1914, would obviously appear to be restricted to the payment of such accounts of the preceding fiscal year as have specific appropriations taken for them in the usual way in the estimates for the ensuing fiscal year, and could not extend to the payment of any accounts for which there is no direct legislative appropriation, as required by section 12 of the Audit Act."

There was no contention that section 7 of the Statute Law Amendment Act, 1914, was repealed, but that it was limited in its operation, nor has the Treasury Board made any finding in respect thereto.

Yours truly,

J. Clancy,
Auditor.

Dear Sir.—As you are aware, the payment of these accounts was before the Treasury Board, and a ruling was made on the 18th day of December, 1919, directing the issue of cheques in payment.

Cheques have now been prepared, and I would be glad if you would sign these cheques in accordance with the over-ruling.

Yours very truly,

Mr. James Clancy,

Audit Office.

Toronto, February 26th, 1920.

Dear Sir.—I am in receipt of your letter of the 24th inst., and note with much concern your request.

May I be permitted to point out that the fact would not appear to have been brought to your attention that the Treasury Board did not make any ruling determining the specific question raised by the Deputy Attorney-General in paragraphs 2 and 3 of his letter of the 27th of November, 1919, to which decided objection was taken, as more particularly set out in paragraphs 5, 6 and 7 of my letter of December 1st, 1919.

There would not appear to be room for doubt in the mind of anyone that the Treasury Board has power to determine as to the sufficiency of the objections taken by the Auditor in the present case, the exercise of which must, as it would obviously appear to be, for the sole purpose of affording the only authoritative means by which it may be possible for the Auditor to take any intelligible action in the matter.

The present case is but one of the many similar cases constantly occurring which have to be dealt with, and until it is determined by some rule governing alike all similar cases, the work of the Audit Office, as has been in the past, must continue to be seriously impeded. All of which is respectfully submitted.

Yours truly,

J. CLANCY,

Re Temporary Assistance, Attorney-General's Department

DEPARTMENT OF ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

TORONTO, June 18th, 1920.

DEAR SIR,—There has been a vacancy since the beginning of the fiscal year in my Department in the office of Legal Secretary, and also a vacancy in a stenographer's position.

In order that the work of the Department should be carried on I appointed temporarily Messrs. F. R. Brennan and A. S. Winchester to do legal work, and Miss Harriet Lobb as a stenographer. I find that the salaries of all these have been charged against the contingencies of the Department instead of against the appropriations for Legal Secretary and Stenographer, which latter appropriations are still, I am told, intact. In consequence of charging the salaries of Messrs. Brennan and Winchester and Miss Lobb against our contingencies the appropriation therefor has been exhausted.

I now call your attention to the above facts and to the Audit Act, section 13, which authorizes the use of the appropriation for salaries of Legal Secretary and also of Stenographer for the purpose of paying persons who are employed for doing work in the Department while these vacancies exist.

I shall be glad if you will have the necessary transfers made from our contingencies to the proper appropriations.

Please give this your immediate attention, as the appropriation for our contingencies has been exhausted owing to the salaries of the above-named persons having been charged against such appropriation, and the remuneration of Messrs. Brennan and Winchester and Miss Lobb for the last month are unpaid.

Yours very truly,

W. E. RANEY.

James Clancy, Esq.,
Provincial Auditor.

AUDIT OFFICE.

TORONTO, June 23rd, 1920.

DEAR SIR,—I am in receipt of your letter of the 18th inst. calling attention to a vacancy in the office of the Legal Secretary in your Department, and to the fact, as alleged, that in order that the work of the Department should be carried on, you have appointed temporarily Messrs. Brennan and Winchester to do legal work and Miss Lobb as stenographer.

These temporary clerks would appear to have been properly appointed, and their salaries have been paid pursuant to the provisions of Section 9 of the Public Service Act, and will, of course, perform such work as may be your pleasure to direct from time to time.

Having regard to the facts, as stated in your letter, it is respectfully submitted that under existing conditions Section 13 of the Audit Act would not appear to operate in any way as a factor in the case under consideration.

Yours truly,

J. CLANCY,
Auditor.

Hon. W. E. Raney, K.C.
Attorney-General.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT.

TORONTO, June 22nd, 1920.

DEAR SIR,—Requisitions have been sent to the Treasury Department and have, I understand, passed into your hands for the payment of three cheques, namely:

Mr. F. P. Brennan	$57 70
Mr. A. S. Winchester	57 70
Miss H. I. Lobb	34 00

I understand that you have refused payment of these cheques, stating that there are no funds for payment of same. The contention of this Department is, that under Section 13 of the Audit Act these expenditures should be charged as follows: The cheques of both Mr. Brennan and Mr. Winchester to vote 3, item 3, "Legal Secretary, $3,000," and that Miss Lobb's cheque should be charged to vote 3, item 9.

Both Mr. Brennan and Mr. Winchester are engaged, and their help is necessary owing to the fact that no person has been appointed to fill the position of Legal Secretary, which is vacant. Miss Lobb is engaged, and her work is necessary owing to the fact that Miss Doherty, the clerk and stenographer formerly employed in this Department has resigned, and no person has been engaged in her place. I understand that Mr. Bayly, the Deputy Attorney-General, has seen you with regard to these matters, and that you insist that Section 13 of the Audit Act does not apply in these cases.

I also understand that these expenditures have been charged up to our Contingency Account in the past, with the result that the Contingency vote has become exhausted. Had these amounts been charged to the items 3 and 9 of Vote 3, as contended by this Department, there would have been an ample amount provided for our contingencies.

I am directed by the Honourable the Attorney-General to inform you that this matter will be referred to the Treasury Board for ruling under Clause " C " of subsection 1 of section 14 of the Audit Act, chap. 23, R.S.O. 1914, and also section 25 of the Audit Act.

Yours truly,

Copy of a Minute of the Treasury Board, dated the 28th day of June, A.D. 1920.

A difference having arisen between the Provincial Auditor and the Department of the Attorney-General as to the issue of cheques amounting to $149.40, for the payment of certain accounts for temporary assistance on the requisition of the Attorney-General, dated 8th June, 1920, and respecting the appropriation to which the payment for temporary assistance in the Attorney-General's Department shall be charged, and the matter having been referred by the Department for the determination of the Treasury Board under the provisions of Clause (c), subsection 1 of section 14, and also section 25 of the Audit Act, chapter 23, R.S.O. 1914.

Upon consideration of the objection of the Auditor and the answer of the Attorney-General thereto, as set out in his memorandum of 22nd June, 1920, the Board finds that the Auditor is in error in the objection taken by him, and is of opinion that Section 13 of the Audit Act applies to the payment of the services in question, and directs that cheques for the accounts in question shall be forthwith issued and the amounts thereof charged to Vote 3, items 3 and 9, respectively, as requested by the Attorney-General's Department. The Board further directs that the amounts charged for similar services in the past, during the present fiscal year, shall be transferred from the Vote for Contingencies of the Attorney-General's Department to the said Vote 3, items 3 and 9, respectively.

MEMO FOR MR. CLANCY:

Re Treasury Voucher No. 12282.

Replying to Mr. Roberts' letter of the 21st inst., Dr. Loudon was appointed as a Coroner March 20th, 1915. The copy of the letter from the Deputy Attorney-General is in explanation to the remarks in the last paragraph of Mr. Roberts' letter.

E. A. MACLAURIN,

Auditor, Criminal Justice Accounts.

TORONTO, 24th April, 1920.

MEMORANDUM FOR E. A. MCLAURIN.

Re Treasury Voucher 12282.

The account of Dr. Loudon referred to in your memorandum of the 22nd of April, I enclose copy of Order in Council appointing Dr. Loudon a Coroner. When services of this kind are rendered on a direction of the Attorney-General, the person by whom they are rendered is entitled to be paid such sum as the Attorney-General may direct and in so directing he is, of course, not confined to the tariff prescribed by the Coroner's Act for other reasons and also because Section 17 of the Statute Law Amendment Act, 1916, which authorizes such payment is a later Statute than the Coroner's Act, R.S.O. 1914, Chap. 92. I refer you also to the Coroner's Act, Section 26 (2).

(Signed) E. BAYLY,

Deputy Attorney-General.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL OFFICE.

Copy of a Minute of the Treasury Board dated the 22nd day of July, A.D., 1920.

A difference having arisen between the Provincial Auditor and the Department of the Attorney-General as to the issue of a cheque amounting to $333.65 for the payment of a certain account due to Coroner Dr. Julian Loudon, on the requisition of the Deputy Attorney-General dated the 13th April, 1920, and the matter having been referred by the Department for the determination of the Treasury Board under the provisions of Clause "C," Subsection 1 of Section 14 of the Audit Act, Chap. 23, R.S.O., 1914.

Upon consideration of the correspondence submitted the objections of the Auditor and the answer of the Attorney-General thereto as set out in his memo. of the 17th July, 1920, the Board is of opinion that the contention of the Attorney-General's Department, that the fees of Coroner Loudon are not confined to the fees prescribed by the tariff, but that an additional amount may be allowed to such Coroner either under Subsection 2 of Section 26 of the Coroner's Act, Chap. 92, R.S.O., 1914, or under Section 14 of the Administration of Justice Expenses Act as enacted by Section 17 of Statute Law Amendment Act, Chap. 24, 6 Geo. V, and that such amount as certified cannot be called into question by the Provincial Auditor, even if he had the authority to audit the said account, and the Board is further of opinion that the Provincial Auditor has no authority to audit the account in question having in view Subsection 2 of Section 43 of the Administration of Justice Expenses Act as enacted by Section 5 of Chap. 29, 7 Geo. V, and the Board doth direct that the said account be paid and that a cheque therefor be issued forthwith accordingly.

Also to say that it was not contended that the constable is entitled to anything more than is allowed by the tariff. On the contrary, the question raised was as to you allowing him more.

Copy of a Minute of the Treasury Board, dated 6th day of July, A.D. 1920.

A difference having arisen between the Provincial Auditor and the Department of the Attorney-General as to the issue of cheques amounting to $506.37 for the payment of certain accounts for the Administration of Justice on the requisition of the Auditor of Criminal Justice Accounts and certificate of the Deputy Attorney-General, and the matter having been referred by the Department for the determination of the Treasury Board, under the provisions of Clause "C" subsection 1 of section 14 of the Audit Act, Chap. 23, R.S.O., 1914.

Upon consideration of the correspondence submitted, the objections of the auditor and the answer of the Attorney-General thereto as set out in his memorandum of the 25th June, 1920, the Board finds that the auditor is in error in the objections as taken by him and rules that the contention of the Attorney-General's Department, that the approval of the Attorney-General even though given after the services for which the accounts are rendered is a sufficient approval under section 14 of the Administration of Justice Expense Act as amended by section 17 of chap. 24, 6 George V, and directs that cheques for the accounts in question shall be forthwith issued.

I desire to call your attention to the provisions of section 14, subsection 1 (c) of the Audit Act, which has been completely ignored instead of appearing on the files in order to make the minute of the Treasury Board intelligible.

I should be glad if you would kindly state what is the subject matter or thing, determined or intended to be determined by the Treasury Minute in question.

Re payment of accounts under section 14 of The Administration of Justice Expenses Act, as amended by section 17, chap. 24, 6 Geo. V.

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of yours of 20th inst., which I received this morning. In answer would say that the provisions of clause (c) of subsection 1 of section 14 of the Audit Act were followed to the letter by this Department, and

I therefore cannot understand what you mean by saying that the provisions had "been completely ignored." The accounts which were in question were fully set out in my letter to you of the 25th June, which you no doubt have received. These accounts were also fully set out in the Honourable the Attorney-General's letter to the Treasury Board of the same date. The material used before the Treasury Board is on file with the Clerk of the Executive Council and can be seen at any time by yourself or any member of your staff. As a matter of convenience to yourself and purely as a matter of courtesy I am having a copy made of the Attorney-General's letter to the Treasury Board, and also his memo for the Treasury Board, which I now enclose. I presume this is what you desire, but would point out that nowhere is it provided either in clause (c) of subsection 1 of section 14 of the Audit Act or elsewhere, that copies of these should be sent to the Provincial Auditor.

I would ask that you be good enough to expedite the issue of the cheques, as some of them have been standing for a considerable time.

I understand that you have refused payment of these cheques upon the ground that the direction or approval of the Attorney-General was not given until after the services were performed, although it is contended by this Department that it makes no difference when the approval of the Attorney-General is given. I am directed by the Honourable the Attorney-General to inform you that this matter will be referred to the Treasury Board for a ruling, under clause (c) of subsection 1 of section 14 of the Audit Act, chap. 23, R.S.O., 1914.

Re Account of Mr. W. B. Wilkinson

DEPARTMENT OF ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

TORONTO, July 17th, 1920.

DEAR MR. CLANCY,—With reference to Mr. Wilkinson's account for $28.40, I understand that your Department refused to pass this account for payment on the ground that Mr. Wilkinson was not absent four complete days, but came home each evening from Hamilton to Toronto, and that he is, therefore, only entitled to a proportion of the $4.00 allowance provided for in Order in Council dated 10th September, 1918, which fixes the allowance for travelling expenses for the Attorney-General's Department, including the Law Clerk. I am directed by the Honourable the Attorney-General to inform you that this matter will be referred to the Treasury Board for ruling under Clause "C" of subsection 1 of section 14 of the Audit Act, chap. 23, R.S.O. 1914.

Yours truly,

AUDIT OFFICE.

TORONTO, July 22nd, 1920.

DEAR SIR,—I am in receipt of your letter of the 17th inst. and beg to say that you are quite in error in concluding that the Audit Office has taken objection to the payment of Mr. Wilkinson's account on the ground you allege, or, in fact, upon any other ground, obviously because the Audit Office could do no more and did no more than seek information in respect to important facts which were not disclosed in the application for payment of the account.

Mr. Wilkinson's recent memo., written across the face of his account, would seem to throw some light on the matter, and, when read together, would seem to indicate that Mr. Wilkinson is now endeavouring to secure payment for living allowance in excess of that allowed him by Order in Council.

The basis upon which Mr. Wilkinson has rendered his account for payment would appear to show that he has made claim for payment for a day of twenty-four hours, quite irrespective of the fact as to the length of time he was subjected to and exposed to bear the cost of his maintenance by reason of being absent from his home. In other words, he claims full days' maintenance on all occasions.

Kindly state the facts in the case.

Yours truly,

J. CLANCY,
Auditor.

A. N. Middleton, Esq.,
Secretary, Attorney-General's Department.

DEPARTMENT OF ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

TORONTO, July 26th, 1920.

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of yours of 22nd, and, in reply, would say that Mr. Wilkinson's account was, in the first instance, returned by your Department with a short memo. asking for particulars as to the length of time he had been engaged. Upon receipt of this request I had the account sent to Mr. Wilkinson, who endorsed upon the account the time of leaving and returning each day. The account was then returned to your Department and was definitely refused payment, the statement being made that the full amount of the account could not be paid and that only a proportionate part of the daily allowance could be made for each of the days that Mr. Wilkinson was away. Upon receiving this report I instituted the Treasury Board proceedings. The difficulty appears to be an absolute inability to obtain from your Department a definite statement of your objections in writing.

I may add that I personally took the question of payment of this account up with both Mr. Brown and Mr. Jennings of your Department, and it was stated to me that your ruling had been that, where an officer of this Department had been away for only a part of a day that he was only entitled to the proportionate part of the $4.00 allowance governed by the number of hours he had been away.

However, as a Treasury Board minute has now been issued ruling that the position I have taken is correct, there is no further use in discussing the matter.

Yours truly,

A. N. MIDDLETON,
Solicitor, Attorney-General's Department.

Copy of a Minute of the Treasury Board dated the 22nd day of July, A.D. 1920.

A difference having arisen between the Provincial Auditor and the Attorney-General's Department as to the issue of certain cheque amounting to $28.40 for the payment of certain criminal justice expenses on the requisition of the Deputy Attorney-General, dated 13th April, 1920, and the matter having been referred by the Department for the determination of the Treasury Board under the provisions of Clause "C," Subsection 1 of Section 14 of the Audit Act, Chap. 23, R.S.O. 1914,

Upon consideration of the correspondence submitted the objections of the Auditor and the answer of the Attorney-General thereto as set out in his memo. of 17th July, 1920, the Board is of opinion that the per diem allowance of $4.00 a day for travelling expenses fixed by the Order in Council of the 10th September, 1918, is to be paid for each day or a portion of a day on which the officers mentioned in the said order are engaged on duty away from Toronto, that the contention of the Auditor that the said amount should be divided into proportionate parts of the day is wrong and that the account be paid and directs that a cheque therefor be issued forthwith accordingly.

Certified,

C. F. BULMER,

Clerk, Treasury Board.

REPORT FOR 1921

OF

The Workmen's Compensation Board

ONTARIO

To His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor:

The Workmen's Compensation Board begs to submit its Report for the year 1921, being the seventh year of the operation of the Act.

GENERAL REVIEW

The total benefits awarded during the year 1921 amounted to $6,189,263.49, as against a total of $7,780,145.25 during 1920, and $4,192,859.93 during 1919.

The large total for 1920 was partly by reason of the increase in death pensions for accidents in previous years made by the amendments passed that year. This increase amounted to $2,289,249.55.

The total number of accidents reported during the year 1921 was 45,191, as against 54,851 in 1920, and 44,260 in 1919. The fatal accidents numbered 386, as against 452 in 1920, and 429 in 1919.

The benefits awarded during the year averaged $20,631 per day; the cheques issued averaged 485 per day, and the reports of accidents received averaged 151 per day.

Seven Years' Operation

During the seven years' operation of the present Act, 271,807 claims were dealt with, and $27,947,653.45 was awarded in compensation and medical aid benefits.

The beneficiaries include workmen crippled or injured in the industries covered by the Act, and widows, children, and parents of workmen who have been killed. More than 100,000 people (including workmen's families) are every year in some measure dependent upon these benefits for their support.

The wage roll of all workmen covered by the Act during the seven years totalled about 2¾ billion dollars. The average cost rate to employers of the benefits provided was about $1.12 per $100 of pay roll.

The Ontario Law

When a workman is killed or injured in his employment it is now generally recognized that, as a matter of justice as well as a matter of humanity, some recompense should be made for the loss. The Ontario Act is the most liberal among those of the provinces in the benefits provided.

When the Act was first passed in 1914 the compensation provided for workmen was 55 per cent. of the loss of earning capacity, and for dependants a pension of $20 a month to the widow, with $5 a month for each child under 16, or where there was no widow $10 a month for each child, but not in any case to exceed $40 a month or 55 per cent. of the workman's earnings. In 1919 the widows' and children's allowances were increased to $30 and $7.50 respectively, and the maximum to $60. In 1920 the workman's allowance was increased to 66⅔ per cent. of his loss of earning capacity and the widow's allowance was increased to $40 a month, with $10 a month for each child under 16, or, where there was no widow, $15 for each child, but not exceeding 66⅔ per cent. of the workman's earnings, the increase in death pensions applying to prior as well as subsequent cases. There was no provision for medical aid when the Act was first passed but in 1917 one month's medical aid was provided for, and in 1919 further amendment was made to cover all medical aid necessary as a result of the accident.

The original Act was framed by the present Chief Justice of the Province with the assistance of representatives of workmen and employers. It was the parent Act in Canada, similar Acts having since been adopted in five of the other provinces.

Its distinguishing features are collective liability of the employers in each class of industry, and simplicity and inexpensiveness of procedure. It differs from the old law which it superseded by covering all accidents arising out of and in the course of the employment instead of merely those which were caused by the negligence or breach of duty of the employer, and in substituting informal administration by a Board for the technicality and stringency of court procedure. It differs from the compensation laws of most of the United States in making the employers in the various classes of industry collectively, and not individually, liable for payment of the benefits, though certain employers, such as railway and navigation companies, municipalities, etc., included in what is known as Schedule 2, are upon the individual liability basis.

Collective Liability

The Board feels there is no doubt as to the general superiority of the collective liability system. Individual liability, uninsured, would often ruin the employer and leave the crippled workman or his dependants without compensation. Individual liability, insured with private companies, is very much more expensive than collective liability administered as are the Ontario and other Provincial Acts. This is plain from a comparison of our rates with those of neighboring States. The reason is very pointedly shown in the last report of the Manitoba Board, where the system was changed a year ago from individual liability with private insurance to collective liability. This report points out that under the former law 36 cents out of every dollar collected from the employer was allowed the insurance companies for expenses and profits. This was the percentage agreed upon between the companies and the Board, after investigation, as being the proper and necessary allowance which the insurance companies should receive. In Ontario only two cents out of every dollar paid by the employer is absorbed in administration expenses. In other words, a dollar had to be collected in Manitoba to pay 64 cents in benefits, while in Ontario one dollar paid 98 cents in benefits. This means that if the system formerly prevailing in Manitoba were adopted Ontario employers would be paying $1.53 for every dollar of their present rate of assessment, or 53 per cent. more than they are now being charged. From 40 to 60 per cent. is in fact the percentage which it is usually admitted is added to the accident cost for the expenses and profits of private insurance.

Merit Rating

An objection sometimes raised to the collective liability system is the possible lessening of incentive to accident prevention where the careless employer pays the same rate of assessment as the employer who takes precautions to avoid accidents. This objection has been met by a system of merit rating which has been in effect since 1917, under which as now applied a maximum difference of 55 per cent. of assessment is made between the employer with a good accident experience and the one with a bad experience, refunds up to 30 per cent. being made to the former and additional charges up to 25 per cent. levied upon the latter. Under this system $311,874.16 was refunded and $184,844.47 collected from employers for the year 1920.

There is also a provision in the Act under which any employer who is flagrantly careless can be called upon to pay a special assessment, and this has been applied in a number of cases where such action was found to be warranted.

Special Conditions

As will be seen from the accident figures, there has been a falling off during the last year or more in the number of accidents, indicating unfortunately a lessening of industrial activity and consequent unemployment, though signs of returning prosperity seem to be now again appearing.

These conditions have brought their problems and difficulties in the administration of the Act. Charges and complaints by employers of malingering and of claimants being improperly kept upon compensation by doctors were never before so frequent, and upon the other hand claims and applications for more compensation than is felt to be justified were never so insistent, the good offices of persons supposed to have influence being frequently called into requisition. It is sometimes forgotten that while it is intended that the Board should be very informal and non-technical in its procedure it is nevertheless a judicial body and must be guided solely by the real merits and justice of the cases which come before it. Neither influence or favoritism, nor pressure or threats, can be permitted to affect its decisions, any more than any of these things should be allowed to prevail with a court, or a jury or arbitrator. Nor are they any more justifiable. It would be easier to grant requests which are not felt to be justified than to refuse them, but such a course would be a gross violation of duty and would soon bring discredit and disaster upon the operation of the Act.

Every care is used to avoid malingering, and as has often before been stated the Board does not believe that malingering prevails to any serious extent. The accident frequency and the average time loss have varied but little since the Act first came into operation.

Contents of Report

In Chapter I of the Report will be found the particulars regarding Schedule 1 industries for 1921, including in Table 1 a provisional statement of the income and expenditure for each class of industry.

Chapter II shows the awards and the receipts and expenditures during the year for the industries in Schedule 2, which are on the individual liability basis.

Chapter III deals specially with the accidents handled and compensation awarded in both schedules during the year, showing comparison with previous years, and gives particulars of administration expenses, and the names, positions, and salaries of the Board's staff.

Chapter IV shows the condition of the various funds held by the Board, and gives details of investments. The investments, as pointed out, are for the purpose of meeting payments of compensation under awards made for accidents which have already happened. The only reserve, properly so-called, which is provided, is what is called the Disaster Reserve, being a small fund of one per cent. of the assessments set aside to meet any special contingency that might cause too heavy a burden upon any class of industry. Three calls have already been made upon this fund and the balance now on hand is $218,615.62.

Chapter V gives the completed financial statement for Schedule 1 for 1920 (being the last year for which complete figures are ascertained), both by class and group of industry, and contains much exceedingly interesting information regarding accidents and their cause and cost, and also concerning workmen, including rates of wages, age, marital condition, nationality, etc.

Chapter VI contains a special article by the Board's Statistician, giving the results of a study of the condition of widows and others receiving death pensions under the Act. Last year's report contained a study of the conditions of workmen receiving disability pensions under the Act. It is believed the information will be found to be very interesting and instructive.

In Appendix A is a paper by the Chairman of the Board, "Ontario's Accident Prevention Problem," dealing with the nature, causes, cost, and prevention of accidents, and in Appendix B are some comments on the working of the Act.

CHAPTER I

SCHEDULE 1 INDUSTRIES FOR 1921

Table 1 is a provisional statement of income and expenditure for Schedule 1 industries for 1921. Details of income received and estimated to be received and of expenditures made and estimated to be made are given for each class. The estimates are necessary by reason of the fact that at the close of the year all claims are not yet finally disposed of nor are all assessment matters for the year fully dealt with. Full and final figures for the year 1921 will appear in the next subsequent report in the same manner as Table 15 of this Report contains the final financial figures for 1920, which appeared provisionally as Table 1 in the Report for 1920.

A statement for Schedule 2 industries is given in Chapter II.

The total income, actual and estimated, for all classes of Schedule 1 for the year 1921 was $4,693,444.18; the total expenditure, actual and estimated, for all purposes and including the amounts set aside for pensions, disaster reserve, and compensation deferred, and the amounts paid for administration expenses and safety associations, was $4,678,549.91, leaving a net provisional balance for the year of $14,894.27. This added to the balance of $929,043.74 at the end of 1920 makes a net provisional balance at the end of 1921 of $943,938.01.

The provisional balance is in the nature of a working fund to provide for payments of compensation, etc., during the period between the end of the year and the time when the first payment of the current year's assessments falls due, a matter of three months or more.

The provisional balance at the end of 1921 is $943,938.01, as compared with a provisional balance of $818,818.36 and an actual balance of $929,043.74 at the end of 1920.

Assessments

Table 2 shows the number of firms in Schedule 1 at the end of 1921, there being 17,917. The number in each group and class is given. The assessments, actual and estimated, represent a total pay roll of $337,005,458.47, the provisional rate of assessment being $1.35 for each $100 of pay roll.

The assessments in Schedule 1 industries for 1921 were:

Collected on Estimated Pay Rolls	$4,488,725.02
Estimated Adjustment	45,832.05
Total	$4,534,557.07

Other Income

The other income for the year included interest on current funds, payments under Sections 9, 93a, and 99 (3), making a total of $158,887.11.

The balance forward from 1920 is made up as follows:

	—669,551.96
Balance Forward from 1920	$929,043.74

Compensation

The compensation for all accidents occurring in 1921, including estimates for outstanding compensation, is as follows:

Compensation paid other than pensions	$1,407,164.14

Compensation—payments deferred	24,200.00
Compensation estimated for continuing disabilities	710,596.77
Compensation estimated for outstanding accidents	633,515.46
Total Compensation for the year	$3,803,559.14

Medical Aid

Payments made and estimated to be made for medical aid amounted to $684,840.43, of which $468,344.81 was paid and $216,495.62 is estimated to be paid.

CHAPTER II

SCHEDULE 2 INDUSTRIES DURING 1921

Table 3 contains particulars of Schedule 2 matters during 1921. Therein is set out the total amount of compensation awarded and particulars of the funds handled. Cases referred by the Crown, Dominion and Provincial, to the Board for adjustment are included.

The compensation awarded during the year in Schedule 2 industries amounted to $1,668,452.10, of which $984,664.90 was for pension awards and $683,787.20 for awards not pensions. Included in these amounts is $324,803.24, made up of $105,669.86 awards other than pension awards and $219,133.38 pension awards, in Crown cases.

In pension cases, except in the case of municipal or Government bodies, or departments thereof, not so desiring, deposits must be made by the employers. Particulars of these are given under "Deposits for Pensions." Under "Claimants' Monies" are included monies held by the Board under awards in which in the interest of the claimant, or for other reason, payment of the amounts held is deferred to a later date, as in the case of minors. "Deposits for Temporary Payments" are amounts deposited with the Board under Section 31a to enable the Board to make prompt current payments to workmen for accidents without waiting for receipt of cheque from employer.

Employers in Schedule 2 are assessed a proportionate share of the expense of administration, other than the amount provided by the Province and by the Dominion Crown as provided in Table 9. For 1921 that share amounted to $22,469.45, as compared with $20,363.16 in 1920, and $11,063.91 in 1919. Proportionate to the amount of compensation awarded, expenses in Schedule 2 and Crown cases were 1.79 per cent. in 1921, as compared with 1.31 per cent. in 1920, and 1.19 per cent. in 1919.

The net rate of interest during 1921 earned by and credited to Schedule 2 funds was 5.67 per cent. per annum, as compared with 5.33 per cent. per annum in 1920, and 5.05 per cent. per annum in 1919.

CHAPTER III

WORK HANDLED DURING 1921

Tables 4 to 10 give particulars regarding the work handled during the year 1921 without regard to the year to which they relate, and also give other information in respect to the administration of the Act during the year.

Compensation Awarded During the Year

The total amount of compensation awarded during 1921 was $5,526,469.60, of which amount $3,858,017.50 was in Schedule 1 industries, $1,343,648.86 in Schedule 2 industries, and $324,803.24 in Crown industries.

The amount of compensation awarded each year and the total amount awarded since the inception of the Act, January 1, 1915, is shown following:

Total	$2,205,658 50

*Half-year only.

Accidents Reported During the Year

During 1921 reports were received of 45,191 accidents. These included some accidents not serious enough to involve payment of either compensation or medical aid and for which no claim was made. At the close of the year there were 902 claims in assembly, 710 in Schedule 1 and 192 Schedule 2 or Crown cases, notice of the accident but not the necessary forms to complete claim record having been received. In 533 compensation cases, 420 in Schedule 1 and 113 Schedule 2 and Crown cases, the claims were proceeding to payment or were in process of adjustment.

The number of accidents reported each year since the commencement of the Act and the total for the seven years is shown below:

Years	Schedule 1	Schedule 2	Crown	Total

Accidents Compensated During the Year

The number of accidents in which compensation or medical aid was paid during the year is shown in Table 4. The total number was 40,266, of which 34,271 were in Schedule 1, 5,161 in Schedule 2, and 834 were Crown cases. Of the 40,266 cases 343 were awards for death cases, 27 were awards for permanent total disability, in 2,224 there was payment for permanent partial disability, in 25,235 temporary disability was paid for, and in 12,437 medical aid only was paid.

Of the total 40,266 accidents in which some compensation was paid during the year, 5,749 occurred in 1920 and 34,517 in 1921.

The number of accidents in which compensation or medical aid was awarded each year since the inception of the Act is as follows:

Year	Schedule 1	Schedule 2	Crown	Totals
1921.....	34,271	5,161	834	40,266

Claims Reopened

In addition to Schedule 1 claims compensated as shown in Table 4, the Board in 1921 reopened 90 claims for further action. Of these 1 was a case in which final award for permanent disability had been made but in which death subsequently ensued, 12 were cases of foreign-born pensioners returning to their native land, commutation being made of their pension, and 77 cases of other awards previously made being changed in form or amount.

Assessments Issued and Refunds Made

During the year 1921 there were 21,531 assessments issued and 2,146 refunds made. Of these, 933 were assessments and 1,409 refunds of assessments made on account of merit rating.

Wage Expenditure in Schedule 1

An estimate of the total pay roll for each class in Schedule 1 is shown in Table 5.

The total wage expenditure for the various years is as follows:

Year.	Wage Expenditure.
1915 (final figures)	$147,602,561.67
1916 (final figures)	220,839,658.19
1917 (final figures)	286,902,695.73
1918 (final figures)	310,450,067.17
1919 (final figures)	325,225,970.37
1920 (final figures)	464,589,210.57
1921 (provisional figures)	337,005,458.47
Total in Schedule 1	$2,092,615,622.17

The Board has no similar data for Schedule 2 or Crown industries as, compensation and medical aid forming an individual liability, pay rolls are not required to be filed: the pay roll is probably one-third that of Schedule 1.

Average Rates of Assessment

The total wage expenditure in Schedule 1 industries for 1920 was $464,589,210.57 and the net income $5,714,447.29. The average charge for each $100 of pay roll was, therefore, $1.23, as compared with $1.22 for 1919, $1.09 for 1918, 99 cents for 1917, $1.09 for 1916, and $1.27 for 1915. The estimated average rate of assessment for 1921, based on provisional figures, is $1.34, as compared with $1.25 for 1920.

Receipts and Payments and Balance

Table 6 sets out the receipts and payments during 1921. The cash in bank, December 31, 1921, totalled $84,348.09, of which amount $2,171.19 was on account of Schedule 2, $2,322.82 on account of Schedule 1 Pension Fund, and $79,854.08 on account of Schedule 1 Current Fund.

Table 7 is the balance sheet as at December 31, 1921. Assets totalled $14,270,841.53, and liabilities $13,326,903.52. The balance to the credit of the classes in Schedule 1 at the end of the year was $943,938.01.

To Table 7 is appended the Auditor's Certificate.

Payments to Safety Associations

Table 8 gives the payments to the Safety or Accident Prevention Associations established under authority of the Act, and includes the names of the Associations, the names and salaries of the inspectors and the amounts paid for salaries and travelling expenses and granted for other expenses during 1921.

Administration Expenses

The amount of administration expenses analyzed by expenditure appears in Table 9. Details of all disbursements of administration expenses appear from year to year in the Public Accounts of the Province. The total amount of administration expenses paid by the Board during 1921 was $226,660.63, as compared with $207,051.77 in 1920. Of this amount $5,721.91 was charged to the Dominion of Canada and $1,661.41 to the Province of Ontario. The Province, under Section 68 of the Act, contributed $98,338.59 (being $100,000 less its share of administration expenses, $1,661.41) to the expenses of administration as well as paying the salaries of the members of the Board. Of the balance of $122,600.13, $22,469.45 was charged to Schedule 2 employers and $98,469.27 to Schedule 1 employers.

The cost of administration borne by Schedule 1 employers in 1921 was 2.18 per cent. of the compensation and medical aid awarded during the year, or 1.78 per cent. of the net assessments received during the year, which figures are directly comparable to 1.41 per cent. and 1.55 per cent., respectively, for the year 1920.

The names, positions, and salaries of the staff of the Board are given in Table 10.

CHAPTER IV

CONDITION OF FUNDS

The condition of the various funds necessary to the administration of the Act is shown in Tables 11, 12, and 13. Table 14 contains particulars of investments as of date December 31, 1921.

Pension Fund

The purpose of the Pension Fund is to take care of future payments of pensions which have already been awarded. Actuarial tables, embodying the contingencies of death and re-marriage, have been constructed in such manner as to show for each age and kind of pension the average amount necessary to be set aside to pay a pension. When a pension is awarded this average amount is transferred from current funds to the Pension Fund, regard being had to the year and class in which the accident occurred. Since the amount transferred in any one instance is the average amount required, any residue at expiry of pension payments remains in the Pension Fund. All capitalized value tables are on five per cent. interest (compounded half-yearly) basis.

Table 11 contains particulars of the Pension Fund for each class. The balance shown at the beginning of 1921 was $7,105,300.01. During 1921 $1,767,795.91 was added in capitalized values and $383,557.53 in interest. Pension payments during the year amounted to $636,107.17. The balance in the Pension Fund at December 31, 1921, was, therefore, $8,620,546.28.

The following are the awards and payments of pensions each year, beginning 1915, and the total amount to December 31, 1921:

Year	Pension Awards	Pension Payments
1915	$349,939 33	$16,650 84
1916	730,991 06	61,121 49
1917	1,020,305 15	148,943 80
1918	1,264,250 54	226,128 20
1919	1,315,551 56	314,964 93
1920	2,966,589 72	474,093 93
1921	1,767,795 91	636,107 17
Totals	$9,415,423 27	$1,878,010 36

Disaster Reserve

Particulars of the Disaster Reserve are contained in Table 12. This is a reserve established under the authority of Section 88 (2) of the Act, and is intended to be used in case of disaster or other special circumstance, which in the opinion of the Board, would unfairly burden the employers of any one class.

The amounts comprised in this reserve, namely, one per cent. of the gross assessments, and interest earned thereon, are the only monies set aside by the Board which do not directly cover liabilities incurred by reason of accidents which have happened already.

At the end of 1921 the amount of Disaster Reserve was $218,615.62. To the balance forward from 1920 of $151,639.30 was added in reserve $57,945.71 and in interest $9,030.61.

Compensation Deferred

Table 13 is made up of the amount of compensation awarded but where payments are deferred, except pensions. During the year 1921 $46,195.00 in awards and $8,476.63 in interest was added to the $168,517.20 accruing December 31, 1920, and $50,686.44, being $45,687.68 in principal and $4,998.76 in interest, was paid out, leaving a balance at the end of 1921 of $172,502.49.

Investments

Particulars of the Board's investments are listed in Table 14. Kind of investment, particular security, yield of interest, term, par value, and cost value are shown. With the exception of short date deposits of current funds, intended for use before the current year's assessments are received, all investments consist of municipal or municipally guaranteed debentures and Dominion of Canada War Loans. The average rate of interest received on permanent investments during 1921 was approximately 5.57 per cent. Three per cent. is received on current bank balances.

CHAPTER V

SCHEDULE 1 INDUSTRIES FOR 1920

The final financial statement for 1920 is shown in Table 15. Tables 16 to 27 contain the accident statistics for Schedule 1 industries in 1920. All accidents which occurred in these industries during 1920 are included, irrespective of the year in which they were reported or compensated.

Final Financial Figures, 1920

Table 15 gives the final financial figures for 1920, and thus shows the actual results for the year which were provisionally stated in Table 1 of the Report for 1920. The net income for the year was $5,714,447.29 and the net expenditure $5,226,715.33. The balance for the year was $487,731.96 which, added to the balance forward from 1919, $441,311.78, produced a balance as at the end of 1920, of $929,043.74, as compared with a provisional balance of $818,818.36.

Following are the final financial figures for each year of operation of the Act, and the total to the end of 1920:

Year.	Income.	Expenditure.
1915	$1,868,983.21	$1,211,967.33
1916	2,413,879.16	2,019,179.33
1917	2,832,208.25	2,851,556.51
1918	3,392,573.62	3,333,425.59
1919	3,959,930.32	4,610,134.02
1920	5,714,447.29	5,226,715.33
Totals	$20,182,021.85	$19,252,978.11

Per Centum of Pay Roll Charged Employers

In order to determine the average rate charged employers income must be proportioned to pay roll. The resultant ratio will express the charge, which ratio includes any balance standing at the end of the particular year dealt with. The ratios for the various years since the inception of the Act, and the average rate over those years, are as follows:

Year	Total Pay Roll	Income	Per Centum Charged
1915	$147,602,561.67	$1,868,983.21	.0127
1916	220,839,658.19	2,413,879.16	.0109
1917	286,902,695.73	2,832,208.25	.0099
1918	310,450,067.17	3,392,573.62	.0109
1919	310,450,067.17	3,392,573.62	.0109
1920	464,589,210.57	5,714,447.29	.0123
All years	$1,755,610,163.70	$20,182,021.85	.0115

Deducting the balance forward at the end of 1920 of $929,043.74, the average cost rate over the six years of operation was $1.10 for each $100 of pay roll.

Merit Rating Figures, 1920

Table 15 also shows the merit rating figures for 1920. There was $184,844.47 assessed and $311,357.14 refunded prior to January 1, 1922, and $517.02 refunded subsequent to that date. The total merit rating refunds for 1920 were, therefore, $311,874.16, and the total assessments $184,844.47, or an excess of refunds over assessments of $127,029.69.

Complete merit rating figures since inception are:

Year	Assessments	Refunds
1917	$99,322 38	$154,278 39
1918	139,887 41	253,286 92

Final Accident Figures, 1920

Table 16 shows the number of accidents in Schedule 1. by class and category of disability, which occurring in 1920 have necessitated payment of compensation or medical aid. Complete figures of accidents for each year, beginning 1915. are as follows:

Accident Frequencies

A basis of comparison of the frequency of accidents is to be found in correlating the number of accidents with the total number of full year workers. Eliminating accidents in which medical aid only was paid, the rates for each 100 full year workers for the different years are:

Year	Temporary Disability	Permanent Disability	Death	Totals
1915	3.63	.58	.12	4.32
1916	4.99	.79	.10	5.88
1917	5.78	.72	.07	6.57
1918	5.81	.66	.07	6.54
1919	5.81	.68	.07	6.56
1920	6.23	.67	.07	6.97

On the same basis of calculation the freqnency of medical aid only cases has been; 1918, 3.66; 1919, 3.70; and 1920, 4.26.

Statistical Distributions

Tables 17 to 27 follow the form of similar tables in previous reports and contain tabulations of the main statistical details of Schedule 1 accidents in 1920. Limitations of space preclude more extensive tabulations but original material by classes has been retained so that the full results accruing from the Board's statistical work may be utilized to the greatest possible degree.

Month of Occurrence

The month of occurrence of all accidents is shown in Table 17. The month in 1920 in which the greatest number of accidents occurred was July with 3,868, as compared with October with 3,356 in 1919. The low month for 1920 was February with 2,793, compared with 2,118 in April of 1919. In February, 1920, however, more deaths occurred than in any other month of the year, there being 28; in December, 1920, there were 9 fatalities, the lowest monthly number. In 1919 the high month was June and the low month March.

Accidents According to Locality

Table 18 shows the average age and wage of the injured workers and the total Province. The six high counties in 1920, in order, were York, Wentworth, Temiskaming, Essex, Welland, and Algoma, while in 1919 the six high counties were York, Wentworth, Temiskaming, Welland, Essex, and Algoma. In 1920 there were 33 deaths in York County and 27 in the District of Temiskaming, as compared with 37 in York County and 33 in the District of Algoma in 1919, these counties showing the highest numbers for the respective years. There were 32 accidents outside of the Province in 1920, as compared with 24 in 1919.

Time Loss, Age and Wage

Table 19 shows the average age and wage of the injured workers and the total and average time losses for each class and for each category of disability. The average age for 1920 was 33.91 years, as compared with 34.47 years in 1919. Average wages for 1920 were $25.57 weekly, as compared with $22.26 weekly for 1919. The total time loss, exclusive of cases in which medical aid only was paid and not including loss of man power by death or permanent disability, was 630,856 days, or an average of 24.81 days, as compared with a total time loss of 511,674 days, and an average time loss of 24.54 days in 1919, for all compensable cases. The average time loss for accidents causing temporary disability decreased from 19.66 days to 19.62 days, while for accidents causing permanent disabilities the increase was from 67.68 days in 1919 to 74.53 days in 1920.

Following are particulars of the number of compensable accidents to minors and to persons of advanced ages:

Compensation and Medical Aid Costs

The total and average cost of compensation and medical aid by classes for each category of disability according to the nature of the benefit is contained in Table 20.

The total cost of all accidents was $5,041,947.30, of which $4,295,660.43 was for compensation and $746,286.87 for medical aid. There were 40,997 cases, of which 15,565 were medical aid only cases, costing $77,749.15 in medical aid. The average cost for each compensation case was, therefore, $168.91 in compensation and $26.28 in medical aid, as compared with $144.14 and $19.85, respectively, in 1919.

For medical aid only cases $77,749.15, or an average of $5.00 for each case, was expended. In 1919 the average cost was $4.23.

There was spent for temporary disabilities $1,617,231.73, of which $1,184,660.92 was for compensation and $432,570.81 for medical aid. The average costs were $52.08 for compensation and $19.02 in medical aid, or a total of $71.10 for each case, as compared with $55.01, of which $39.48 was for compensation and $15.53 for medical aid, in 1919.

Permanent disabilities cost on the average $989.58, for which $189.39 was for compensation for temporary disability, $714.48 compensation for permanent disability, and $91.71 for medical aid. Comparable figures for 1919 are $128.74, $538.94, and $55.26, a total of $722.94. For compensation in permanent disability cases in 1920 there were expended $2,189,905.45 in compensation and $223,673.78 for medical aid.

On the average, deaths cost $3,778.89, of which $19.72 was for compensation for temporary disability, $3,613.15 benefits to dependants, $96.25 for funeral expenses, and $49.77 for medical aid. The total cost of deaths was $933,387.19, of which $921,094.06 was for compensation and funeral expenses and $12,293.13 was for medical aid. For 1919 cases the average costs were: for compensation for temporary disability, $23.19; death benefits, $3,596.84; funeral expenses, $72.50; and medical aid, $35.06; total, $3,727.59.

Allegiance of Injured

The allegiance of the injured workmen, as taken from their own reports, is given in Table 21. There were 21,680 of British and 3,752 of foreign allegiance. There were 718 Austrians, 18 Germans, 884 Italians, 335 of Polish allegiance, and 577 of Russian. There were among other allegiances represented, nationals of Chile, Czecho-Slovakia, Syria, Jugo-Slavia, Lithuania, Mexico, Persia, Portugal, Turkey, and Ukraine.

Sex and Marital Condition of Injured

Table 22 gives the sex and marital condition of injured workers. There were 694 females injured in 1920, as compared with 699 in 1919. Of the 694 females injured, 86 were married, 49 widowed, and 559 were single. There were 593 temporarily disabled, 99 permanently disabled, and 2 killed. Among the 24,738 males injured, were 430 widowers and 10,434 bachelors.

Duration of Disability

Table 23 shows the week of termination of temporary disabilities. Of a total of 22,746 cases, in 10,785, or 47.41 per cent. of cases, the disability terminated in from one to two weeks; in 4,526 cases, or 19.90 per cent. of cases, in from two to three weeks. In 1919 in 46.76 per cent. of cases the disability terminated in from one to two weeks after the accident, and in 20.36 per cent. of cases in from two to three weeks. In 1920 in 7 cases the disability did not terminate within a year, there being 8 such cases in 1919.

Nature of Injuries

Table 24 is divided into three parts; the first part gives the nature of temporary disability cases by classes; the second, the per cent. impairment (groups of ten per cent.) by region of body impaired in permanent disability cases; and the third part contains particulars of industrial disease cases classified by the nature of the disease.

During 1920 there were 8,227 cuts, lacerations, and punctures, 5,459 bruises, contusions, and abrasions, 2,561 crushing injuries, 1,856 fractures, 1,714 burns and scalds, 1,561 sprains, strains, twistings, and wrenchings, 775 eye injuries, 195 dislocations, 77 herniae, 56 cases of concussion, 10 cases of internal injuries, 10 industrial diseases, and 245 cases of other injuries causing temporary disabilities.

Of the 2,439 cases of permanent injury, there were 321 cases of disability exceeding ten per cent. of total earning capacity, as compared with 308 in 1919. There were altogether 151 cases of permanent injury to eyes. There were 15 cases of disfigurement, 1 case of loss of sense of smell, and 6 cases of impairment of hearing. There were 14 cases of permanent total disability, as compared with 12 in 1919 and 28 in 1918. These cases divide; loss of use of both hands, 1; loss of use of both legs, 2; loss of both legs, 1; loss of both eyes, 2; paraplegia, 2; hemiplegia, 1; hypochondria, 1; mental confusion, 1; insanity, 2; general debility, 1.

There were no cases other than of temporary disability caused by industrial diseases in 1920. There were 10 cases, one each of anthrax and mercury poisoning and 8 cases of lead poisoning.

Causes of Accidents

In Table 25 are given the prime causes of all accidents in 1920. Mechanical causes were responsible for 12,881 cases or 31.42 per cent. of cases, as compared with 32.75 per cent. in 1919, 35.92 per cent. in 1918, and 31.70 per cent. in 1917.

Blood Poisoning Cases

The number of cases in which the seriousness of the accident was due to concurrent or subsequent infection rather than to the agency causing the injury is given in Table 26. The relative frequency in such cases in 1920 was 9.08 per cent. of cases, as compared with 6.77 per cent. in 1919, and 6.67 per cent. in 1918. In 1920 blood poisoning caused 24 deaths, 29 amputations, 56 cases of immobilized joints, 2 cases of permanent eye injuries, and 2 cases of other permanent injuries, as compared with 12 deaths, 9 amputations, and 27 cases of immobilized joints in 1919.

Death Cases

Table 27 shows the nature of awards, the number, relationship, and residence of dependants, as well as the time between injury and death.

CHAPTER VI

REPORT ON THE CONDITION OF DEATH PENSIONERS UNDER THE ACT

By the Statistician of the Board

In the Report for 1920 appeared an article dealing with the condition of disability pensioners under the Act. The present article, reporting on the condition of death pensioners, is intended to supplement the previous study. By way of preparation a short period was devoted to field work and a blank form was sent to the death pensioners. The results thereby obtained are presented herein.

Death Pensions Awarded by the Board

From January 1, 1915, to January 1, 1922, the Board awarded 1.374 pensions to surviving dependants. The present status of all death pensions awarded is as follows:

Number and Relationship of Dependants

In the 1,374 cases in which pensions were awarded there were 3,530 dependants. There were 1,187 widows, 2,117 children, of whom 64 were posthumous and 3 invalids over age 16, 123 mothers, 59 fathers, 7 grandchildren, 2 grandparents 24 sisters, 9 brothers, 1 aunt, and 1 foster-mother of dependant children.

In 385 cases the surviving dependant was a widow only; in 257 cases, widow and one child; in 215 cases, widow and two children; in 146 cases, widow and three children; in 89 cases, widow and four children; in 46 cases, widow and five children; in 27 cases, widow and six children; in 10 cases, widow and seven children; in 7 cases, widow and eight children; and in 3 cases, widow and nine children, in 43 cases a child or children; and in 123 cases a parent or parents, were the dependants. Dependants of relationship other than the foregoing were left in 23 cases.

Pensions Expired, Rescinded, and Suspended

Pensions awarded dependants other than widows for fixed terms, contingent on surviving, in the case of children to age 16 and in other cases under section 33 (e) of the Act, have expired in 46 cases. In 30 cases death, and in 35 cases remarriage, has terminated the pensions. Combination of two or three elements of death, remarriage and elapse of term ended the pension payments in 20 cases. By virtue of Sections 25 and 26 of the Act life pensions have been replaced by annuities-certain in 14 cases and in 3 cases by lump sum commutations. Pensions awarded were subsequently rescinded in 3 cases and in 13 cases stand temporarily suspended for lack of proper address or similar reason.

Cases in which Information is not Complete

For 168 cases of the 1,210 cases of pensions continuing, January 1, 1922, complete information is lacking by reason of pensioners' failure to return forms sent them. However, inclusion in subsequent tabulations has been made in reference to remarriage or death of widows, death of children, children posthumously born, and present residence of pensioners.

Condition of Dependant Widows

Pensions have been awarded to 1,187 widows. Of this number exclusion is made of 30, including 3 rescinded, 11 suspended, and 16 commuted pensions. Widows to the number of 168 have remarried, including 24 in cases of pensions for which complete information has not been obtained, and 42 are dead. There are 143 cases in which information is not complete, including 24 cases in which the widow has remarried. The number of dependent widows, therefore, for whom information is complete is 828.

Of 828 widows, 632 are maintaining households of their own; 140 are living with relatives; 51 are living elsewhere; 3 are in sanitoria; 1 is in a hospital for the insane; and 1 is an inmate of a charitable institution.

There are 269 widows who own their own homes; 101 are part owners; 174 board; 271 rent; 5 hold life-leases; 4 have free rent; and 4 live in rented rooms. In 70 cases out of 271 the rent paid is less than $10 monthly; and in 109 cases it is $10 and over but less than $20 monthly; and in 92 it is $20 or more monthly.

In 238 cases out of the 828 the widow has a cash income other than the pension from the Board. In 12 cases it arises from mothers' allowances, in 3 cases from war pensions, and in 1 case from the Canadian Patriotic Fund. In 23 cases the widow lets rooms; in 21 she takes in boarders; in 5 cases she sews; in 4 cases she takes in washing; in 1 case she maintains a truck garden; and in 63 cases she goes out to work. The annual income in addition to the pension is less than $100 in 31 cases; in 53 cases it is $100 and over but less than $200; in 34 cases it is $200 and over but less than $300; in 25 cases it is $300 and over but less than $400; in 20 cases it is $400 and over but less than $500; in 45 cases it is $500 and over but less than $1,000; and in 7 cases it is $1,000 or more; while in 23 cases the exact amount is not specified. Besides the 238 cases of cash income in addition to pensions, 5 widows receive free board; 18 assistance from relatives; 4 assistance from the employers in whose service the workmen were killed; and 1 received assistance from other sources by way of collected contributions from fellow countrymen.

There are 63 widows employed at other than home pursuits. There are 14 clerical workers, 3 professional nurses or nurses-in-training, 3 sales clerks, 13 factory workers, 15 domestics, 11 in char-service, 1 Salvation Army captain, 1 in business, keeping a small store, and 2 whose occupations are not specified. The clerical workers include telephone operators, stenographers, real-estate operator, a proof-reader, and a statistical clerk. Factory workers include textile-mill workers, a finisher in a laundry, a white-wear operator, a core-maker, a hammock maker, and a stamping-press operator.

Only 20 out of the 828 widows are saving their pensions in whole or in part and 808 are spending it for living expenses.

Of the total number of widows, 947, there are 841 residing in Ontario, 24 in England, 1 in Scotland, 1 in Ireland, 1 in Czecho-Slovakia, 1 in South Africa, 27 in Quebec, 1 in Nova Scotia, 9 in Manitoba, 2 in Saskatchewan, 2 in Alberta, 3 in British Columbia, 3 in New York, 1 in Pennsylvania,1 in Ohio, 7 in Michigan, 3 in Wisconsin, 5 in Minnesota, 1 in Maine, 1 in Vermont, 1 in New Hampshire, 1 in Connecticut, 2 in Massachusetts, 1 in Illinois, 1 in Indiana, 1 in Texas, 3 in California, 1 in Oregon, and 1 in Washington.

Condition of Dependant Children

Of the 2,117 children awarded pensions 44 have died, including 3 for whom records are not complete, and for 260 children, including 3 dead children, full information has not been obtained, and in the cases of 348 children pensions have expired through attainment of age 16. The number of children dealt with herein, therefore, is 1,468.

There are 1,364 children living at home, 74 away from home, 11 in orphanages, 18 farmed out, and 1 in a corrective institution.

Of the 1,468 there are 1,022 attending schools, of whom 947 are going to public schools, 53 to high schools, 15 to trade and commercial schools, and 7 are in boarding schools.

There are 24 employed at various occupations, including telephone operation, char-service, junior clerical positions, messenger service, factory operatives, sales clerk, press operation, driving delivery wagon, domestic service, and apprentice.

Condition of Dependant Parents

Pensions have been awarded to 182 parents, of whom 123 were mothers and 59 fathers. Pensions expired through lapse of term account for 35 mothers and 25 fathers and death for 6 mothers and 8 fathers, there being incomplete information as to 17 mothers and 5 fathers. Inclusion is made, therefore, of 65 mothers and 21 fathers, there being 4 cases of fathers only, 17 cases of fathers and mothers, and 48 cases of mothers only.

Of the 17 cases of fathers and mothers the father works in 5 cases and the mothers in 1. Mothers only are employed in 14 cases and of the fathers only none are in employment. Of the 15 working mothers 7 keep boarders, 2 let rooms, 2 are employed as domestics, 1 sews, 2 take in washing, and 1 is engaged in char-service. Four of the five working fathers are labouring and the other is a rural mail-carrier and postmaster.

One mother only has an additional income of $200 and over but under $300 yearly, 3 of $300 and over but under $400, 4 of $400 and over but under $500, 6 of $500 and over but under $1,000. In 4 cases the amount of income is not specified. One mother was receiving assistance from relatives. Of the 17 fathers and mothers 3 are receiving less than $500 yearly in addition to their pensions, 2, $500 and over but less than $1,000, and 1, $1,000 or more. In 1 case the amount of income was not specified and in 1 case outside assistance has been obtained. One out of the four fathers only has an additional income of less than $100 annually.

None of the pensions to parent or parents are being saved in whole or in part, all being expended for current living expenses.

Of the 82 mothers and 26 fathers 6 mothers and 3 fathers reside in Quebec, 1 father in Scotland, and 1 father in Newfoundland, all other residing in Ontario.

Of the 48 mothers only 8 are boarding, 22 rent, 5 are part-owners, and 13 own, there being 36 living alone, 11 with relatives, and 1 with others. Of the 4 fathers only 2 own, 1 boards, and 1 rents; 1 lives alone and 3 with relatives. Of the 17 mothers and fathers together 4 board, 5 own, 2 part own, and 6 rent; 12 live alone, 4 with relatives, and 1 with others.

Condition of Other Dependants

The other dependants were 24 sisters, 9 brothers, 1 aunt, 7 grandchildren, 2 grandparents, and 1 foster-mother of dependant children. The foster-mother lives with the dependant children, rents for less than $10 monthly, has no extra income, spends her pension for living expenses, and resides in Ontario. Pension to a dependant aunt has expired by elapse of term. The grandfather and grandmother live alone, rent for more than $20 monthly, have an income of between $500 and $1,000, arising from the labours of the grandfather as a factory labourer. Two of the dependant grandchildren attend public school and all of them live with relatives.

Of the 24 sisters and 9 brothers 9 are in public school, 1 in a sanitorium, and 1 is employed. In the case of one sister information is incomplete.

Remarriage of Widows

In 168 cases out of 1,187 in which a widow was left dependent remarriage of the widow has taken place. The average period of widowhood was 2.88 years, the figures being as follows:

Period of Widowhood	Number of Cases.
Less than one year	15
One year or more but less than two years	35
Two years " " " " " three "	55
Three years " " " " " four "	24
Four years " " " " " five "	19
Five years " " " " " six "	13
Six years " " " " " seven "	7
Total	168

It is to be observed that the above figures cannot be used to determine the percentage of widows remarrying. It is obvious that the widows who have remained widows for more than six years were widowed in 1915. Unless correlation is made of the number of widows widowed in 1915 and the number entering 1921 as widows, and similarly for each year from 1915 to 1921, determination of the percentage of widows widowed in 1915 and subsequently remarried is impossible.

The ages of remarried widows at time of remarriage are shown to have been as follows:

Age at Time of Remarriage	Number of Cases
Under 20	4
20 — 25	34
25 — 30	33
30 — 35	47
35 — 40	17
40 — 45	15
50 — 55	5
Total	168

Of the one hundred and sixty-eight remarried widows forty had no dependent children under age sixteen, forty-two had one, thirty-two had two, nineteen had three, twelve had four six had five, four had six, two had seven, and one had eight.

Deceased Widows

The determination of the mortality rate among widows is attended with the same difficulties as is the determination of the remarriage rate. There were forty-two widows who died. Their ages at the time of death were:

Age at Time of Death	Number of Cases
25 — 30	2
30 — 35	3
40 — 45	3
45 — 50	8
50 — 55	5
55 — 60	5
Over 60	15

Comments and Conclusions

One specific purpose of this enquiry was to determine the attitude of the pensioners as to the pension and to the Board's service. The pensioners were asked to state any complaint which they might have. Response was made in nearly every case. In seventy cases only out of 1,042 cases of pensions a complaint was made; in the other cases the pensioner replying either stated there was no complaint or made a commendatory statement; and in one hundred and sixty-eight cases failed to send in any response.

In sixty-five cases out of the seventy the complaint was inadequacy of pension, in one that the amount of pension was erroneously calculated, in one case of the cost of affidavits, in one case that the Board would not commute the pension to a lump sum, in one case of non-receipt of cheque, and in one that the age limit of children should be extended beyond age sixteen.

In 7.85 per cent. of cases complaint was made of inadequacy of pension. The complainants may be divided roughly into three classes; those who are not receiving maximum pension by reason of the limitation on wages; those whose pensions have been below the maximum by reason of residence in an extra-provincial jurisdiction at the time of death of workman; and those, fortunately a small number, who seem to have used the occasion to indulge a disposition to grumble.

It is a matter of peculiar gratification that only five complaints were made as to the payment of the pensions. In two of these the Board had no control over the circumstances, that is in commutation or in extension of age limit. Non-receipt of cheque was due to pensioner's failure to forward proper address. In the case of the pensioner complaining of the cost of affidavits, but two, proof of age and subsequent proof of widowhood, had been required. In the case of complaint of erroneous calculation of pension, the pensioner failed to understand the effect of the operation of the percentage limitation on wages on the monthly amount of pension.

Examination of the individual reports and consideration of the tabulated material impels the conclusion that, broadly speaking, the pensions for death as set out in the Act and awarded by the Board are generally adequate, and that death dependants are living average lives of normal activities without general lowering of standards or recourse to charity.

APPENDIX A

ONTARIO'S ACCIDENT PREVENTION PROBLEM

Paper Given by Chairman of the Board at Joint Safety Convention for the Province, Held at Toronto, April 4, 1922.

My part in this Accident Prevention Convention is to tell you of the accidents that have been happening in Ontario industries.

The casualty list is a heavy one. The sufferers are very numerous. The only redeeming feature is that some relief is now provided for all accidents happening in industries covered by The Workmen's Compensation Act. When a workman is killed or injured in his employment, justice as well as humanity requires that some recompense shall be made, and the Ontario Act, I am glad to say, is the most liberal among those of the provinces in the benefits that are provided.

That help is being given to those who suffer as the result of accidents is a great satisfaction, and the appreciation that is shown by many who would otherwise be in need is very gratifying.

Nearly five hundred cheques are being despatched by the Board daily to various parts of the Province, bringing support and relief to workmen who have been crippled or injured in their employment, and widows, children, and parents of workmen who have been killed. More than 100,000 people (including workmen's families) are every year more or less dependent upon these payments for their maintenance. About $21,000 per day is being awarded in benefits. The total for the past year was $6,189,000. For the seven years the present Act has been in operation the total benefits have amounted to nearly $28,000,000.

It is the Board's duty to provide this compensation and to collect from you the employers of the Province in whose industries the accidents happen the money required for this purpose, and the amount we have to collect depends upon the number and seriousness of the accidents.

Compensation Does Not Restore

But though we thus relieve and mitigate the results of the accidents, and the employers are called upon to furnish the money, we do not wholly make good even to the workmen and their dependants the monetary loss, to say nothing of the pain and suffering, which they sustain. Compensation does not restore the life that is destroyed or the limb that is lost or crippled; and no matter in what proportions the direct loss may be borne by workmen and employers the result is economic waste, with usually everyone very much the loser, and the producing power of the country is diminished.

Number of Accidents

In an industrial army of about 450,000 workmen, 45,191 accidents were reported in 1921, three hundred and eighty-six of them fatal.

There were 272,000 accidents, 2,784 of them fatal, during the seven years' operation of the Act. This is a total equal to the combined population of Hamilton, Ottawa, and Windsor.

This is the accident record in Ontario for industries covered by The Workmen's Compensation Act. There was an average of one hundred and fifty-one accidents a day last year—one about every three minutes of the working day. This is one accident for every ten workmen. It would take only ten years to have an accident for every workman in employment.

The accident frequency or rate per hundred of full year workers has not changed greatly during recent years. The comparison for compensation cases is: 1917, 6.57; 1918, 6.54; 1919, 6.56; 1920, 6.97. There has been a decrease in the frequency of death cases; permanent disability cases have remained about the same; temporary disability compensation cases have slightly increased; and medical aid only cases have very considerably increased.

Less than one per cent. of all the accidents reported result in death; about six per cent. in some degree of permanent disability; about fifty-six per cent. are temporary disability cases involving compensation; and about thirty-seven per cent. involve medical aid only and no compensation, the injury not disabling the workman for as much as seven days but requiring the services of a doctor.

Cost of Accidents

The most costly class of cases are the permanent disabilities, involving nearly half the total accident cost. For 1920 the permanent disability cases in Schedule 1 industries (omitting the odd figures) cost a total of $2,413,000, or an average of $990; the death cases cost $933,000, or an average of $3,779; the temporary disability compensation cases cost $1,617,000, or an average of $71; the cases involving medical aid only cost $78,000, or an average of $5.00.

The average cost of all compensation cases was $195, of which $26 was for medical aid. The average cost of all accidents was $123, of which $18 was for medical aid.

About fifteen per cent. of the total accident cost is for medical aid.

In figuring the accident cost, the amount necessary to take care of pension cases as long as the pensions will last is included, the amount of assessments collected being what will be necessary to make payment in full for the accidents that have happened. The fund set aside for the payment of pensions that have been awarded is sometimes erroneously referred to as a reserve. The only real reserve that is set aside is a small fund, known as Disaster Reserve (one per cent. of assessments), now amounting to $218,000, intended to assist in meeting any catastrophe or extraordinary call that might be too heavy a burden on any class of industry.

In nearly half the temporary disability cases the workmen get back to work within two weeks' time after the accident, and in over two-thirds of them within three weeks. The average time loss in the temporary disability compensation cases for 1920 was 19.62 days. This average time loss has slightly decreased since the early years of the Act, the figures for each year from the commencement being 20.83, 22.95, 21.33, 19.75, 19.66, and 19.62.

Kinds of Injuries

The kinds of injuries are very numerous and variable. It may be of interest to mention some of those that most frequently occur. There were one hundred and fifty-one permanent and nearly eight hundred temporary eye injuries; two hundred and seventy-two permanent leg and foot injuries; one hundred and fifty-six permanent arm injuries; and 1,669 permanent hand or finger injuries; among the temporary disability cases there were over 8,000 cuts, lacerations, and punctures; over 5,000 bruises, contusions, and abrasions; 1,800 fractures; 2,500 crushes; 1,500 sprains, strains, twistings, and wrenchings; 1,700 burns and scalds; and nearly two hundred dislocations.

Causes of Accidents

I now come to the very vital matter of the cause of accidents.

I am not an expert in accident prevention, but I see significance in the fact that less than one-third of all the accidents we have are on machinery. What about the other two-thirds? It is not by putting guards upon machinery, useful as that is in its way, that the great bulk of accidents can be prevented. It must be by general habits of carefulness, and that is true largely also of accidents on machinery.

Stepping on and knocking against objects caused 2,455 accidents during the year; letting objects or material fall caused 1,341; the falling of workmen caused 3,952; 10,609 accidents resulted from the handling of objects or material, in loading, carrying, piling, etc. The table in the Board's annual reports showing the causes of accidents affords a very interesting study.

How are these accidents, which may be referred to as arising from general hazard rather than as rising from machinery or the particular nature of the industry, to be eliminated or reduced? First, I think it is important that there should be proper surrounding physical conditions, suitable space, efficient organization, and orderly arrangement of the factory or plant. I think a still more important thing is the state of mind and attitude of the workers, foremen, superintendents, and managers. Is there sympathetic co-operation in the work and in the desire to avoid mishaps? Is it looked upon not only as a misfortune but also as a reflection upon workmen, foremen, and management to have preventable accidents? Is the employer actively in earnest about preventing them? Does he hold his superintendents and his foremen personally responsible when they happen? Will he deal with them as sternly for having workmen under them carelessly and needlessly injured and maimed as he would for having his machinery or material carelessly and needlessly broken or destroyed? I believe this is the most important factor in accident prevention.

For illustration, it is a very striking fact that many accidents—a very undue proportion—happen to new men just commencing to work in an establishment, often within a few hours, frequently within a few days, after starting. Here is a hint to employers and foremen. Take a little pains, show consideration and sympathy with new hands till they become accustomed to their surroundings. The importance of this was very pointedly illustrated by the excellent little play or safety first entertainment entitled "Fixing the Responsibility for an Accident" put on by employees of three of the Hamilton firms, that I had the pleasure of witnessing here in Toronto a few weeks ago.

So far as machinery goes, the old offenders, abrasive wheels, saws, and presses and stamping machines, continue to take their heavy annual toll of eyes, hands, and fingers, and sometimes the lives of workmen. Goggles, guards, and carefulness would rob these three offenders of much of their destructiveness.

Another very frequent cause of accident is molten metal getting into workmen's shoes, which could be prevented by proper footwear.

All these are things you have frequently had discussed before, but until there is greater diminution in such accidents they cannot be too often mentioned.

One other particular kind of accident I will refer to, namely, the injury of comparatively young boys upon machinery—fingers, hands, or arms lost upon presses, saws, planers, etc. These are far too frequent. This should have the earnest attention of every employer.

Safety Associations

The Board supplies to your accident prevention associations particulars of all compensable accidents as soon as reports are received, giving name, address, age, occupation, nationality, marital condition and language of the injured workman; name, industry, and location of plant of the employer; date, hour, and cause of the accident; and the nature of the injury.

This information can be used to great advantage by these associations and their inspectors, and I am sure, with the energy and earnestness now being displayed by the management of these organizations, it will be made good use of in observing and studying the causes of accidents and suggesting and applying means of prevention.

First Aid—Blood Poisoning

Next thing in importance to prevention of accidents is to prevent or mitigate their evil consequences. Whether a cut, scratch, or other wound is to become infected will largely depend upon the prompt and efficient application of first aid treatment to sterilize the wound and keep out infection. Employers should provide first aid equipment in their factory or plant and have it in charge of someone competent to use it, and should insist upon workmen immediately reporting wounds, even though slight, and having them attended to. The importance of this is not sufficiently realized.

The figures respecting blood poisoning cases are startling. From six to nine per cent. of all compensation cases have infection at some stage, and the cost of such cases is at least one-eighth of the total accident cost amounting probably to three-quarters of a million dollars a year. In 1920 the nine per cent. of blood poisoning cases included fifty-six cases of joints immobilized by infection, twenty-eight amputations due to infection, and no less than twenty-four deaths due to infection. This is a terrible toll, and without doubt much of it could be prevented. The last complete figures are very disappointing. They show a very serious relapse. There had previously been a distinct improvement over earlier years. The percentages from 1915 are, respectively, 8.8, 8.3, 6.2, 6.7, 6.7, and 9 per cent. By far the worst record was that of the packing house class, in which the percentage of 1920 was 24.86. It showed an improvement and then a relapse similar to the other industries generally.

This surely calls for energetic and drastic measures. The Board's regulation (88) requires employers to provide a proper first aid service and to post up notices warning workmen of the danger of blood poisoning and requiring them to immediately report cuts, punctures, scratches, and burns, to the office or first aid officer for attention. These notices (in different languages) are furnished by the Board upon request.

Another very important branch of first aid is resuscitation in case of drowning or electric shock, especially the latter. Many a life can be saved by the prompt use of proper and persistent measures of resuscitation.

Skilled Doctors

Then there is the question of skilled medical or surgical service where there is any serious injury. Whether a broken bone, a severed tendon, or a mangled member is to result in loss or impairment of function depends in many cases upon the skill and care of the surgeon who is looking after the case. This, as we all known, varies very greatly, and it is good business and a great benefit to the workman to make sure that none but the most capable and painstaking surgeons are called to deal with accident cases.

Malingering

I have mentioned as means of mitigation of the effect of accidents efficient first aid measures and skilful surgical attention. There is one other thing I would like to say a word about—getting the injured workman back to work. This will no doubt, at once suggest the disagreeable word "malingering." But it is not for the Board to run away from disagreeable questions. Every pains and care should be taken to see that workmen get back to work when they are able. Employer, doctor, workman and Board should all co-operate to this end. And here again is to be emphasized the importance of having doctors of the highest integrity and character. Malingering should not be tolerated. In the end it would be workmen generally who would suffer most by anything that would bring discredit upon the Act. No doubt at the present time there is more than ordinary danger of malingering, but, frankly, I do not believe it prevails, or ever has prevailed, to any serious extent under our Ontario Act. The fact that the average time loss has not increased and that medical aid cases have increased more in proportion than compensation cases confirms this view. There is often too much loose and unwarranted talk about malingering. When I hear it mentioned I always ask for instances or particulars, and the Board never fails to investigate any specific case that is brought to its attention. Generally, I may say, the complaints turn out to be unfounded or to have arisen from a misunderstanding, but where imposition or fraud is discovered it is sternly dealt with. Prosecutions have been entered and convictions obtained against both workmen and doctors for obtaining or attempting to obtain money under false pretences.

Rehabilitation

Of far greater importance is the problem of finding something for a willing but crippled workman to do, and often a crippled workman is in need of a little encouragement. Nothing I think raises an employer more in the good opinion of his own workmen and of the community generally or conduces more to good feeling and good relations than sympathetic interest and consideration for the workman who has been crippled in his employment. We have been hearing much in recent years about rehabilitation. I think one of the most useful improvements that could be made in our Act at the present time would be a provision enabling the Board to do a little more than it is now able to do in the matter of rehabilitation. The expense need not be great, and the work would need to be handled with care and judgment. Harm instead of good I think can easily be done by too much paternalism or ill-considered action. The best rehabilitation is to get the workman back if possible into the same or some other occupation in the employment in which he was injured.

Thanks to Employers

In conclusion I wish to thank the employers of the Province for the co-operation given in the administration of the Act. We all desire an efficient, impartial, and satisfactory administration, and the Board is very grateful for the way in which employers generally have assisted, especially in attending to the exceedingly important matter of reporting accidents and giving necessary information promptly, without which speedy payment of claims is impossible.

The Board's task is a heavy and a very responsible one, and never more difficult than at the present time. We are a buffer between the different parties. Workmen and doctors sometimes complain that we pay too little money; employers often think we pay too much. Demands from various sources are being constantly made with which we cannot honestly comply. In dealing with compensation and assessments the Board is a judicial body and must do its duty, in accordance with the provisions of the Act, as we are sworn to do it, without fear or favor. The influence and pressure that is too frequently attempted must be resisted no matter what the consequences.

Act the Best

We are not always able to do all that we would wish, but whatever the shortcomings, injured workmen and their dependants were never before in the history of the Province looked after as they are being looked after now; and if our task is heavy it is an honor and a privilege to have so great an opportunity of doing good and of rendering useful public service. I believe upon the whole there is no better Workmen's Compensation Act in existence than our present Ontario Act. It makes for better relations between employer and employee; provides relief for all accidents of consequence in employment; keeps the employer immune from actions in the law courts; and speedily, without litigation or expense, puts directly into the hands of the bereaved widow or the crippled or injured workman $98 out of every $100 the employer has to pay for accident protection.

Though the benefits are liberal the rates of assessment, by reason of the absence of overhead and other expenses incident to other systems, are not high in comparison with those in other places; and if you will reduce the accidents the rates of assessment will automatically also drop.

APPENDIX B

LETTERS OF APPRECIATION

"I wish to extend my sincere thanks for your promptness in sending my pension each month."

"I wish to express my thanks to the Board for the prompt settlement with me. Wishing the Board every success."

"Your cheque for $43.66 gratefully received this day. Thanks ever so much for the prompt consideration which you have given my case."

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 4th inst. enclosing cheque. I wish to thank you for the prompt and equitable settlement."

"We received your cheque for $150 and also your notice of award of the $28 per month which we thankfully received. We feel that you are doing a great work for the laboring man."

"Your cheque received for $375 for loss of finger and for which I am well satisfied, and thank the Board for the same, also for the cheques during the nine weeks laid up with finger."

"I desire to thank you for the nice artificial arm I received. It is a fine piece of work indeed, so nicely finished, and fits first class and I am sure after I get used to it I shall find it a great help. Again thanking you."

"I am sending this to thank the Board for the fine work they are doing. I'll say that you are the finest organization ever organized. It gives the poor working man a chance to live when he gets hurt. With many thanks and best wishes, I am."

"Accept my sincere thanks for your settlement of my claim, for without doubt the Workmen's Compensation Board is a blessing and boon to the injured workman as in no other way could he receive the justice and monetary benefit without costs and litigation."

"Received to-day pension cheque to 3rd January, 1922, and am very very thankful for same. I don't know how I would ever get along without this amount coming in so prompt. Thanking you again for your prompt payments on the 3rd of each month, I remain."

"I received the cheque and I cannot begin to express my gratitude to you for your kindness to me during my disability, and I can almost call the cheque a life saver. My arm is slowly gaining strength by using it. Thanking you again, and wishing the best of health and prosperity for each and every member of the Board. I am most sincerely yours."

"Received yours of the 5th with cheque for $625 and must say it is really more than I expected. With the compensation I received makes me think the Compensation Board is the only thing for the working man and I must thank you for your promptness in looking after my claim and all that you have done for me. The Board deserves great praise for their work."

"I cannot let the season pass without wishing you a very Happy New Year. I also want to thank you for the most kind and courteous treatment I always received from you the 7 months I was sick with blood poisoning in my hand, from first to last your kindness was as a friend, and I thank you from my heart. May you for the coming New Year have the best of luck."

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of cheque for $962.27 being lump sum on my remarriage. Thanking you for your prompt attention to this matter, also to express gratitude for compensation received monthly during the past five years. It enabled me to keep a home together for my two boys as I had no other income and I am grateful for the pension which I yet receive for my two children."

"I am in receipt of your letter containing cheque, which I thank you very kindly for. I have much pleasure in congratulating the Board in view of the prompt and expedient manner in which this claim has been disposed of. It is indeed very gratifying to learn how inexpensive this method is to the working class in general. I hope and trust that the good work will continue."

"I thank you for the compensation money as you so kindly send so prompt every month, as it surely is a grand help when one's husband is gone and you are trying to keep the home and family together in these hard times. I was so glad when I received the fifty dollars yesterday I had to write and thank you for your kindness to me, as I only think it is my duty to do so. You have been most kind since my husband's death and I do think it shows there are some good people left in this world. I remain."

Interim Report respecting Sheriffs

To His Honour Henry Cockshutt,

Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario.

May it please your Honour:

Having been appointed by Royal Commission to inquire into, consider and report upon, among other things, the best mode of selecting, appointing and remunerating Sheriffs, and generally to consider and report upon all matters pertaining to the placing of the office of Sheriff upon the most efficient and business-like footing, we hereby respectfully submit this interim report thereon.

Short Sketch of Office

The office of Sheriff is one of the oldest known to English law. Originally the Sheriff was the Reeve or, in other words, the High Magistrate of the Shire. He was the executive officer of the Crown and to him the Royal Writs were addressed. He could rouse the countryside to arrest a felon. He collected and accounted for the money due from the County to the Crown. Sometimes he paid a fixed sum for the privilege of collecting the taxes in his County.

Under the institution of Frank Pledge—the earliest English Police System on record—the County was divided into "Tithings," or groups of ten family heads, who were mutually responsible for each other's good behaviour, and bound to assist in producing any one of their number who transgressed before the Officers of Justice. Ten "Tithings" formed a "Hundred" and when the Sheriff held his "Tourn" or Court throughout the County twice yearly, he inquired of the heads of the "Hundreds" and "Tithings" as to what offences had been committed since his last visit. Most offences were punished by fines, and the levying of fines was the general business of the Sheriff's Court.

The Sheriff, sitting in his Court, ordered the arrest of persons accused of grave crimes and tried all offences, even assaults of an aggravated nature, not charged as breaches of the King's Peace. All breaches of the King's Peace had to be referred to the King's Court. The Sheriff sitting in the County Court, or as it was called, the Sheriff's Court, had, till some time after the Norman Conquest, unlimited jurisdiction in the civil affairs of the County.

With the Norman Conquest a change came over the Sheriff's Court and the Sheriff or "Vice-Comes" as he was then called, became in reality a producer and collector of revenue for the King, by whom he was appointed. In Saxon times the Sheriff had probably been elected by the Freeholders, but the Norman Sheriff or Vice-Comes was appointed by the Crown and had to show some substantial evidence of his zeal for the Crown. Hence he usually endeavoured to collect as many fines as possible. This made the Sheriff's office unpopular with the public and, when the office was misused for the perversion of Justice, the ill-will in which it was held was greatly increased. The Norman Sheriff was not particular as to details in case of legal transgressions but simply fined the whole township or borough and left the community to settle who was to pay.

At the Sheriff's Court the freemen of the community acted as Judges under the supervision of the Sheriff. It is not surprising that local prejudice or feeling should sometimes influence their decisions, or that the Sheriff himself should sometimes descend to pervert the functions of justice by selecting a partial panel of Judges. Misuse of the Sheriff's office in his judicial function, is the theme of many popular ballads of the Middle Ages.

The Sheriff's Court is continued in the Channel Islands to the present day. The Sheriff (or Bailiff as he is there called) presides over the Court, the judges being farmers and tradesmen who sit on the Bench arrayed in gorgeous robes. The old complaint of partiality on the part of the judges is still heard there.

There is a steady decline in the influence and jurisdiction of the Sheriffs' Courts from the date of the Magna Charta, which provided that Justice should be sold, denied or delayed to no one. This provision tended to put the King's Court on a higher plane than the Court of the Sheriff, and there was also a uniformity of decision governing the judgment of the King's Courts, while different Sheriffs would give varying decisions on similar matters.

In the year 1278 the Statute of Gloucester reduced the Civil jurisdiction of the Sheriff's Court to cases in which the amount in dispute was less than forty shillings. Its Criminal Jurisdiction was later absolutely removed as to the graver offenses by the Statute 1 Edward IV., c. 2, and transferred to the Judges of the Peace in Quarter Sessions. At the close of the period reviewed, little remained of the original functions of the Sheriff, except his duties in selecting juries, acting at elections, accounting for the County monies, and executing judicial processes.

Sheriffs in Canada

In Canada the Sheriff never exercised judicial functions. The early history of the office here is rather vague. The second ordinance of General Murray, then Governor at Quebec, dated September 17th, 1764, provided for the early selection of "six good and sufficient men to serve as Bailiffs, and sub-Bailiffs for each parish, out of which number the Governer ..... is to nominate and appoint the persons who are to act as Bailiffs, and sub-Bailiffs, in each parish." This system of selection follows the English method of selecting Sheriffs, and it would seem that the duties ordinarily performed by the Sheriff were to be carried out by the Bailiffs and the officers of the Militia.

No mention is made of Sheriffs until the Ordinance of February 25th, 1777, which provides that Writs of Execution shall be directed to the Sheriff of the District and provides for the manner in which execution is to be levied. In 1780 appeared the first regulation for the fixing of Sheriffs' fees. By an ordinance of 1785 establishing trials by Jury the Sheriff was required to make out lists of the Jurors. The first Sheriffs were probably appointed by Governor Sir Guy Carleton, afterwards Lord Dorchester, soon after the passage of the Quebec Act, in 1774.

In 1788, the Governor-General created a number of judicial Districts in Canada, each one of which had a Sheriff. Upper Canada, which was created in 1791 was composed of four of these Districts. As new Districts were formed, Sheriffs were appointed for them. These were the first Sheriffs in what is now Ontario. The duties of the Sheriff at Common Law were the same as those of the English Sheriff, except that our Sheriffs exercised no judicial functions.

The Sheriff was appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor. In 1792 the Sheriff in every District was given power to nominate and appoint a goaler and keeper of the Court House.

By Statute passed in 1806, £300 was set aside annually for the payment of salaries to the Sheriffs. In 1821 it was provided that none but Sheriffs and persons employed by them should be entitled to compensation for serving any process directed to the Sheriff of any District. By Statute passed in 1822 Sheriffs were prohibited from trading as shopkeepers or merchants. They were directed to attend the Judge on his circuit. This Statute also provided that a Sheriff lying in gaol three months was to forfeit his office.

In 1833 it was provided that no person should be appointed Sheriff unless he had real estate in the province worth £750 above incumbrances, and had filed his own affidavit to that effect. This is one of various Statutes dealing with Sheriffs and their deputies that were passed from time to time.

Sheriff's Functions Mainly Civil

In Ontario to-day the functions of the Sheriff are mainly civil and it is from services rendered by him in civil matters that most of his income is derived. He has full charge of the prisoners who are brought before the Court for trial, but at the present time he takes no part in the apprehension and arrest of those charged with crime.

Government Takes Part of Sheriffs' Income

Up to 1892 the Sheriffs received all the revenues of their office, which in some instances were large. The fees of the Sheriff of the County of York, for instance, prior to the division of that office in 1887, amounted to nearly $10,000 a year. In 1892, however, the Legislature, under the influence of the Patron movement of those days, enacted a measure which provided that a percentage of the net receipts of certain Provincial officials over and above a certain sum should go to the Province. The Act provided that each Sheriff might retain for his own use the net fees received by him up to $3,000 per annum but that out of his net fees above that amount the following percentages should be paid to the Provincial Treasurer.

Over $3,000 and up to $3,500	10%
Over $3,500 and up to $4,000	20%
Over $4,000 and up to $4,500	30%
Over $4,500	40%

In 1894 the Legislature went still further in appropriating a portion of the Sheriffs' fees. The Act of 1892 was amended and the following percentages were substituted for those above mentioned.

Over $2,000 and up to $2,500	10%
Over $2,500 and up to $3,000	20%
Over $3,000 and up to $3,500	30%
Over $3,500	50%

Government Gives up its Percentage

In 1898 the Legislature sharply reversed its action. The Act of 1894 so far as it affected Sheriffs was repealed and from that day to the present time, every Sheriff, with the exceptions hereafter mentioned, has been permitted to retain the entire receipts of his office. The exceptions referred to were the result of a measure passed by the Legislature in 1912 which provided that every Sheriff might retain his fees up to $6,500 but of the net receipts over that amount 90 per cent. should go to the Provincial Government. This statute, so far as its practical operation extends, affects only the Sheriff of Toronto and the Sheriff of the County of York. For the years 1913—14—15, small contributions were made by the Sheriff of the County of Carleton.

Early Legislation to Increase Sheriffs' Incomes

During the period that the Legislature had been cutting down Sheriffs' incomes at the top it had been providing for increases for some of the Sheriffs whose incomes were small. In 1882 a Statute was passed which provided that the Government might direct that any Sheriff whose income from fees and emoluments for the year 1881, after deducting disbursements, did not exceed $500 should be paid an additional $400 and that where the income did not exceed $800 the Sheriff should be paid an additional $200. Apparently no Sheriff's income was so low as to permit him to qualify for assistance under this Act for no payments appear to have been made under it.

Supplementary Grants to Sheriffs

In 1902 the Legislature enacted that where a Sheriff received less than $1,000 a year net, the Government should grant a sum sufficient to bring it up to this figure. In 1909 the minimum was increased by the Legislature to $1,200. In 1912 it was increased to $1,500 and it was later provided that the legislation regarding increases, which hitherto had not applied to the Provisional Judicial Districts, should thereafter apply to them. In 1918 a further increase was made and the minimum income of a Sheriff was fixed at $1,800.

From 1903 to the end of 1920 the following amounts have been paid annually by the Provincial Government to the Sheriffs under these Acts.

Year	Amount paid.
1904	2,824.10
1905	2,353.69
1906	2,366.01
1907	2,559.67
1908	2,364.47
1909	4,774.83
1910	4,546.85
1911	5,505.12
1912	9,630.66
1913	8,177.75
1914	6,790.52
1915	7,114.19
1916	9,352.35
1917	12,914.13
1918	16,487.26
1919	10,410.19
1920	10,437.49
Total amount paid in years 1903-20	$119,928.76

It will be noted that during the past three years the total amount paid out by the Government to supplement Sheriffs' salaries reached $36,134.99 or an average of $12,045.00 per annum. Since the payments began some Sheriffs have been on the list continuously; others near the border line were sometimes on the list and sometimes off it. In all more than three-fifths of the Sheriffs have shared at one time or another in the Government grant.

Application of Sheriffs for Further Increase

An application from the Sheriffs for a further increase of the minimum income of a Sheriff from $1,800 to $2,400 was made to the Government last year and is now before it. If it had been granted, a further addition of $15,194.59 would have been made to Sheriffs' incomes in 1920 and the Government grant for that year would have reached $24,432.03. Schedule "A" to this report contains a list of the Sheriffs of Ontario to-day with date of appointment and age. Schedule "B" hereto shows to what Sheriffs the supplementary grants were paid and the amounts paid to the respective Sheriffs in each year.

Paying Sheriffs' Deputies

We find that in some instances where a Provincial grant is given to supplement the Sheriff's income, a Deputy is employed by the Sheriff and the salary paid to the Deputy is charged as a disbursement of the office. This is done in some cases where the net income falls below $1800 and, to the extent that the net income of the Sheriff falls below $1800, the salary paid the Deputy comes out of the Provincial Treasury. Where the work is so light that an income of $1800 is not reached the Sheriff should do the work himself and the salary of a Deputy, if one is employed, should be paid by the Sheriff out of his net income and should not be treated as a disbursement of his office. One instance where the Sheriff is a practising physician, and the work is practically all done by a Deputy, was brought to our attention. In this case the Deputy received a salary of $350 per annum and the Sheriff the entire net income for himself. Owing to the salary paid the Deputy the net income of the Sheriff fell short of $1800 and the amount by which it fell short was made up out of the Provincial grant.

Chief Justice Sir William Meredith in referring to this subject says:—

"The present law works very unsatisfactorily. If a Sheriff chooses to do his own work he is not allowed anything and the Sheriff in the next County may employ a member of his own family at $700 or $800 per year and he gets practically double. I think that is very unjust."

Why Sheriffs' Incomes Have Shrunk

The causes of falling off of Sheriffs' incomes were outlined to the Commission by Mr. R. J. Maclennan, Solicitor for the Sheriffs' Association. One great cause of the decrease, Mr. Maclennan states, is the increase of the jurisdiction of the Division Courts which has resulted in diverting business from the County Courts. Forty years ago the largest amount for which action might be brought in the Division Court was $100. It is now more than $400. Another cause of the falling off of the Sheriffs' business is the transfer from the County Judges to Police Magistrates of most of the criminal work of the Province. A very large proportion of the cases now tried by Police Magistrates were formerly tried by the County Judges, and each case meant a trial in the County Judge's Criminal Court or at the Sessions and, incidentally, fees payable to the Sheriff for attendance, etc. The falling off of civil litigation caused by the Creditors'

Relief Act and the Bankruptcy Act has been very marked. A creditor instead of issuing a writ and recovering judgment and issuing execution to the Sheriff now files his claim with the Assignee and no action is brought. The Workmen's Compensation Act, under which compensation for damages sustained is paid without action being brought by the party injured, or by the representatives of his estate, has had a marked influence in lessening the number of civil actions. Another cause has been the change which has taken place throughout the country from the credit system to the cash business system. The falling off in population in rural districts is also lessening the work of the Sheriffs throughout the Province, except in the large centres. In the year 1919 only $58,945.36 was realized in the whole Province through Sheriffs' sales. The total amount paid to Sheriffs on claims in their hands was only $195,821.45; most of which was paid in with little or no effort on the Sheriff's part. In 1920 in 12 Counties of the Province there were no Sheriffs' sales. In 12 more Counties there was only one Sheriff's sale in each; in 11 Counties there were only two Sheriffs' sales in each, so that in 35 Counties the number of Sheriffs' sales totalled only 34. The total number of Sheriffs' sales in the Province was 138 and the average amount realized at each sale was $487.22, a large proportion of which was probably absorbed by costs. The small number of sales speaks well for the Province but it shows strikingly what a limited amount of work in this line is done by Sheriffs to-day.

His Honour Judge Snider says: "Present legislation has practically done away with the work of the Sheriff on the civil side."

A Dying Office

It is clear that the office of Sheriff as now constituted is a dying office. The Sheriffs appear to be well paid for what they do but they have so little to do that they cannot earn a living income. Many of those who receive Government grants are overpaid for the comparatively little work that they perform. No business could exist if it had to pay so many officials for such a limited amount of work.

Where the Money Comes From

We must bear in mind the fact that the money that is now paid by the Government to bring the Sheriff's salary up to $1,800 does not come out of the County for which the Sheriff is appointed, but out of the province at large, so that those Counties in which the income of the Sheriff is not supplemented have to contribute to make up the shortage in those Counties where the income falls short of $1,800. To continue, much less increase, the special grants now made is, in our opinion, out of the question.

His Honour Judge Snider said to us at Hamilton:

"It does seem wrong that the Province as a whole, which means the larger Counties with a large urban population . . . . . should have to take money out of the Treasury to help pay the salaries of officials in smaller Counties who are not earning it; that does not seem right and a remedy ought to be found."

Two Alternatives

We have therefore to choose between two possible courses. We can abolish the office altogether or we can give to the Sheriffs such additional duties as would justify the payment of a living income.

W. M. A. Secord, speaking for the Waterloo County Law Association at Kitchener, said:

"There should be some provision by which the Sheriff would have sufficient work to earn his salary."

Proposal to Have One Sheriff for Several Counties

Additional work would be given to the Sheriffs if their territorial jurisdiction were increased by combining several Counties under one Sheriff. In the Province of Quebec to-day there is one Sheriff for 16 Counties. In the days when in the Province of Ontario the Sheriff was fully employed and could earn a good income, the Counties, in many instances, were larger than they are to-day; for instance, the territory which is now comprised in the Counties of York, Ontario and Peel, all formed one County for municipal, judicial and other purposes. So did Essex and Lambton; Huron, Bruce and Perth; Middlesex and Elgin; Lincoln and Welland; Wentworth; Halton and Brant; Wellington, Waterloo and Grey; Peterboro and Victoria; Frontenac, Lennox and Addington; Lanark and Renfrew; Northumberland and Durham; Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry. Some of these Counties continue united to-day but in most of them local ambition or rivalry brought the union to an end, and as a result we have a number of small Counties each with as full a staff of officials as the united Counties had.

As these unions were broken up and new Counties formed we laid the foundation for many of the difficulties that now exist. Once establish a County and give it a set of officials, it is unwilling to part with them, especially when the additional expense is largely met by the Provincial Government. The taking away of the Sheriff from any County would meet with opposition which would be difficult for any Government to overcome. In our opinion the better course and the course of least resistance would be to add to the duties of the Sheriff and thus enable him to earn enough to pay his way. If we were as intelligent as we would like to be thought, we would in a number of instances both combine counties and add to the Sheriffs' duties, and thus reduce not only the number of Sheriffs but of other County Officials as well.

Mr. E. W. Thomas, Deputy County Clerk, said to us at Hamilton:

"Any office that is not large enough to stand on its own feet should be consolidated with some other office."

Ontario Sheriff and English High Sheriff

In dealing with the office of Sheriff we must not attach fictitious importance to it. We have in the past made the mistake of putting the office of Sheriff here in the same class as the office of High Sheriff in England, which is an entirely different office. The High Sheriff in England is usually a County magnate. His office is largely an honorary one and he receives no salary. He meets the Judges in state when they come to hold the Assizes. He has a large retinue of servants. At one time he had so many servants that a law was passed prohibiting him from having more than forty men-servants in livery at any Assize. In fact the office involves an outlay rather than provides an income.

The Sheriff in Ontario with his income of $1,800 a year, cannot afford to keep any retinue whatever. Consequently in order to maintain the traditions of his "historic office" he has to perform personally the exalted offices and the lower ones. He takes few, if any, attendants with him when he goes to the station to meet the Assize Judge. He usually appears at Court dressed in special uniform and with cocked hat and sword, while behind the scenes he performs offices many of which would in England be performed by the "men servants in livery." No Ontario Sheriff should be required to array himself in this fashion. It puts him to large expense and instead of adding to the dignity of the Court provokes mirth. There may be as much true dignity in the Court of a Justice of the Peace, held amidst plain and simple surroundings as in the highest Courts of our land.

Mr. C. L. Dunbar, Barrister of Guelph, at our sittings at that place said :

"I think the Sheriff's office is an anomaly. It is an endeavour to put on our system in this new country a combination in one office of the English system, which is totally different to the system we have here. In England the office of High Sheriff is an honorary position and the Under Sheriff does the work. The Sheriff in this Province is nothing but a glorified bailiff with some ministerial duties that a clerk could perform, but instead of giving him that duty we are endeavouring to make him the same as the High Sheriff in England and that is something a Sheriff should not be asked to be, with the salary he receives,"

We are fully in accord with Mr. Dunbar's view of the Sheriff's office. We should make no attempt to put it on a similar footing, in any respect, with that of the High Sheriff in England.

Mr. Walter Haight, Crown Attorney of Parry Sound, in the evidence given by him before us, overdrew, in our opinion, his picture of the Sheriff, if intended to apply to all Sheriffs, but there is far too much truth in it. This is what Mr. Haight said :

"At present the Sheriff is just sort of between seasons; he is the survival of an ancient and honorable office, but really now-a-days he is pretty much a Judge's valet. I have seen them removing the Judge's clothing and I have been shocked, and I have no doubt he would be lacing the Judge's boots. It seems to me that the Sheriff is nothing more than a valet for the Judge. He comes down most obsequiously with a plug hat to the station in a taxi and he meets the Judge and takes his bag to the Court House and he has a little fruit and some cigars or some cigarettes on a table and he proceeds to help the Judge to dress. The Judge should have such an officer no doubt, but he should not be the Sheriff. . . . . It is a dying office now."

Various Suggestions of Additional Work for Sheriff

What additional work should be given to the Sheriff in order that he may earn a living income ; That is a question which has received the full consideration of the Commission. Various suggestions have been made. It has been suggested that he be an Assignee under the Dominion Bankruptcy Act; that he be Valuator under The Succession Duty Act; that he be Clerk of the Peace; that his office be combined wholly or partly with that of the Clerk of the County Court; that he be Division Court Clerk; that he be Issuer of Marriage Licenses; that he collect the License fees for hunting and fishing and for automobile licenses; that he be Gaoler and that he be High Constable. The movement to combine the office of Sheriff with another office has already begun. In a number of the Judicial Districts of Saskatchewan and Alberta the office has been combined with that of Clerk of the District Court.

Sheriff's Office an Executive Office

The Sheriff's office is almost wholly an executive office and in our opinion the Sheriff's duties should be of an executive character. The Legislature has already provided in Chap. 81 of the Statutes of 1914 that under certain circumstances the Sheriff may hold the office of Gaoler. Subsection 3 of Section 11 of the Chapter reads as follows :

"(3) The Sheriff may . . . . agree with the Council to act as Gaoler and for the remuneration to be allowed him for the performance of the duties of Gaoler, and in that event it shall not be necessary for the Sheriff to appoint a Gaoler, but he shall himself be ex-officio the Gaoler and shall, with such assistance as he may deem necessary, perform all the duties and be subject to all the responsibilities of the office."

The course which the Legislative has provided may be taken in certain cases should, in our opinion, be taken generally throughout the Province.

Make Sheriff Gaoler

In our opinion the offices of Sheriff and Gaoler should be combined and the Sheriff should reside in the residence provided by the County for the Gaoler. The duties of the Gaoler would fit in very well with the duties of the Sheriff. The Sheriff is now the nominal head and in many respects the actual head of the Gaol, so if we make him the actual head in all respects we are but extending his present duties rather than giving him new duties in an untried field. The present Gaolers should not be turned adrift but provision should be made for their retention, possibly as Deputy Sheriffs or Chief Turnkeys, according to the circumstances in each case. In some instances the Gaoler might be the most suitable man to appoint to the combined offices. As in nearly every County the Gaoler's residence is occupied by the present Gaoler, he should, if deprived of it, be given a compensating allowance. In some instances the Sheriff might be provided with a residence until the Gaoler's residence should be available. These are matters that would have to be adjusted as circumstances might require. Attached hereto is Schedule "C" containing list of Gaolers and salaries paid Gaolers and staffs.

Sheriff Dawson of Frontenac, in reply to our inquiry as to whether the Sheriff could perform the duties of Gaoler, said :

"I have no hesitation in saying it might be done here, although I am not seeking the position. They have been talking a great many years of building a residence for the Gaoler and that residence might become a residence for the Sheriff."

Sheriff as High Constable

Another office which might very well be combined with that of Sheriff is that of High Constable. The office of High Constable in nearly all the Counties of Ontario has been for years past but a nominal one. The High Constable is appointed by the County Council. In some Counties he receives a fair salary and performs much valuable work but in by far the larger number of the Counties he does practically nothing. The salary usually runs from $50 to $150 a year. It is given as a sort of honorarium and does not assure the performance of any active duties. As one of the High Constables stated to us, the chief duty of a High Constable, in most cases, is to see that he does not do more than earn his salary. There is great need throughout the Province for an efficient High Constable in every County who, in the event of a crime being committed, could be sent to search out all the details, secure evidence and round up the guilty parties under the direction of the Crown Attorney. Such an official would be an asset of great value to any community. He might be given supervision of all local Constables. The difficulties with which so many Crown Attorneys now meet through not having competent parties on the spot to make arrests or to investigate crime would largely, if not wholly disappear. A Sheriff filling both the office of Gaoler and the office of High Constable would become one of the most useful of public officials. He would hold, not a dying office, but an office in which he could render full, effective and much needed service to the public. The people in many a district would feel safer if they knew that there was such a man always ready to go out and round up criminals. In fact we must have such men and if we do not have Sheriffs to do the work we shall have to appoint special officers for the purpose and this would entail large expense. The office of High Constable would fit in well with his other duties. He is now the executive arm of the law in civil matters; he would then be the executive arm of the law in criminal matters as well. In some instances the High Constable might be an excellent man to fill the combined offices.

His Honor Judge Lavell in speaking to the Commission at Kingston said:

"I think the office of Sheriff has been shorn of most of its importance. . . . It seems to me that the Sheriff might be a sort of Chief of Police for the County and make it his duty to keep tab on the Constables throughout the County and make sure that they were doing their work."

Mr. W. H. Wright, K.C., of Owen Sound, said :

"I think the idea to make the Sheriff Chief Constable of the County is more in line with his duties than giving him the Clerkship of the County Court."

Mr. Walter Haight, Crown-Attorney of Parry Sound, said :

"It would be a splendid idea to make the Sheriff High Constable. . . . I think if the Sheriff had the duties of High Constable added to his position and if he were an efficient man he would fill the bill and would be a real officer."

Colonel Preston, County Court Clerk, Orangeville, speaking of the office of Sheriff, said :

"He should be made the actual head of the Gaol and if he was High Constable of the County he would have duties that would keep him busy and he could have supervision over the County Constables."

How to Bring About Changes Recommended

How may such changes as those recommended be best brought about? There is no doubt that many of the present Sheriffs, most of whom (as appears in schedule "A" to this report) are men of advanced years, are not qualified to perform the duties of Gaoler or of High Constable. Many of them, however, are men who have given up their business to take the office which they now hold. They have been appointed for life and it would be unjust to them to remove them from office if unable to perform the new duties of Gaoler and High Constable. In our opinion, however, it would be better to make the changes now than to make them as vacancies might occur. It would be much better to give a retiring allowance to each Sheriff unable to perform the work of the combined offices than that the office should continue to be a constant drain upon the Public Treasury. We recommend that all Sheriffs unable to perform the work of the combined offices be retired forthwith, the amount of retiring allowance to be fixed by a Board appointed for the purpose or in some other appropriate manner, or that they be brought under the Pension Act and superannuated. This would doubtless entail at first, the payment by the Province of a considerably larger sum than is now paid by the Province to supplement Sheriffs' incomes, but while the amount paid under the present system shows a steady increase the amount paid to the Sheriffs who might be replaced would grow less and less year by year and would cease entirely at a comparatively early date. In some instances settlement with the Sheriff might be made by payment of a lump sum. A number of the Sheriffs have told us that the office does not provide a living income and that they have to draw upon their private means for their support. Under these conditions some of them, particularly those who are not of advanced years, might be willing to give up the office without receiving any compensation whatever. We must not lose sight of the fact that not only does the Province now pay the amount required to supplement the Sheriffs' incomes, but that it pays them yearly a large sum in fees for services rendered in Criminal and other matters. In 1919 it paid to them in fees $99,513.58 and in 1920 $96,864.37, making the total paid by the Province in fees and supplementary grants in 1919 $109,925.77, and in 1920 $106,101.81. These fees it would cease to pay if the Sheriffs were placed on salary.

Importance of Training

The Sheriff should be, if possible, a man trained in Police work so that he would be able to perform efficiently the duties of the office. If without training, he should be required to take a course of instruction at some Central Training School for Police. There is a vast difference in the value to a Community between a thoroughly trained High Constable and one who is untrained.

Salary of Sheriff

The Sheriff's salary should be paid by the Province and all the fees of the office should go to the Province. The County should furnish the residence and provide for the upkeep of it to the extent that it now provides the upkeep for the Gaoler. The salaries might be fixed according to the population of the Counties and the volume of work. A salary ranging from $1,800 to say, $2,500 per annum with residence and upkeep as stated would probably be quite sufficient. The purely clerical work now done in the Sheriff's office might well be transferred to and performed by the Clerk of the County Court.

Money Saved by Change

As we have already pointed out the Province now pays to the present Sheriffs in fees approximately $100,000 per annum, it pays them in the form of supplemental grants approximately $12,000 per annum. The Sheriffs receive in fees from the public (not including the fees payable to the Sheriff of Toronto) about $67,000 per annum and in fees from Counties $35,000 per annum, all of which fees would go to the Province if the Sheriffs were placed on salary. This would mean for the Province in the form of savings or income from the office of Sheriff a total of approximately $215,000 per annum made up as follows:—

Fees now paid each year by Province to Sheriffs, say	$100,000.00
Supplementary annual grants, Province to Sheriffs, about,	12,000.00
Fees from public now paid annually to Sheriffs, about	67,000.00
Fees from Counties paid to Sheriffs per annum, about	36,000.00
Total, approximately	215,000.00

In Schedule "D" hereto are shown the sources from which the Sheriffs' fees are derived in each County. This sum would be far more than sufficient to provide for the salaries of the new Sheriffs; for the salaries of Deputy Sheriffs where Deputy Sheriffs are required; for retiring allowances for the present Sheriffs: to meet any expenditure required temporarily to provide residence for Sheriff or Gaoler and to meet also the incidental expenses of the Sheriff's office. The Counties would be relieved of the salaries which they pay to the present Gaolers and which amount in the aggregate to more than $40,000 per annum. They would also be relieved of the salaries paid to High Constables. Doubtless in some gaols, owing to the outside duties of the Sheriff, an additional turnkey would have to be appointed but the number of such gaols would not be large. In one county gaol to-day there is no gaoler and the Sheriff performs the gaoler's duties with only one turnkey. But notwithstanding the appointment of additional turnkeys, wherever required, the margin of saving from the change would still remain large and each County would have the advantage of an active and efficient High Constable as well.

Not Practicable in all Counties

This estimate includes all the Counties of the Province. It would probably be found impracticable to apply the foregoing recommendations in some of the larger centres. If, however, the items of income and cost in respect of the larger centres be eliminated, the proportion of gain to the Province through the change would remain practically the same.

Sheriffs not Responsible for Present State of Office.

We recommend that the office of Sheriff be reconstituted, not because we have found shortcomings on the part of the present holders of that office, which make such a change necessary, but because in our opinion the office as now constituted does not and cannot justify its existence. Instead of being a public asset it is a public burden.

We have found the present Sheriffs, with scarcely an exception, highminded, worthy and conscientious officials and a credit to the public service. The present condition of the office has been brought about by causes for which the present occupants are in no way responsible and which they do not control. We desire to express our deep appreciation of the many courtesies that we have received from them during our sittings throughout the Province.

Further Recommendations

While the foregoing and other recommendations do not apply to the offices of the Sheriffs of Toronto and York, and it may not be practicable to apply them to the Sheriffs of some of the larger centres throughout the Province, (in respect of which we propose to submit further recommendations at a later date) we now submit certain recommendations in respect of the offices of the Sheriffs of Toronto and York and in respect of Sheriffs' offices generally.

Effect of Division of Office of Sheriff of York.

In 1887 the office of the Sheriff of the County of York (which included the City of Toronto) was divided and since then there have been two Sheriffs, one for the City of Toronto and another for the County of York. No useful purpose has been served by the division of the office. The expenses of the two offices are considerably greater than the expenses would be if the two were combined, and the division has created inconvenience and additional expense to the public. Many parcels of land lie partly in the City and partly in the County and when a transfer of any parcel takes place, or a mortgage is given, the purchaser or mortgagor as the case may be, is put to the trouble and expense of making searches or obtaining certificates in both offices. Besides this, there is the confusion which arises from time to time owing to the numerous annexations by the City, from the County and the expense occasioned by new entries, etc. Owing to the division the amount payable to the Province under the Statute of 1912 is much less than it otherwise would have been. If the two offices had been combined in 1912, and the cost of the staff of the combined offices had been the same as the cost of the two distinct staffs has been, the additional percentage of the office receipts payable to the Province would have been larger by $57,159.30 than the sum that the Province has received. This is shown in the following table:—

Year.	Net Earnings Sheriff of Toronto	Net Earnings Sheriff of York.	Amount paid Province now.	Amt. Province would have received if offices had not been separated.
1912	$13,426 71	$6,212 17	$6,234 04	$11,824 99
1913	15,651 00	6,950 47	8,235 90	14,491 33
1914	15,743 17	7,300 22	9,039 06	14,489 05
1915	14,460 11	6,624 49	7,276 15	13,126 14
1916	12,102 76	5,820 25	5,042 49	10,280 71
1917	9,461 11	5,973 03	2,665 00	8,040 73
1918	8,553 62	6,518 80	1,865 18	7,714 18
1919	16,831 58	9,544 68	12,038 65	17,888 64
1920	18,571 16	10,933 41	14,854 12	20,704 12
1921	16,667 43	12,114 92	14,204 12	20,054 12
Total	141,468 65	77,992 44	81,454 71	138,614 01
				81,454 71
Total loss for ten years owing to division of office				57,159 30

Re-unite Offices York and Toronto

There is no doubt, however, that if the two staffs were combined the expenses would be considerably reduced, and a further saving would be effected. We recommend that the two offices be combined. The additional receipts, which the Province would receive in the event of combination would help to meet the amount required for allowances to the Sheriffs retired throughout the Province, if our recommendations should be carried into effect. The two gentlemen now holding the two offices have been appointed for life. The one retiring should receive a liberal retiring allowance or be pensioned. The continuing Sheriff and all other Sheriffs of the Province, whether the offices be combined or not, should be placed on salary.

Central Place for Executions

The Sheriffs generally object to the practice of keeping prisoners condemned to death at the common gaol and carrying the sentence into effect there. They express the opinion that all condemned prisoners immediately after sentence, should be taken to a place specially prepared for the purpose where they should stay until executed or reprieved. We strongly endorse this opinion and urge that the Dominion and Provincial Governments co-operate to construct a suitable building. The staff of the ordinary County Gaol is not composed of men who can be relied upon to take proper charge of condemned prisoners and, as experience has shown, the facilities at many gaols for caring for such prisoners are far from perfect. A secondary objection to the present system is expense of keeping men constantly on watch over the condemned prisoner.

Sheriff Westbrook of Brantford says:—"The Commission should make a recommendation as to the infliction of capital punishment. There should be a central office. It is very wrong for executions to take place in a small county town. There are at the present time five men waiting for execution in the Province of Ontario. For each one there has to be a special guard all the time. Here there are two guards for twelve hours each. Each cost $5 per day. It will cost between $800 and $900 to guard the men we have here, while in the central place one guard could watch four or five. The Province pays the whole cost. There should be an official for carrying out executions."

Exemptions from Seizure

Several of the Sheriffs have brought to our attention the present state of the law in respect of sales under Writs of Executions placed in the hands of the Sheriff and have urged that exemptions be increased. The exemptions now given are set forth in Sections 3 and 4 of Chapter 80 of The Revised Statutes of Ontario. Shortly, they provide for the exemption of (1) beds, bedding and bedsteads (including cradles) in ordinary use by the debtor and his family. (2) The necessary and ordinary wearing apparel of the debtor and his family. (3) Furniture and articles of use such as sewing machine, traps, nets not exceeding $150 in value. (4) Food for the debtor and his family not exceeding $40 in value. (5) Livestock not exceeding $100 in value in all. (6) Tools and chattels used in the debtor's occupation not exceeding $100 in value.

It is pointed out that owing to the great increase in the value of articles of the classes mentioned the exemptions are much less than they were when the law was passed.

Sheriff Mowat of Toronto, in speaking on the subject, said:—

"I would like to see the exemptions extended. There are some very trying cases."

Sheriff Humble of Kenora says:—

"I have often thought ..... that exemptions should be very much extended. I have gone to a household to make a seizure where there was a decent woman, the mother of five children and about to become the mother of another. I had to go to that house a cold day in winter. I had the writ of execution. There were only a few articles I could seize, and this woman had few comforts in life. I have felt just like a thief when I have to go to a house like that and take the things that I can seize."

Q. "And you make a nulla bona return in a case like that?"

A. "No: there will be a few chairs and a table or something like that I can seize, and I have got to comply with the law and seize them."

Q. "To what extent would you extend exemptions?"

A. "I would extend it to all household furniture outside of musical instruments. I would exempt all ordinary household furniture and clothing. In the country you would have to leave a farmer his team and a couple of cows; not to put the man out of business and let him still work his farm. If he is closed up he will never pay anybody. They have a good exemption law in Manitoba. I would make our exemptions the same as in Manitoba."

His Honor Judge Morson of Toronto says:—

"If you take into consideration the increased cost of articles $100 goes a very little way. I think that in view of the increased cost of everything the suggestion of increasing the exemptions is a very good one."

We strongly recommend a substantial increase in exemptions. Schedule "E" hereto contains a list of exemptions now given in Manitoba.

Service of Jurors

At the present time the Statute provides that jurors for the Assize Courts or for the County Courts or Sessions shall be served personally. The law provides that in the absence of the juror from home the summons may be left at his residence. Notwithstanding the provison which requires personal service, except in the case of absence from home, many jurors are now served with the summonses by registered mail.

Sheriff Dawson of Frontenac says:

"I receive $360 for serving the jury. I took a bold step and I have been summonsing my jury by registered letter. I have carried that on successfully for many years. I receive a reply from each one of the jury stating that they received the notice. I enclose a card in my letter which they return to me. The beauty of that is that you have a man's reply and if a man says he is sick, I order him to furnish me with a Doctor's Certificate, and if a man claims to be over age, I look up the Assessment Roll and get the information, and if he says he is a Postmaster, I simply ascertain that fact. I have that information beforehand because the Judges are liable to become very excited when you are calling a jury and several are absent, and I have this information to give the Judge beforehand."

Sheriff Mack said to us at Cornwall :

"I serve jurors in outlying places by registered mail and I enclose a postal card in the letter and they send it back to me acknowledging receipt. If I do not get the postal back I write to the Postmaster and find out whether the letter has been delivered. I have never had any trouble."

Sheriff McCammon said at Brockville :

"I serve the town jurors personally and all those outside are served by registered letter. The method of serving by registered mail works all right, both for the Grand and Petit Jury. . . . . We have been serving jurors by mail for about ten years and we have never had any difficulty."

Mr. Rutherford, County Clerk of Grey County, says:

"The suggestion that jurors should be served by registered letter is a good one. . . . . There is not any place in our County where a man would not receive a registered letter. In a great many instances the Postmaster will telephone the day before stating that a registered letter will be delivered the next day."

In our opinion experience has proved that jurors may be effectually served by registered letter. In many instances now, service is effected by leaving the summons at the residence of the juror in his absence and we have heard no complaint that it does not reach him. There would be still greater assurance that it would reach him if sent by registered letter. Jurors are not, as a rule, people who are here to-day and gone to-morrow, but are usually people well-known to the community and a letter to a juror would not be likely to go astray. If service were made by registered letter all the money now spent in effecting personal service, which amounts to thousands of dollars annually, would be saved except such amount as would be required for postage.

Service of Writs

At the present time the Sheriff serves Writs and other legal documents and receives for serving them mileage from his office to the place where the service is effected. If the service is made through the Sheriff he should have local deputies, say, Division Court Bailiffs, to whom the papers could be mailed for service. In some of the Northern Districts the cost of mileage, etc., in serving a single Writ not infrequently runs up to from $30 to $50. The practice of sending Writs to Constables or Bailiffs who reside near the party who is to be served, instead of sending someone out all the way from the Sheriff's office, is already followed by some of the Sheriffs.

Sheriff Humble of Kenora says :

"I appoint a Deputy in each place and send the Writs and Jury Summonses to them."

Sheriff Baker of Fort Frances says :

"I appoint a Magistrate or Notary Public my Deputy in outlying places to serve papers for me and I send Writs or Summonses to them to serve. In that case I do not get mileage from here. I merely charge postage (for myself)."

His Honor Judge Sutherland of Owen Sound, says:

"Writs should be served by a local Bailiff so as to conserve excessive cost of service."

Service by Plaintiff's Solicitor or Agent

The solicitor for a plaintiff in an action can frequently have the Writ of Summons served upon the defendant at considerably less expense than if he engaged the Sheriff to serve it. He hands it, however, to the Sheriff because he can tax against the defendant the charge for service made by the Sheriff in the event of judgment being entered against the defendant, but he cannot tax against the defendant the charge for service when service is made by anyone other than the Sheriff. This rule was apparently made in order to turn business to the Sheriff's office. It frequently operates to the disadvantage of both plaintiff and defendant for the plaintiff can frequently make the service more quickly and at less expense than if service were effected by the Sheriff and the defendant has in the end, if judgment be recovered against him, to pay more because of heavy mileage charges from the Sheriff's office. We recommend that the Plaintiff if he recovers judgment for costs, be permitted to tax the cost of service of the Writ whether served by the Sheriff or not; such cost taxed to be actual cost of service and in no event to exceed the amount that would have been taxed if service had been made by the Sheriff.

Might we not go further than we have yet gone in dispensing with personal service of legal papers by the Sheriff or by the Solicitor or agent of any party to the proceeding and adopt to a greater extent the practice of service by mail. The postmen of the city or town and the mail carrier on the rural route know the people better than anyone else and a registered letter entrusted to anyone of them is unlikely to go astray. A small extra fee would assure a receipt from the person to whom the letter was addressed or a certificate of delivery signed by the postman or rural mail carrier. To go to the expense of sending out a man to travel many miles over a route, that is covered by the mail carrier every day, to serve a single paper appears to us to be a wasteful and unnecessary practice. By direction of the Courts thousands of legal documents are now served every year by registered letter and there is an increasing tendency on the part of the courts and of the legal profession to serve documents in this manner. At various sittings throughout the Province we have made inquiry regarding this practice and have learnt of no instance where a document sent out for service by registered letter has gone astray or where wrong or injury has been done to any person through this system being followed. The practice of service by mail appears to have so far justified itself that in our opinion it might well be followed to a much greater extent than it is at present and in time be made the general rule.

Sale of Lands for School Taxes

Strong complaints were made by Sheriffs in some of the unorganized districts of the difficulties met with by them in carrying out the sale of lands for arrears of school taxes. There are many school sections in the north in districts where there is not even organization for municipal purposes and the assessment is made by an Assessor appointed for the school section. The Sheriffs state that many of these Assessors are foreigners or illiterate persons and that the description of the lands assessed is often very vaguely and incorrectly given. The result is that a Sheriff may sell the wrong property and lay himself open to an action for damages. One former Sheriff informed us that he had resigned his office rather than run the risk that was incurred in selling lands for arrears of school takes. We would suggest that no one be eligible for appointmeat as Assessor in a school section unless he can read and write and has a fair knowledge of the four rules of Arithmetic, aid that forms for the use of Assessors in making the assessments be furnished to them. If this were done the Assessors would be less likely to go astray and a list would come to the Sheriff in a much more satisfactory condition.

Co-operation in Removing Prisoners

In the Northern part of Ontario the cost of removing prisoners to the District gaol is often large. The Provincial policemen are often going backwards and forwards between the District Town and other points in the District. There should be, as far as possible, co-operation between the Provincial Police and the Sheriff. Provincial Policemen going to the District Town could frequently take to gaol prisoners who are now specially taken there by a local Constable or a Sheriff's officer and considerable expense might thus be saved.

Court Constables at Toronto

Our attention has been called to the Constables employed at Toronto to maintain order and to take charge of the prisoners on trial. It has been alleged that the number employed is far larger than is required and that the services rendered are inefficient. The statements appear to us to be well founded. The average number of Constables daily employed last year at the General Sessions of the Peace was eighteen; at the sittings of the Court of Assize the average number on duty daily was twenty. The amount paid for Constables' services was for many years $2.50 per day. In 1918 it was increased to $3.00 per day and in 1919 it was raised to $4.00 per day, which is the present rate of payment. If a Constable resides more than fifteen miles from the City Hall he receives full pay for Saturdays and Sundays, as well as for the days upon which the Court sits. Of the pay, $1.50 per day for each constable is contributed by the Province and $2.50 per day by the City and County. The County's share of this $2.50 is 12 per cent. The following statement shows the amount paid to Constables during the years 1920 and 1921 respectively for attendance at the respective Courts at Toronto:

1. General Sessions of the Peace	$11,892.60	$9,531.50
2. County Court Judges Criminal Court	1,656.00	2,644.00
3. County Court (Jury)	2,336.00	2,864.00
4. County Court (Non-Jury).....	2,616.00	3,892.00
5. Supreme Court (Non-Jury).....	2,680.00	2,384.00
6. Supreme Court, Assizes	5,547.57	7,317.75
Total	26,728.17	28,633.25

Mr. Justice Riddell, in an article written by him several years ago in which he refers to Court Constables generally, says:

"In my experience at Courts of Assize I have sometimes found the Constables sitting down, lolling in their seats, gazing out of the windows, neglecting their first duty. I have myself on more than one occasion had to rebuke constables, to insist upon their standing up and keeping their eyes open .....in a word, doing what they are paid for. Constables have sometimes resented my remarks, they sometimes are feeble and purblind, or too complaisant, but I have always said that if a man is not physically or mentally competent to do a constable's work he should not have a constable's pay. The labourer is worthy of his hire, but this is because he is a labourer, not a shirk."

Geo. B. Nicol, Marshal and Clerk of Assize, says of the constables:

"They are not trained men and I think they should be trained men and should wear some sort of uniform. They are men who do not know much about this work and there is no way of telling that they are constables."

The following is an extract from the evidence given before the Commission by Mr. F. J. Roche, Clerk of the Non-Jury Court at Toronto:

Q.—"You have constables in your Court under your observation?"

A.—"Yes."

Q.—"Complaint has been made that money is wasted in the employment of constables and that better order could be kept by half or a third of the number if they were efficient men?"

A.—"I am quite convinced that is true. A great many constables heretofore employed in the Jury Court have been no credit to the administration of Justice. They have not only been quite incompetent but they have acted disgracefully. They have sat around smoking and spitting in the corridors and around the Court-room and they talk noisily. Before the advent of prohibition some of them were notoriously drunk while in the precincts of the Court. I may say with regard to the Non-Jury Court that we have not had that trouble. We have different men altogether. We have only three constables in the Non-Jury Court now; we had four at one time. They are highly respectable and useful men and know their place and try to render good service. I think they are all efficient and I would feel sorry to see any of them dispensed with."

Q.—"Do they wear uniforms ?"

A.—"No, but I think it would be a decided improvement if they did wear a uniform. The prisoners' cell is a very dirty room adjoining my office and there are three or four constables sitting on a bench in the front part of the cell smoking and spitting there, and they perfume the whole section of the Court House in that way. One able-bodied decent-looking policeman would be far more effective than three constables, and it would be much more seemly. The constables are fairly swarming around the doors of the Jury Room when it is in session."

In our opinion the present system of employing constables for these courts is indefensible and scandalously wasteful. We are of the opinion that the work now performed by the present constables could be efficiently performed by from one-quarter to one-third the number of trained men. We recommend that an arrangement be made whereby the Toronto Police Department furnish the Sheriff with a sufficient number of trained men from the Police Force to do the work at the Courts. If this were done better order would be maintained and the cost to the public could be reduced by approximately 70 per cent.

Sheriffs' Officers in Court

There is in attendance in the Courts above mentioned as well as the constables, an officer representing the Sheriff, whose duty, it is said, is to preserve order. The following is an extract from the evidence given by Mr. Roche, Clerk of the Non-Jury Court in respect of this officer :

Q.—"Do you have the Sheriff's officer in attendance at the Non-Jury Court, as well as the Constables ?"

A.—"Yes, the Sheriff's officer is there."

Q.—"What does he do ?"

A.—"He is more ornamental than useful. It does not matter much whether he is present or not; he just simply sits there. He is not really necessary in the Non-Jury Court and I think he might be dispensed with entirely. The present Deputy who sits in the Non-Jury Court is a very amiable gentleman, but apart from that there is no other reason for having him there, and that money might be saved."

The Sheriff receives for this officer $5.00 per day, but the officer has never been called upon, so far as we can ascertain, to preserve order or perform any other service. Order can well be kept by the Clerk of the Court, the Crier and the Constables. Last year the amount paid to the Sheriffs of Toronto and York for the presence of themselves or their officers in the Toronto Courts was $4,890.00. This amount although paid in the first instance by the City of Toronto is all repaid to it by the Provincial Government and is a charge on the Provincial revenues. We regard it as money thrown away.

Sheriff's Officer at Osgoode Hall

The Sheriff is also represented by a Deputy at the Sittings of the Appellate Court at Osgoode Hall. Other Courts sit at Osgoode Hall, but the Appellate Court is the only one, except an occasional Non-Jury Court, at which a Sheriff's officer is present. From time immemorial this Deputy, who is usually a gentleman well advanced in years, has sat in the Court, but so far as we have been able to ascertain he has had nothing to do except on one occesion, some thirty odd years ago, when, so tradition runs, he laid one of his hands on the shoulder of a lawyer, who refused to sit down. More than $800 per annum is paid to the Sheriff for the services of this official in the Appellate Court. Since his Deputy laid his hand on the shoulder of the lawyer, the Sheriff, if remunerated at the same rate as now, has received from the Government in payment for the Deputy's presence in Court nearly $30,000. There are also in attendance in this Court the Registrar and the Usher, each of whom is generally better able, physically, to preserve order than the amiable and venerable deputy of the Sheriff.

A constable, very able-bodied and efficient, is always on duty at Osgoode Hall throughout the day. Some months ago an unruly suitor in one of the Courts refused to sit down when ordered to do so by the Judge. The Judge requested the Registrar to call in the Constable. He came immediately and order was restored. The order of the Judge was enforced, the dignity of the Court was maintained, and all was done as well and probably much more effectively than if one of the venerable deputies from the Sheriff's office had been there. In our opinion the dignity of the Appellate Court would not suffer if the services of this Sheriff's officer were dispensed with and the preservation of order were left, as in other Courts at Osgoode Hall, to the Court Officials and the Hall Constable, and we so recommend. The test of an office now-a-days must be its usefulness. We should get rid of obsolete forms and archaic offices.

The following is an extract from the evidence of Mr. George M. Lee, Clerk of the Weekly Court at Osgoode Hall, regarding the Sheriff's officer in the Appellate Court :

Q.—"In the Appellate Division they always have a sheriff ?"

A.—"It is unnecessary. I always laugh at him. They usually send a man up here who will have as much chance of tackling a ruffian as I would have to tackle an iron-clad."

Q.—"You think that it is unnecessary ?"

A.—"It is only necessary in this way: The Government desire to augment the Sheriffs' fees so as to make them living fees and they cannot make them so except in this way. It used to be the same in the old Divisional Courts. Now there is a Constable stationed in the Hall and if he is needed he can be called in. I have never found any difficulty in maintaining order in our Court and I sit more days in Court and sign more Orders and Judgments than any other Registrar, and we have more people in our Courts."

The evidence of Mr. J. A. McAndrew, formerly Registrar of the Appellate Court, on the same subject is as follows:

Q.—"We hear that a Sheriff's officer has been sitting in the Court of Appeal for 47 years ?

A.—"Perfectly useless, a relic of barbarism."

Q.—"All the years you were there, the Sheriff had nothing to do ?"

A.—"No, nothing."

Q—"You think he might well be dispensed with ?"

Interpleader Orders

At present if a Sheriff acting on a Writ of Execution placed in his hands against the property of a debtor seizes chattels which are claimed by some other person, he applies to the Court, by a separate solicitor for what is called an Interpleader Order directing a trial to determine if the goods belong to the debtor and are liable to seizure or not. The persons interested are the creditor on whose behalf the Sheriff makes the seizure and the person who claims ownership or an interest in the chattels. The Sheriff has no personal interest in the matter. Why then, it is urged, should the Sheriff bring in another solicitor whose bill, which is usually a substantial one, has to be paid by one or both of the contestants and a further burden placed upon them ? It has been suggested that if the chattels seized are claimed by a third party the creditor, if he disputes the claimant's rights, take out an Interpleader Order himself without the intervention of the Sheriff. The Sheriff is an officer of the Court and the Judge who makes the Order always provides in it for the Sheriff's protection. The form of an Interpleader Order is well settled and the Sheriff is as fully protected if he is not represented as if he were. The present practice is anomalous as it is not usual for an officer of the Court to be a suitor. For instance when a receiver requires instructions it is not he, but the party at whose instance he was appointed who makes the necessary application. The suggestion appears to us to be an excellent one and we recommend its adoption. The change could probably be made by amending the Rules.

In ordinary Interpleader cases the Sheriff would be quite competent to make the Interpleader Order himself. The order could be entered in the proper office of the Court and any party not satisfied with it would have the right to appeal to a Judge.

Sheriff Should Control Gaol Staff

While the Sheriff at the present time is supposed to be in charge of the gaol and to appoint the gaoler and turnkeys, in reality the appointment of the gaoler and staff has passed from the Sheriff to the Provincial Government. Being appointed by the Government they cannot be removed for incompetency or any other cause by the Sheriff who, while responsible in theory only for their appointment, is held responsible for their shortcomings. It is undesirable that such a state of affairs should exist in any public institution and most undesirable that it should exist in a gaol. The Sheriff should have the appointment of the staff with power to suspend or remove them for cause.

Sheriff Dawson of Frontenac in speaking to the Commission on this subject said :

"The Sheriff should have control of the gaoler and the turnkeys. I have no control of them; they are appointed by the local politicians and above all things the service should be relieved of that. It has been the curse all the way through. The Sheriff should appoint these officers and be responsible for them."

Col. Preston, County Court Clerk, Orangeville, in speaking on the same subject said :

"He (the Sheriff) should be the actual head of the gaol."

Superannuation of Sheriffs and Staff

If the Sheriffs are placed on salary they and their staffs should all come under the Superannuation Act. A Sheriff or any member of his staff could then be retired when he became so old as to be inefficient. Under our present system the Sheriff holds office so long as he lives and draws full pay even when unable to perform active duties. This is in effect a system of superannuation on full pay, but it is a system that works to the disadvantage of the public.

MINORITY REPORT

We fully concur in and approve all of the foregoing report except the recommendations made to merge the office of Sheriff with the offices of Gaoler and High Constable, and the reasons advanced in support thereof. We feel that such a merger would be neither in the interest of efficiency nor economy. We recommend that the name of Sheriff be continued, but that the duties of Sheriff be combined with those of the County Court Clerk, inasmuch as ninety per cent. of the Sheriff's duties, up to the present time, have been of a purely clerical character, similar to the duties, and associated with those of the County Court Clerk. The foregoing report recommends that all the clerical work at present performed by the Sheriff should be transferred to the County Court Clerk, and yet his office be continued; thus continuing two officials as at present, without any economy being effected. The system recommended by us of amalgamating the office of Sheriff and County Court Clerk is not an experiment, but has been tried with success and advantage for a number of years in the Provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta.

We maintain that if the Sheriff is made High Constable and also Gaoler, and also required to attend all the sittings of the Court, as at present, as recommended by the majority report, he cannot perform the duties of these offices without adding to his staff, or without neglecting his duties of travelling over his County as High Constable. On the other hand, the large proportion of the present Sheriffs of Ontario could not possibly perform with efficiency the duties of High Constable, and yet in their natural desire to retain their means of livelihood, would undoubtedly, make every effort to secure their own appointment to such a position. It is too much to expect that the combined influence of these Sheriffs and their local friends could be resisted by any Government, with the result that, in them, the duties of High Constable, for which they are not trained, would not be any better performed than they are at present by the equally capable County Clerks of the Province where they at present hold this dual office. The latter conditions would, therefore, be no better than the former.

It is also urged that nowhere in the Dominion of Canada are the duties of Gaoler and Police Officer combined. Needless to say, the Police Officer, with his partisan interest in securing convictions, does not make a good Gaoler after such convictions. It is neither good for the prisoner nor for the Gaoler, for the Police Officer's natural thought is punishment, while the Gaoler's ideal should be reform.

If, however, the offices of Sheriff and County Court Clerk were combined, there would be an immediate saving of one official in over forty-seven counties of the Province. There would be greater efficiency in the performance of the duties and there would be available funds for the proper remuneration of the officer holding the combined office.

Secretary and Chief Officer.

Toronto, February 20, 1922.

Report of the Ontario Board of Parole for the Year Ending October 31, 1921

Since presenting the report for the year ending October 31, 1920, the Ontario Board of Parole deeply regrets to record the death of Mr. George Y. Chown, of Kingston, one of its most valued members. Mr. Chown had deep sympathies with the offenders with whom the Board deals. He had a wide and thorough knowledge of men, and his success in the business world was chiefly owing to this and to his indefatigable industry and energy. His talents were given freely and devotedly to the prisoners of Ontario. The Board feels his loss greatly and places on record its appreciation of his fine services.

The Board consists of Mr. Hamilton Cassels, K.C., LL.D., Chairman: Mr. T. H. Preston, Colonel Noel Marshall, Mr. D. Miller, Mr. W. W. Dunlop, Mr. W. A. Evans, and His Honour Judge Coatsworth, the latter being recently appointed to take the place vacated by the death of the late Mr. G. Y. Chown. The Secretary and Chief Officer of the Board is Dr. Alfred E. Lavell.

The unemployment situation during the past year has been the gravest since the Board of Parole began its operations. It has been from the beginning the policy of the Board to parole no man unless he went definitely and directly to employment upon his release. Previously, however, it was rarely necessary to obtain a written guarantee of employment which this year has been strictly demanded in every case as an essential condition of release. In spite of this very cautious policy, a far larger number have been paroled than in any previous year.

Seven hundred and six cases in all were investigated and considered. In 206 of these cases, it was decided to take no action. 101 were recommended to the Governor-General for clemency under the Ticket-of-Leave Act. The parole of 229 was authorized. The remainder were deferred for further consideration. The increased number considered is due to the larger number in our institutions. The increase in the number paroled is due to the increase in the number of indeterminate sentences given by the Judges and Magistrates of the province; and, as the indeterminate sentence, as pointed out in our last annual report, is undoubtedly in accordance with the best modern practice in dealing with criminals, the number next year will doubtless show an increase again over that of this year.

The economic conditions have made the work of parole unusually difficult for the last twelve months. As has been said, employment is essential to parole. These conditions have prevented the parole of a few whose parole was authorized, but it is a gratifying fact that employers have been so willing to co-operate in the re-establishment of offenders that in nearly every case where it was decided to give an offender his opportunity, work was forthcoming. That this was appreciated by the paroled men is proved by the fact that out of 229 whose parole was authorized, and the 221 whose parole became actually effective, less than 20 broke parole. This shows a success of 92%, which in this most difficult year, is a much more favorable result than was expected.

The question has been raised in some quarters as to the justice of paroling men who have offended against the law to take employment when so many men, who have never been before the courts, are out of work. It is urged that if there is any work available for a paroled man, that work could be done by others who had the greater right to it.

The Board feels that there is much in this contention, and it has endeavoured to place no paroled man where the work could be done by a free man, unless the circumstances clearly justified it. Sometimes employers are willing to take a man because he is a prisoner whose reformation they believe in, and they desire to assist. In a number of cases, the conditions of the family are such that if the offender were not placed on parole so that he might support his family, the latter would be dependent upon the public, and in many cases the effect on the children's future would be exceedingly injurious. Is it not a wise step, too, to parole men who have gone wrong if thereby these will almost assuredly be placed on their feet and become an asset to the community?

It is to be regretted that, although our parole operations are so successful, prominence is given occasionally in the public press to cases of failure (which are usually those of Ticket-of-Leave men, and not of men paroled by the Ontario Board), and sometimes the items in the press are accompanied by notes implying that this is characteristic of our whole parole work. It is gratifying to observe that practically unanimously the attitude of the press is favorable. The reasons why some of our paroled men fail are easily stated. The present employment situation makes it exceedingly difficult for free men, let alone those under sentence, to be sure of retaining their positions. Occasionally our paroled men lose their positions, and a few of these have not the moral stamina to resist the temptations to break the law in order to get money. If they are caught, they are sure of food and lodging, and if they are not caught, they get the goods. The wonder is that so few yield to temptation. The fact that many of these men can present no satisfactory references makes it the more difficult for them to get employment if they lose the position to which they were sent when paroled. Another difficulty is that a large number of convicted men are without adequate training for skilled labour. The same causes of failure on parole operate as in their first fall. They have had improper home training; they lack application and thrift; they desire, without these and often without industry, to make the same money as the men who have the qualities which they lack, and though their intentions are good when they are paroled, old habits come back to them and a few of them fall again.

The success of the parole system under the Ontario Parole Act is so great, however, that the occasional failures, while regrettable, need not be given undue prominence. The great care with which the selection is made, and the strict supervision under which the paroled offenders are placed when on parole, is proving remarkably effective. Credit for the success of the work must also be given to the personnel of our various Provincial institutions, and to the facilities which are provided in these institutions for the attraction of offenders against the law to better living, and to good citizenship. Doubtless, too, in many cases after conviction, with its sobering results, training and instruction given in childhood operate in the mind of the offender towards his re-establishment. Thus the influences of the home, the school, the church, literature, and sport, are far more persistent than is sometimes thought. They are the preventive factors that are responsible for the very fine record in this Province in the matter of crime.

Too much stress can be laid upon the so-called "crime wave" of to-day. This, in some cases, gives the impression that our criminal population is of very large proportions, and that much of the work of the home, the church, the school, etc., has gone for nothing. The fact is that all these influences are so effective that only a very small fraction of one per cent. of our population in Ontario is convicted of crime. The problem of the prevention of crime must always be of greater importance than its punishment or cure, and in the end, these positive factors are bound to lessen the statistics of crime more and more. By the successful operations of our parole system, we can save many of the small number of our population who fall and are convicted. The number then left to be dealt with in our penal institutions will thus, it is confidently hoped, decrease, and eventually leave but a small burden of intra muros prisoners to be borne by the citizens of the Province.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOUR:

I herewith beg to present for your consideration the First Annual Report of the Commissioner for the Extra Mural Employment of Sentenced Persons, for the year ending October 31, 1921.

Respectfully submitted,
H. C. NIXON,
Provincial Secretary.

Toronto, February 28, 1922.

Honourable H. C. Nixon, M.P.P.,
Provincial Secretary and Registrar, Ontario.

Sir,

I have the honour to present herewith the First Annual Report of the Commissioner for the Extra Mural Employment of Sentenced Persons, for the year ending October 31, 1921.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
Alfred E. Lavell,
Commissioner.

Toronto, February 20, 1922.

Report of the Commissioner for the Extra Mural Employment of Sentenced Persons for the Year Ending October 31, 1921

The Act for the Extra Mural Employment of Persons under Sentence was passed by the Ontario Legislature and became law on May 3, 1921. Its chief provisions are as follows:

1. "The Lieutenant-Governor in Council may from time to time authorize, direct or sanction the employment on any work or duty without or beyond the limits of any goal, industrial farm, reformatory, or other place of safe custody, under the jurisdiction or control of the Province of Ontario, or any persons confined or sentenced to be imprisoned therein, or transferred thereto."

2. "All such persons shall, during such employment, be subject to the rules, regulations and discipline as are approved by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council in that behalf."

3. "The Lieutenant-Governor in Council may appoint an officer who shall have such custodial and other powers with respect to persons removed from any such goal, industrial farm, reformatory or other place of safe custody for the purpose of employment elsewhere under this Act from the time of such removal and during the period of such employment and until the return of the persons so employed to the place of safe custody or their discharge by due process of law as may be conferred and prescribed by the rules and regulations."

The rules and regulations referred to in the Act specify the responsibilities and limitations of the officer so appointed, who is called the Commissioner. The Commissioner is given power to appoint any agent to act in his behalf, but the Commissioner is responsible.

This Act is based upon and operates with the Prisons' and Reformatories' Act, Chapter 148, R.S.C., which, under identical language as that used in the Ontario Act, gives to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council the above mentioned powers in relation to the various Ontario penal institutions, excepting the penitentiary. These Dominion Statutes have hitherto been made use of by the Ontario Legislature to a limited degree only. Prisoners in jails could be employed in gangs on certain public works and their wages split between the Municipality and the Province. Inmates of Industrial Farms could be employed outside and their wages paid to their families, but it was clearly the intention that these men should remain in close proximity to and association with the institution under the Superintendent of which they were employed outside. The Act for the Extra Mural Employment of Persons under Sentence was based on, and resulted from the experience of the operation of this clause under the Industrial Farms' Act. It was resolved also to make full, instead of partial, use of the Dominion Statutes. This necessarily involved the appointment of an officer, who would take the place of the Superintendent of the Jail, Industrial Farm, Reformatory, etc., as custodian of the offender who would be given the privilege of working beyond the limits. This was necessary because it was unfair to any Superintendent to ask him to take the custody of a sentenced person who might be placed in employment quite beyond and indeed very far from his institution.

Ever since October, 1920, the Chief Officer of the Ontario Board of Parole has, with the approval of the Provincial Secretary and the Attorney General, been making sundry experiments in the direction of the measures which were afterwards passed. He did this under the provisions of the Industrial Farms' Act, but while quite sufficient scope was given by the Dominion legislation, he found that the Provincial legislation did not go sufficiently far to carry out certain operations which seemed to be clearly in the interest of justice and humanity and which were undoubtedly in harmony with public opinion in the Province of Ontario.

This report for the year ending October 31, 1921, covers the experiments conducted under the Industrial Farms' Act until May 3, 1921, as well as the operations carried on under the Extra Mural or Permit Act from that date until October 31, 1921. The Officer of the Ontario Board of Parole, having been appointed as Commissioner under the Extra Mural or Permit Act, was enabled to carry on for the full year with practically the same operations throughout.

Although over 200 cases were investigated, only 125 were recommended to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council to be given a permit under the Acts. In five of these cases the Order did not become effective, either because sufficient safeguards could not be provided, or because work was not available. Of the 120 actually given a Permit and employed "beyond the limits," one escaped, six were returned "inside the walls" for infractions of instructions given them, and one other should have been returned, but, because of the failure of an agent, was not dealt with. The remaining 112 carried out the instructions given them, were at all times under unostentatious observation and in every particular justified their selection for the privilege of Permit.

The one who escaped custody was looked upon by all whose opinion was asked, as quite safe. He had been a "trusty" at the institution in which he was confined and had proven faithful. He had a wife and child dependent upon him. Employment had been secured for him under which he earned $35.00 a week. He had only a few weeks longer to serve. In spite of this, he disappeared, leaving his dependents in the lurch, and has not since been apprehended. The other seven who failed to carry out the instructions given them were none of them trusted to any great extent. Each of these was given a Permit solely that he might support his needy family. Five out of the seven were being sent into a place of safe custody every night. All of them were under close observation. They all secured liquor, and, therefore, broke the rules laid down by the Commissioner. They were placed behind bars a few hours after offending and were not again trusted outside.

In considering the class of offenders to be recommended, certain principles were adopted, some of them from the very beginning; others learned by experience. The granting of a Permit is not a Parole. The offender is trusted merely in somewhat the same way that a "trusty" is treated at a penal institution. He is neither paroled, nor pardoned, and is at all times under the control of the Commissioner, and of any agent who may be appointed by the Commissioner to act on his behalf. It has been found, therefore, that many men could safely be given a Permit who could not have been trusted with the larger liberty of Parole or Ticket-of-Leave. Sometimes they were men who were quite unsafe to be given their freedom and who did not deserve their freedom, but their families were in such destitution that the punishment of the law was falling much more heavily upon them than upon the offender. Over half of those receiving a Permit were of this class and were sent to a place of safe custody every night from seven in the evening until six in the morning. During the day time, they earned the support of their dependents, and of themselves.

It was decided that in all cases of infraction of the Ontario Temperance Act, the advice and consent of the Ontario Board of License Commissioners would be necessary before a Permit could be applied for. The need of this is obvious. In many cases, the prison term for Breach of the Ontario Temperance Act was given as an option to a fine. In other cases, the offence was so flagrant that sometimes clemency on the part of the authorities would be accepted by the offender and the community as a sign of weakness. The Board of License Commissioners, having all the facts regarding the offence and the offender in his relation to the law, could give a most valuable opinion as to the likelihood of the offender playing the game fairly. The assent of the Commissioner of the Provincial Police was always called for to confirm the decision of the Board of License Commissioners; thus the Commissioner under the Extra Mural Permit Act had, in all liquor cases, the advantage of advice and comment of a most reliable kind.

During the initial year, no one guilty of any very grave offence was favourably considered for a Permit. Such offences as robbery, indecency, driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, and certain other crimes, seemed to reveal characteristics which would make it contrary to the public interest to have the offender given even the limited privileges of a Permit. Very few were recommended under the Act who were serving very long terms, but it is interesting to note that the only cases of failures out of the 120 were those of comparatively short-sentenced men. Another curious fact is that the eight failures out of the 120 were all married men with dependents who sorely needed their assistance. In no instance did a young offender, or a woman offender, prove false to the Commissioner. They all made most gratifying use of their opportunities, and, upon their discharge, had received such stimulus and encouragement towards good citizenship as makes it extremely unlikely that they will ever offend again.

There were numerous cases of foreigners considered. The great majority of these stood no chance whatever of Parole, especially in these days. A number of these were granted Permits, but because of the failure of many of them to understand our policy and methods, it was decided, in every case but one, to have them go into a place of safe custody at night. The one instance where this was not demanded was a young Serbian who, throughout his sentence, observed punctiliously every requirement, and of his good future there is now no doubt. The longest sentence dealt with was eighteen months, and there was only one of these tried. This was the case of a man who, with a previously clear record, broke into a store, while under the influence of liquor, and took a few rather inexpensive articles. His wife and four children were entirely dependent upon him. He had a steady position as mechanic in a large factory. Upon his conviction, his home was broken up, and his wife and family thrown upon charity. His former employer was willing to reinstate him. He has been under the care of the Commissioner now for seven months. As soon as he was granted a Permit, his home was immediately reestablished and he has most faithfully observed all the requirements.

From the outset, it was seen that the sympathy and co-operation of the Police was essential. It was, therefore, decided by your Commissioner that, in no case, would a Permit be granted against the advice of the local Chief of Police. No matter what other responsible citizens agreed to act in the Commissioner's behalf in taking custody of the sentenced person, the Chief of Police has been asked to co-operate. When this co-operation has been refused, no Permit has been granted. It is most satisfactory to be able to report that without a single exception, the cases submitted to the various Chief Constables throughout the Province have been given the most sympathetic and intelligent consideration by these gentlemen, and no approval has been withheld by any Chief, save for most convincing and satisfactory reasons. More than one case has been brought to the attention of the Commissioner by a local Chief Constable as being a proper case for a Permit, and it is confidently hoped that, as the Acts become known, and as experience increases, the provisions of the Acts will be deliberately invoked, not only by the Police, but also by Magistrates, and Judges, who, in spite of family or other hardships which they wish to relieve, desire the assured custody of certain persons for the full term of the sentence, and in whose cases they do not believe clemency should be extended.

The Commissioner has this year laboured under a number of handicaps. No financial appropriation of any kind was made for the purposes of the Acts. There was, also, lack of precedent, the field entered by this legislation being, in many respects, entirely new in the world. Personal experience had to be practically the only teacher except where the operations of parole and probation laws seemed to offer assistance. But, in spite of all these handicaps, the success, as has been noted, has been most gratifying, and the Commissioner begins next year's work with much greater confidence. Owing to the lack of any appropriations for this purpose, not only has the Commissioner performed his duties without any financial remuneration whatever, but he has been unable to pay few agents. This has been partially compensated for by the fine assistance that has been given to him by public spirited citizens, especially among whom should be mentioned Brigadier Frazer, and Captain McElheney, of the Toronto Salvation Army, who have willingly and intelligently handled cases of Jew, and Gentile, Roman Catholic, and Protestant, with fine disinterestedness, and fairness. Nevertheless, as the work advances, the occasional, and ultimately the permanent employment of paid agents, will be found essential in the interest of the public.

It is only right to state that the Commissioner has had the keenest interest and sympathetic counsel of Mr. W. W. Dunlop, Inspector of Prisons, and of the Superintendents of our various Provincial penal institutions and goal governors. It has been felt by all the officials that these Acts opened up a possible method of treatment for sentenced persons which might not only be of great importance in the future policy of this Province, but might be observed and followed by many other provinces, and countries.

One point of supreme importance is that it enables the officers of the law to deal effectively with offenders, without, at the same time, punishing the dependents. Hitherto, in many cases, wives and families have felt the weight of a prison sentence far more than has the prisoner. To overcome this, there have been, in recent years, chiefly in the United States, attempts made to pay wages to convicts for the support of their dependents, but there have been many objections to this. The chief of these objections are that the overhead expenses are so great as to make wages economically impossible, and also that when unemployment is rife, it seems unfair to supply lucrative employment to convicted men whilst free men desiring work are idly and anxiously walking the streets. In administering these Acts, the Commissioner promises and secures work for no one. This is left entirely to friends and former employers of the sentenced person, though when it is offered, it must be approved, in every respect, by the Commissioner.

As has been said, the provisions of these Acts do not provide for pardon nor clemency, nor for the parole of the prisoner. The action of the Court is in no way questioned. The sentence is not shortened. There is no doubt permitted in the mind of the offender that he is in strict custody, though to the casual observer this may not be apparent. The selection of persons for a Permit has, in every case, been a matter of most careful observation, investigation, and consultation. No favouritism has been shown, nor has any such favouritism been even alleged. As experience increases, the number of persons granted Permits will, doubtless, increase, though there is unfortunately no doubt that there will always be a fair percentage of prisoners who, not only in the interest of the public, but also of themselves, must be denied not only Parole, but also the very limited privileges allowed under a Permit. In deciding who should be granted Permits, I beg to assure you that the same caution will continue to be exercised in the future as in this initial year. Without such caution, the Acts will be a dangerous failure, but, conservatively administered, with due regard for the sanctity of the law, as well as strict justice to the prisoner and his family. they will be highly beneficial and of great value to the Province and to the Dominion.

ALFRED E. LAVELL,
Commissioner.

To His Honour Henry Cockshutt,

May it Please Your Honour:

Having been appointed by Royal Commission to inquire into, consider and report upon (amongst other things) all matters pertaining to the placing of the office of Registrar of Deeds upon the most efficient and businesslike footing, we respectfully submit the following interim report upon the advisability of uniting the four Registry Offices in the County of York under one Registrar. We propose to submit at a later date a general report upon the office of Registrar of Deeds in the whole of the Province of Ontario.

The Registry Office for the County of York was established in the year 1797. In the year 1859, what was then the City of Toronto was set apart from the County and a City Registry Office established. In the year 1868, the northerly part of the County was set apart as a separate Registry District and a Registry Office established at the Town of Newmarket. In the year 1889, the City of Toronto was divided and two Registry Offices created, one for that part of the City lying east of Spadina Avenue, and another for the part lying west. The Registry Office for the southerly part of the County of York is and always has been located in Toronto. Until a few years ago it was located on the same street as the City Registry Office and a comparatively short distance from it. Since the City Registry Office was divided in 1889 the business of the two offices has always been conducted in the same building. Originally one office was on the ground floor, the other on the floor above. Now both offices are on the same floor and adjoin each other. For convenience we shall, in this report, refer to the Registry Office for all that portion of the County of York outside the City of Toronto which is not included in the Registry Division of North York, as the County Registry Office, and to the Registry Office at Newmarket as the North York Registry Office.

The area of the City of Toronto has been extended from time to time through the annexation of the adjacent lands. In all, more than thirty annexations to the City have been made. This has necessitated the transfer from the County Registry Office to one or other, or both, of the City Registry Offices of instruments and books relating to the parts annexed. As most of the books cover not only the lands annexed but other lands still remaining in the County, a number of new books have been opened and copies made of instruments that had already been copied into the County books. Over $60,000 has been paid out by the City of Toronto alone in copying instruments relating to the annexed portions. Other expenses entailed through the annexations have doubtless amounted to a considerable sum. Should the existing Registry Offices be continued the expense incurred through future annexations would doubtless be greater than it has been in the past for the districts adjoining the City are now largely built upon and thousands of sales and mortgages of properties located in them are made yearly.

Mr. Beverly Jones whose experience as a Conveyancer has probably been greater than that of any other solictor in the City of Toronto, says:—

"I think the situation here most absurd . . . . . There is no difficulty about having one Registrar for the whole of the County of York."

Mr. Bennett, the experienced Deputy Registrar for the Registry Division of East Toronto, said in reply to a question as to why there should be three Registry Offices in York County:—

"I don't know of any particular reason. As far as it goes now they are practically one office. The East and the West are in the same building. If they were all in one building it would centralize the work . . . . . It would save in office equipment and help. When territory is annexed to the City it passes from one Registry Office to another, that involves a lot of extra work, and extra expense in copying books. There has been a lot of expense in the past in that regard. There have been thirty-three different annexations to the City of Toronto, and in each case there has to be a copy of all abstract books and index books, and instrument books, registry books and plans. One Registry Office would be a great advantage in that respect. With consolidation there would be only one Registrar and you could distribute your clerks to a better advantage, we might not require so many clerks . . . . . The clerical staffs in the East and the West are as distinct as if there were two Registry Offices."

But the expense to which the City is put as a result of the transfer of territory from one Registry Division to another is by no means all of the expense entailed by the multiplication of Registry Offices in the County of York. Many properties are partly in the City and partly in the County. In case of sale of such a property the deed has to be made out in triplicate and two sets of registration fees have to be paid; so in the case of a mortgage. When the mortgage is paid off two discharges have to be prepared and recorded. Searches have to be made and abstracts of title prepared in two offices instead of one. If a person dies owning property or holding mortgages in both the City and suburbs, as frequently happens, the Will or Letters of Administration, as the case may be, must be recorded in two or more Registry Offices instead of one. There is little doubt that the cost to which individuals have been put owing to the divisions that now exist in the County of York have amounted to more than the $60,000 which the City of Toronto has paid out for the work involved in transferring records from one office to another. It would be difficult to conceive more unsuitable boundaries between Registry Divisions than the constantly shifting lines between a rapidly growing city and its suburbs.

The business transacted in the County Registry Office has now outgrown the building in which it is carried on and if a distinct Registry Office for this Registry Division is still continued, a new building will have to be erected, or the present one substantially enlarged. We understand, in fact, that land for a new building has been secured, plans prepared and tenders called for.

The County and City respectively, receive a large proportion of the fees from the respective Registry Offices. Out of the net income from the County Registry Office and the North York Registry Office the County has received during the past three years the following sums:

	County Registry Office.	North York Registry Office.
1919	$16,839.57	$ 590.26
1920	14,223.87	719.73
1921	15,618.53	340.20
Total	$46,681.97	$1,650.19

The City has received out of the net income of the two City Registry Offices the following amounts for the years mentioned:

	Eastern Division	Western Division
1919	$26,253.84	$27,215.37
1920	24,982.79	29,385.00
1921	15,537.82	18,621.23
Total	$66,774.45	75,221.60

The amount received by both the City and County from the four Registry Offices for the past three years is:

1919	$ 70,899.04
1920	63,311.39
1921	50,117.78
Total	$184,328.21

If, however, the four offices were combined under one Registrar, the net amount received by the City and County for the past three years would have been $220,928.34, as follows:

1919	$ 80,731.26
1920	79,247.14
1921	59,749.94
Total	$219,728.34

Or $35,400.13 more than has been received.

In making up this amount we have not taken into consideration the value of the services of the Registrars of the County of York and of North York. Both these men have been working Registrars and the work done by them would have to be done by others. On the other hand we have not taken into account the saving that would be effected by uniting the staffs of the City and County Offices.

There has never been a time when the Registry Offices could so readily be united as now. There are now two vacancies: the Registrar of West Toronto and the Registrar of North York having died, and their positions not having been filled. Mr. Peter Ryan, the Registrar for East Toronto, is now 80 years of age and is at present time practically incapacitated for work. In the City Registry Office building there is ample space for the work of all the Registry Offices within the County. A large proportion of the instruments recorded in the North York Offices are received by mail, and to many having business with the office, it would be more convenient if it were located at Toronto; at the same time there is no doubt that there is a strong local sentiment in favor of retaining the Registry Office at Newmarket, and owing to the length of the County, its presence at Newmarket is a matter of public convenience to many residents of the north part of the County. We are of the opinion that this sentiment should not be disregarded; as there is now a Registry Office building at Newmarket little would be saved by bringing the records to Toronto.

We recommend that the four Registry Offices, that is, the East Toronto, West Toronto, York County and North York Registry Offices, be united under one Registrar, and that the records and staff of the York County Registry Office located on Richmond Street, Toronto, be transferred to the City Registry Offices. We recommend that the Registry Office at Newmarket be continued for the district now served by it and that a Deputy Registrar be placed in charge of it. Mr. Ryan should be retired and should receive an allowance out of the income of the office of at least $4,000 per annum for life.

Mr. Hill, the Registrar for the Registry Office of the East and West Ridings of the County of York, has acquired during his term of office a very wide knowledge of Registry Office work, and has been a most useful and obliging official. A position should be given him in the united Registry Office and liberal provision should be made for him out of the income of that office.

We have in view the making of certain recommendations in respect of Registry Office work which, if adopted, would render it imperative that the Registrar of the united offices should be a man experienced in conveyancing and the investigation of titles and skilled in the law of real property. We strongly recommend that a man possessing these qualifications be appointed.

The question as to division of the expenses and fees in the new Registry Office and the amounts that the County should contribute to the City for providing the building are matters that should be settled by representatives of the City and County. If they cannot agree, each one should appoint an arbitrator, the two arbitrators choosing a third, and the award of the majority of the arbitrators should be binding upon both parties.

The uniting of these offices will reduce expenses, promote economy and efficiency and largely increase the public revenue. It will also save the public the large amount of time and money now expended in preparing additional documents, making additional searches, and in payment of fees, all of which work and expenditure have been rendered necessary through the existing divisions.

Chairman.

REPORT
BLUE SKY LEGISLATION

History of the Legislation.

A law to regulate and control the sale of securities appears to have been first adopted in the United States in the year 1911, by the State of Kansas. It became known as "Blue Sky Legislation,"[1] which term has since been applied to all laws of that nature. The Kansas law, with modifications, has been followed in some thirty-nine States of the Union and in three Provinces of Canada.

This particular type of legislation did not, however, originate in the United States, several European countries, including Belgium, having already adopted it. In 1884 Germany passed laws limiting the sale of fraudulent securities, and France, in 1893, passed similar legislation.

In 1895, Great Britain appointed a committee of the Board of Trade to look into the question. That committee made an exhaustive study of the entire problem through a period of years. In 1900 legislation was passed placing moderate restrictions on the issue of fictitious stock. This legislation not accomplishing its purpose, committees of both Houses of Parliament again considered the problem. In 1906 the present legislation was enacted, and it is now incorporated in the Companies Consolidation Act of 1908.

During the ten years which have elapsed since the passing of the first Kansas Act, many loop-holes found by skilful promoters have been stopped, and many anticipated ones have been provided against. Notwithstanding this, a number of States still admit that their legislation is imperfect, and they are seeking amendments which they think, or hope, may be satisfactory. Time and experience will tell.

Types of Legislation.

The usual type of Blue Sky legislation gives authority to some official, Commission or Board (which I will hereafter refer to as the Commissioner) to make such investigations as he deems necessary respecting companies seeking to sell securities in the Province or State. For this purpose he is usually, and necessarily, given very wide powers. Until a company has satisfied the Commissioner, it can take no steps to sell its securities. Upon the Commissioner being satisfied, the usual method is for him to issue a certificate authorizing the company to carry on its business and sell securities. This form of regulatory legislation has been adopted, with modifications, in our Provinces of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

[1] The expression arose from a statement—attributed to various sources—that some promoters would even sell lots in the blue sky.

In 1919 the then Attorney-General of Ontario introduced a Bill on these lines, but it was withdrawn after its first reading. This is the only attempt at such legislation in this Province.

Three States of the United States—New York, New Jersey and Maryland—not following the Kansas type of legislation, have adopted, as their Blue Sky Law, a Fraud Act,[1] based on a Bill before Congress[2] which, however, may not become law. These Acts differ in detail,[1] but the principle running through all three is that when it is reported to the Attorney General of the State that fraud is being used in the sale of securities, he may take proceedings to prevent its continuance.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts has an Act which is a modification of the usual Blue Sky type of legislation, with the addition of some provisions respecting fraud.[3]

Is Legislation Desirable?

The questions which I have to answer are:

First: Is it desirable for the Province of Ontario to enact legislation of any description on this subject?

Second: If so, what description of legislation seems most likely to effectively meet the existing evils and difficulties?

Third: Can legislation be devised which will be sufficiently stringent to cover the large majority of the evils and difficulties and at the same time be so simple and reasonable in its working and effects that it will not hinder or prevent legitimate business?

I think the answer to the first question is "Yes". Reasons for this answer are given throughout this Report, but it may be noted in passing that it has been officially stated[3] that the people of the United States are being defrauded out of more than five hundred million dollars a year by the sale of worthless and fraudulent securities. Presumably Canada suffers equally in proportion. If any considerable amount of such loss to the citizen can be prevented, is not legislation desirable?

The fact that such a law is on the statute book has the effect of discouraging many illegitimate enterprises from even entering the jurisdiction.

Having in view the experience gained in those jurisdictions where laws of each type of legislation have been administered, I consider that the desired end can be obtained by (a) adopting provisions from the Blue Sky laws of different States and Provinces which are peculiarly suitable to our requirements; (b) omitting provisions which experience has shown are unworkable or unwieldly; and (c) making special provision for cases and circumstances not covered, or not sufficiently provided for, by any such existing legislation.

It is not, however, to be expected that any Act which may be framed will meet all objections. The subject, in this Province, is entirely new, and not only are new laws, and particularly a new type of law, looked upon with a natural suspicion, but conditions may exist, or may arise, which were not contemplated, although, from the information I have obtained both first-hand, and by correspondence, I am strongly of the opinion that a bare Fraud Act, such as is in force in the States of New York, New Jersey, and Maryland, is not adequate to accomplish the best results obtainable.

Necessity for Legislation.

There is no doubt but that much of the State legislation during the last two or three years was induced by the fact that dishonest promoters were coming in from Blue Sky States and commencing operations, and in self-defence those States without such legislation were compelled to pass it. Some measure of Blue Sky legislation has been passed in forty-three of the forty-eight States, so that the United States field for "easy money" promotions has been considerably limited. Three more States and another Province of Canada are now considering the adoption of such legislation. Financial papers in the Province of Quebec are urging it. Each additional Act that is passed means one more avenue partially closed to the fraudulent promoter: and one more reason will be added for having such legislation in Ontario.

We are then brought squarely to face a fact of common knowledge, viz: that unscrupulous promoters have invaded, and are now invading, this Province from jurisdictions that have legislation which has made it difficult for such promoters to work there profitably.

It would seem, therefore, that if merely as a measure of self protection, such legislation is not only advisable but is necessary.

Legislation Elsewhere.

To this end it is of the utmost importance that this Province should keep in close touch with those jurisdictions in which such legislation already exists, with a view to co-operation and for the interchange of ideas and remedies. This applies especially to those Provinces of Canada which have already adopted such legislation. The difficulties which have arisen in these Provinces are more nearly akin to our own.

The Ontario Companies Act is copied largely from the Companies Act of Great Britain, but does not include all of its provisions. When, under the British Act, a prospectus is issued it must furnish very full information, not only of earnings and assets of all companies formed, but of all promoting, underwriting, selling, and managing profits made from corporate promotions, including allotments of stock and ownership of stock. As in Ontario, the prospectus, when filed, is open to the public, and requires full disclosure of all profits made directly or indirectly from the formation of corporations, and officers must reveal fully all money made as a result of their connection with the corporation.

In Germany, the entire amount of stock authorized must be actually subscribed in good faith. Under French and German law the corporation does not enjoy corporate powers and cannot do business until the State is certain that fictitious or watered stock is not being issued.

Complete uniformity of legislation would be desirable, but it can never be expected. Human minds do not work through the same channels. Moreover, circumstances and local conditions produce divergent laws.

Effect of Legislation.

The original Blue Sky State—Kansas—after the experience of a decade, says, "The law has kept out of the State an immense amount of worthless securities. It has put some of the persistent violators in jail and has made refugees in other States of others. The law has not eliminated the sale of worthless stock, but has reduced it to a minimum." The experience of very many other States is to the same effect.[1]

The very fact that there is a law in existence aimed at the prevention of dishonest promotions, and that punishment is provided for the unscrupulous promoter, has undoubtedly had the effect of keeping out many stock-swindling schemes. Many organizations whose securities are fraudulent naturally prefer not to sell in a jurisdiction where such a law is in force rather than take the chance of having the real nature of their enterprise discovered. The 1920 Annual Report of the Securities Division of Wisconsin states that "A number of organizations of questionable character withdrew from the State after the passage of the law, without making application for a permit."

If such a law has effected these results, has it not justified its existence and made desirable its enactment generally? A species of law which has worked satisfactorily for a number of years seems sufficiently practical and practicable to be followed, subject to necessary modifications. If a law prevents even 50% of the evils aimed at, was not its enactment worth while?

In Appendices "A" and "C" will be found a resumé of some of the points emphasized by the officials of the Province or State whose duty it is to administer the law. The information so obtained has been of great value in arriving at my conclusions in this Report. The fact that many of the State laws have been on the statute book, and in force, for from five to ten years, makes of very great weight the conclusions arrived at by those States.

In the present Illinois Act,[2] advantage has evidently been taken of the experience of other States as well as the failures of its own previous laws. The result appears to be legislation capable of meeting most of the evils.

Objections to Legislation.

The chief objections which have been urged against Blue Sky Legislation are given below, and are answered as far as seems possible.

Interference with Business.

It is urged that such legislation interferes with the liberty of the subject and freedom of business. This is quite true; most legislation is subject to this objection in one form or another. Also that it burdens honest business, and hampers legitimate enterprises.

[1] See Appendix "C".
[2] See Appendix "D".

The experience of the officers administering the law in the three Provinces of Canada, and in the large majority, if not all, of the States of the United States which have such legislation, is that their Acts do not hamper legitimate enterprises, but that they enable them to do business without being under suspicion, and that even such speculative enterprises as mining, gas and oil welcome restrictions tending to keep out (a) illegitimate enterprises and stock-selling proposition of no merit, or (b) enterprises which are inadequately handled by persons without knowledge of the business. Both of these classes take away from the citizen money which would otherwise have been devoted to legitimate enterprises. Even if delay is sometimes caused, it becomes a question of the greatest good to the greatest number. In other words, an occasional legitimate enterprise may be hampered, but in the majority of cases the delay enables the Government to keep out the illegitimate and improvident ones.

Right of the State to Interfere.

The objection is raised that it is an invasion by the State of private business, an additional regulation by the State of individual enterprise, and the creation of a burdensome Commission rule.

Those who urge this view claim that when the State undertakes to regulate by legislation the sale of fraudulent securities it is entering a new field, and that there is no obligation on the State to exercise any control over the sale of those securities. Those persons fail to realize that the corporation whose securities are being controlled has been created, and the issue of its securities authorized and sanctioned, by the State.

The right of the State to interfere by legislation is summarized in a Report made in January, 1921, by a Special Commission appointed by the Governor of Massachussetts to investigate the sale of corporate securities. The Report says:

"Since the State authorizes the issuance of fictitious or watered stock, it must follow that it is the duty of the State to prevent the sale of such securities until the State itself determines that they are not fraudulent. The State creates the securities and places them in the hands of the fraudulent promoter, who in turn distributes them to the public. Any additional legislation to check the sale of fraudulent securities is nothing more or less than an effort by the State to limit the use by fraudulent promoters of the false tokens which the State itself creates."

The greatest source of deception in the issuance of fictitious stock is that it carries in its face the indication that it has been paid for in full to the corporation, and that the corporation is therefore receiving the money which the investor pays.

Expense of Administration.

It is claimed that the Government will not pay a salary which would be a sufficient inducement to one who is not only capable of administering the law effectively in connection with the investigation of companies, but who is also discreet enough to accomplish the maximum of good and the minimum of harm, and that for this reason very few of the best men will remain long in the public service, with the consequent result that the policy of the Department will change with each appointee, thus making it difficult for those dealing in securities to operate under the law.

The office will produce some income from fees, which should be credited against the cost of administration: but apart from this, the interests of the public are very considerably greater than the amount of the salary of such an official and his necessary staff. Such expense is merely a necessary incident in the cost of Government. Nebraska reports that the net cost of administering its law has been about $1,000 a month, but that "besides keeping out millions of dollars of watered stock, there was recovered for stockholders approximately $10,000,000 in securities which promoters were attempting to get away with."

A Commissioner should not be concerned only with preventing the sale of worthless stock. He will have an ancillary field of usefulness, which is worth calling attention to, namely, the assistance he will be able to render to promoters whose plans, as submitted, are improvident or inequitable. By offering constructive suggestions for changes in the plans, the proposed enterprise will not only thereby conform to the established rules and principles of the Department, but will be more likely to be a success. In short, the duty of the Commissioner will not be merely to critize and destroy, but to construct, whenever he believes that an honest attempt is being made to formulate an equitable plan of operation. The assistance given in this way should be credited against the expense of the maintenance of the Department.

Newspaper Advertisements.

It is urged that, notwithstanding such legislation, shares may be sold by means of advertisements in newspapers circulated in the Province which has such legislation, although the newspapers are published outside the Province.

It is impossible, at the present time, to prevent the entry of a newspaper containing an advertisement prohibited by the laws of the Province entered, but if the other Provinces pass the necessary legislation, this difficulty would largely be met. Further, in the Provinces and States where Blue Sky legislation is in force, the majority of the newspapers have shown themselves ready to co-operate with the Government, and have usually refused to publish advertisements of companies which the newspapers have been informed are fraudulent or "wildcat."

In Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan a newspaper is prohibited from inserting the advertisement of a company which has not passed the Commissioner, and similar provision should be made in this Province with respect to companies whose securities have been prohibited.

The Commissioner should also be required to advertise in the public press, and in other ways, the names of fraudulent companies whose so-called "securities" are being offered for sale, whether by mail, advertisement or otherwise.

Use of the Mails.

It is further urged that such legislation does not prevent shares being sold through the agency of letters or circulars sent through the mails from a Province or State in which such letters or circulars are not prohibited.

The only laws at present which touch on this point are the Criminal Code and the Post Office Act. If a Provincial authority notifies the Post Office Department that judgment has been obtained against a company for a violation of the Code, that Department will issue what they term a "fraud order"[1] whereby such company loses the privilege of the mails, and all correspondence addressed to it is returned to the senders as fraudulent, and Post Office money orders may not be issued or paid to the company. This law is, however, of comparatively little value, as it applies only after the damage has been done. Also the promoters are usually out of reach before the machinery of the law has reached them.

In the United States there is now a Bill[1] before Congress which is aimed at this difficulty. It is being strongly supported and will probably become law. Legislation similar to the above might be obtainable from the Dominion Government, with or without a precedent being set by the United States.

The sale of shares by mail or in newspapers of unauthorized companies can be largely prevented by publicity. If companies which endeavour to sell securities by mail, or through advertising, refuse to come under the jurisdiction of the Department their names should be listed, and purchasers warned by news items and otherwise that these companies have refused to conform with the law, and that their offers should be looked upon with suspicion. Experience shows that newspapers are ready and willing to co-operate.

Improper Use of Information Filed.

Objection is made to allowing the public to examine the information filed with the Commissioner by a company applying for permission to sell its securities. It is said that to do so would enable unscrupulous or interested persons to obtain private information, to the disadvantage of such company, or even that such information might be made use of by dishonest officials in the Department.

Where there is such private information, as for example, confidential details of a business, or the formula of a secret process, such information need not be made available to the public. It should be confidentially entrusted to the Commissioner personally, and duly sealed and kept by him. The Commissioner should have discretion as to what information ought to be made public, even to a shareholder of the company in question, as the latter may have purchased shares for the purpose of giving him a better opportunity to obtain the information. It may be mentioned that the special commission in England which investigated this matter, in 1895, recommended that full and accurate information regarding securities offered for sale should be kept on file with a public official and be available to the public.

Certificate—Use and Misuse.

Almost every Province and State which has Blue Sky legislation has adopted the plan of giving a certificate to a company which has passed the Commissioner. Such a certificate is evidence that the company is authorized to sell its securities in that Province or State.

Objection is taken that a certificate issued by a Government to a company is shown and used by promoters and agents when trying to sell stock: that such a certificate is, or is frequently believed by the public to be, an approval by the Government of the company or its stock: and that the public is thereby misled into the belief that the Government endorses or guarantees the investment.

[1] See Appendix "E," Denison Bill.

It is undoubtedly true that certificates, when shown, have frequently had the effect mentioned, even when the law explicitly required that every certificate, and all literature used in the sale of the stock represented by the certificate, must contain a statement to the effect that neither the Government nor the Commissioner recommends the stock in question.

It is also urged that although the certificate may be evidence of the soundness of the company at the time it was issued, the company may cease to be sound a short time afterwards, and that the certificate is then an agent of positive fraud.

It cannot be assumed that securities which were good when passed by the Commissioner have remained good. It is therefore necessary for the Government to have power, at any time, to immediately cancel the certificate and stop the sale of the securities until it is ready to continue its approval.

The State of Illinois has found a method of coping with the difficulty. When a company has "qualified", that is to say, passed the Commissioner, it is not given any written evidence of its right to sell securities, but its representative is notified, verbally, that the sale of its securities will be permitted. An entry is simultaneously made in the private records of the Commissioner of what was said to the representative and any other necessary particulars. When inquiry is made by anyone as to the right of such company to sell its securities, an affirmative answer is given, but there is nothing in writing of which the promoter or an agent can make use. This method has been in force for more than two and a half years, and is said by the Securities Department of the State to work satisfactorily.

Licensing of Brokers and Salesmen.

Opinion seems to be fairly evenly divided as to the desirability of requiring that anyone who sells securities must be registered and have a license or permit. It is even suggested that he should have a separate license for each security he sells. A number of States require brokers to have a license, while others do not. One objection made to a license is similar to the first one made to a certificate. Another objection is that many persons making occasional sales of securities in their spare time would not want to be registered, owing both to the position they occupy and the expense. Other objections also have been urged, with more or less reasonableness.

On the other hand, there are cogent practical reasons why anyone selling securities—either as broker or salesman—should be registered, whether or not he is actually given a printed license. In Massachusetts, brokers and salesmen must be registered, but no formal license is given, in order that they may not use is as an aid to fraudulent representation. Most States, however, which require registration, furnish therewith an identifying license or permit. The Massachusetts method commends itself to me as being open to less objection than any other.

A strong argument in favour of registration is that the Commissioner must first satisfy himself that the applicant is honest, and unlikely to attempt fraudulent representation. A "fly-by-night" would probably be unable to obtain a license, and he is thereby prevented from selling stock, or if he should attempt to do so he immediately becomes liable to the penalties of the Act, thus making it unnecessary to prove false representation. In the case of a broker resident in the Province, or any other person whose business consists in selling securities, the fact of regis tration makes him more careful as to the representations he makes to a prospective investor, knowing as he does that proof of misrepresentation, or the sale of securities which he knows are, or has reason to believe may be, fraudulent would cause the cancellation of his license and the consequent loss of his livelihood.

It has been suggested that applications for a license should be made by the company itself, which would then be responsible for the acts of its agents. There are, however, difficulties in the way of this plan.

Mining Industry.

Among the opponents of Blue Sky legislation are some of those interested in the sale of such speculative stocks as mining, gas and oil. The promoters of, and dealers in, these stocks are generally strongly opposed to any legislation of this nature, as they claim it will make it more difficult than it even now is to obtain capital for mining enterprises, and that the development of these important resources of the Province will thereby be hampered or prevented. The answer to these objections is the apparently unanimous experience of the States which have adopted this species of legislation. The general concensus of opinion there seems to be that such a law has not hampered, and does not hamper, legitimate enterprises, even such speculative ones as mining, gas and oil, and that not only do companies which have passed the Commissioner find a much more ready market for their securities, but that honest promoters welcome restrictions which tend to keep out fraudulent or wildcat schemes, since the money which would otherwise be squandered on the latter is, under the new law, put into legitimate enterprises, even though speculative.

Those who administer the law in the great mining States of Arizona, California, Idaho and Oregon say that the people of those States are almost unanimously in favour of Blue Sky legislation.

Owing to the importance of the mining industry in Ontario I feel it necessary to devote a somewhat large amount of space to a consideration of its requirements, and to the restrictions which should fairly be placed on it. In this connection it is convenient to combine comments on speculative enterprises generally with remarks on mining.

Every opportunity should, admittedly, be given to discover and utilize the hidden mineral resources of the Province. The business of mining, though speculative, is not only legitimate but increases the Provincial wealth, and its encouragement is desired alike by Government and citizen. If a company which proposes to sell shares to the public has a property upon which there is a reasonable prospect of the existence of a mineral deposit, and the facts respecting the company and its properties are fairly and honestly presented, and the money obtained from investors is to be properly used for the development of the property, incorporation should, with the necessary safeguards, be granted.

The expression "reasonable prospect of a mineral deposit" is not intended to mean that there will in all probability be a discovery of valuable mineral in place, but merely that, from the location of the property, its juxtaposition to other mines, or upon some other reasonable ground, the existence of a deposit is rendered probable.

In the case of a mining company it is obviously impossible for the Commissioner to be able to recognize the difference between what might ultimately become a mine and what might be a "wildcat," and the situation might alter from day to day.

It seems to me that the function of a proper Blue Sky Law, as applied to a speculative enterprise, is not to determine whether or not the enterprise is likely to be successful, or the purchaser likely to get any return on his investment, or even to see his money back; upon that he must take his chances. It should, however, be the duty of the Government to investigate the fairness of the original plan, including the financing, methods, watering of stock and payment of commissions; representations and misrepresentations, expressed or implied; to ascertain who the actual directors and managers are; and whether or not the security is fairly placed before the prospective purchaser.

When treasury stock of a mining, gas or oil company is being sold, every prospectus, advertisement, and other literature should state in definite words exactly what part of the investor's subscription is really going into the treasury of the company and will be available for the undertaking. In this connection it may be remarked that it is a common practice for promoters and salesmen to give the investor to understand that the stock they are selling is treasury stock, when as a matter of fact it is often the stock of the promoters.

Every prospectus and advertisement should clearly state whether the company actually owns the property described. The prospectus is sometimes so worded as to convey the impression that the property is actually owned by the company, when in fact it only has an option on it. Further, no securities should be allowed to be issued with respect to any property unless there has issued from the Crown a patent, lease, or license of occupation.

The prospectus should contain a short synopsis of every material contract, and not merely a reference to it. This requirement might be modified in certain cases where even a synopsis would still be voluminous, but the rule should only be relaxed at the discretion of the Commissioner.

Even the above requirements present manifold difficulties; what is applicable in one case will be quite inapplicable in another, so many elements enter into the question of what would be a fair and reasonable plan; for example, the means of access to the property, proximity to rail or water transportation, water power, size, character and grade of deposits, all have to be taken into account. Each particular application will have to be dealt with on its own merits, as it is impossible to frame rules to fit even a majority of cases.

Mining enterprises should be liberally dealt with in these respects in which it is not impossible to fulfill all the requirements of other classes of companies. This is recognized in the Manitoba and Saskatchewan Acts. There are certain requirements which are absolutely necessary in a case of a mining, gas or oil company. It must, however, be left largely, if not altogether, to the Commissioner to decide when these should not, in a given case, be exacted.

The officer administering the law must be guided by the exigencies of the particular case, at the same time following general rules as far as is reasonably possible, remembering that, although mining capital should not be hampered, the investing public is entitled to some protection.

Theodore Roosevelt, late President of the United States, described the function of the State in controlling speculation by saying, "It is the business of the State to see that every man gets a square deal."

Speculative Securities.

The common practice of stamping certain stocks as "speculative" is unsound, because it is impossible by any rule of law to determine what stocks are speculative and what are an investment. However, to require that the words, "This is a speculative security" be printed on the certificates and other material of certain speculative companies, is objectionable on two grounds, first, that the use of the word "speculative" is usually an inducement to the prospective purchaser to subscribe, most people being natural born gamblers, and secondly that it is not a "security".

Fraud Legislation.

The exponents of the principle of "fraud legislation" maintain that "fraud," in the strict acceptation of the word, is all that the State should be concerned with. It is necessary to ascertain if this position is tenable or reasonable.

The object of the State in enacting Blue Sky legislation is to prevent money being dishonestly taken from individual citizens.

It will be admitted that if a citizen has money taken from him in such a way it matters not to him whether it was taken by technical "fraud" or by unfair dealing which would not amount to fraud within the meaning of the Criminal Code; so far as he is concerned the money is lost. We must therefore enlarge the meaning of the word.

The term "fraud" should, and must, be understood to include not only misrepresentation or concealment of relevant facts, but also the obtaining of exorbitant and grossly excessive payments or commission for promotion, underwriting, managing and selling. How large such payments or commissions can be without being fraudulent, it is impossible to say by any fixed rule. The rule of reason must be applied and be so enforced by an intelligent officer.

What is a reasonable remuneration to a promoter or agent will differ according to the kinds of securities involved. If a promoter takes for his own personal profit, from the price paid by the purchaser for stock, such a large portion of that price that the corporation is insolvent, or bound to fail, before it begins to operate, such a promotion is undoubtedly fraudulent, using the word in the non-technical sense.

From the three States which have passed Fraud Acts,[1] (New York, New Jersey and Maryland), I have obtained the following information:—

The Assistant Attorney General of the State of New York, stationed in New York City as special prosecutor under the Act, says:—

"I do not think the present Fraud Act will be a success, although I intend to enforce it as far as possible. Fictitious stock sales and fraudulent misrepresentations should be 'nipped in the bud'. It is too late to do this under the present Fraud Act, which covers fraud only. It does not reach or deal with incompetent management, as does Blue Sky legislation under a Commissioner with power to investigate.

[1] See Appendix "D"

"I believe in the ordinary type of Blue Sky legislation, i. e., that full information should be obtained from promoters or dealers before they are allowed to sell securities. I consider that a Securities Commission is the proper way to deal with the situation."

In New Jersey, the Attorney General's Department states in effect, "that it will be necessary to secure additional legislation to make the law really operative and effective; that not much illegitimate stock is sold, the field being scientifically covered by brokerage houses. There is no craze for speculation and it is difficult to sell unsound promotions. Further, some of the field is already covered by a strict Public Utilities Act, which covers all such companies and can order what information shall be furnished and whether the stock may be sold. The present Act does not enable a fraud to be detected in time to prevent the mischief."

In Maryland, the Governor of the State, in an opinion prepared for him by the Attorney General, says:—

"I think that in its present form the Act will prove inadequate to accomplish substantial results. Complaints are seldom made to the Attorney General concerning any security until it has been sold and the purchaser has grown suspicious of his holding. In most instances it is then too late to protect the public, because the sale has generally been completed, and in many instances the promoters or salesmen have left the State or ceased to offer the particular security in question. It is a case of locking the stable after the horse has been stolen. I have not been thoroughly satisfied with the operation of the Maryland law, because I felt that my powers under it were too restricted, and that in many instances I was unable to reach the heart of the trouble."

The time to prevent the fraudulent promotion of companies and the sale of worthless securities is at the inception of the enterprise in the Province. Prevention is not effected by legislation which only deals with fraud, and merely punishes the wrongdoer after the harm has been done. While it is important that a wrongdoer be punished—and it is true that his punishment is of some value as a deterrent—this does not refund the money taken from the people before the offender was stopped in his course.

The President of the National Association of Securities Commissioners says that the so-called Fraud Acts are absolutely worthless from the standpoint of those who are enforcing compulsory Blue Sky laws.

The Massachusetts Commission stated that any form of Fraud Act would be inadequate to meet the situation, and gave the following reasons:

> "1. The enforcement of any legislation is more important than the enactment. Legislation which is limited to giving the Attorney-General or District Attorneys power to investigate suspicious organizations does not provide the necessary machinery for ascertaining what securities sold are fraudulent.
> "2. Legislation of the character proposed could be made effective only by an elaborate system of espionage. Otherwise by the time complaints are made to the enforcement officials, the evil would already be doue. Under such legislation, enforcing officials have no means, other than through complaints, of knowing what fraudulent securities are being sold.

"3. Such legislation starts from the wrong end, because it places the burden of ascertaining what securities are fraudulent upon the State, rather than upon the promoter and broker. It is more sensible to require the broker and the promoter to submit information to the State of what securities are being sold before they can sell such securities, than to require the State official, unaided, to ascertain this information at the State's expense.

"4. Unless efforts are made to stop the sale of fraudulent securities at the source, such a Fraud Act is subject to the same objections as apply to criminal legislation. The Fraud Act merely extends the criminal powers so as to make easier the gathering of evidence. Such legislation would not be preventive. The victim who buys a gold brick is satisfied, and does not complain, until he discovers that his brick is copper. The enforcing officials under such legislation do not hear of the sale of fraudulent securities until purchasers become dissatisfied, and by that time the harm, in great part at least, has been done. Legislation controlling the sale of fraudulent securities, to be effective should be preventive."

It would seem, then, that the evidence in favour of a Fraud Act such as is in force in New York, New Jersey, or Maryland, is not sufficiently strong to make advisable its being followed in legislation at the present time.

If, therefore, legislation is enacted in this Province it would seem advisable that it be along the lines indicated in my answer to the second question above.

Criminal Law Provisions.

The Criminal Code has provisions respecting fraud. If these were more strictly enforced a certain amount of the evil would be overcome, but the objections already outlined would still exist.

While the known existence of a Criminal statute may be a restraint, the fact still remains that the offence must be committed before the authorities can act. Further the difficulty of obtaining evidence is generally greater in cases of fraudulent misrepresentation than in other criminal offences.

The Massachusetts Commission, after considering the entire problem is strongly of the opinion that the existing criminal legislation is inadequate, and that no legislation which is directed only to punish offenders after frauds have been committed can meet the situation.

The Report of the Commission states as follows:

"1. Criminal legislation is not designed to prevent the sale of fraudulent securities except in so far as it may prove a deterrent upon promoters by reason of fear of punishment. Criminal legislation only locks the door after the horse is stolen. The fraudulent promoter has not committed a crime until people have been robbed—the attempt alone is hard to prove—and before he is arrested he has usually squandered or concealed the stolen money, or has fled from the jurisdiction.

"2. It is hard to enforce criminal legislation as effectively as the situation demands, because of the difficulty of obtaining the evidence. Brokers commonly assert that they are not responsible for the misrepresentation of their agents. In order to establish the crime of larceny it is necessary to show not only that fraudulent misrepresentations were made but that, as a result of such misrepresentations, money or other valuable consideration was obtained. The vital link between salesman and broker is difficult to establish in the usual case, because the evidence is entirely in the possession of the wrongdoer.

"3. The evidence as to the value of the property is often equally difficult to obtain, because the property is in another jurisdiction and may be thousands of miles distant.

"4. It is difficult for the State to obtain evidence sufficient to convict fraudulent promoter for crimes, because, the officials enforcing the criminal laws have no means of going to the source and checking up fraudulent securities as they are issued or before they are sold."

One of the District Attorneys testifying before the Commission said:

"As a rule, we have a great deal of difficulty in indicting and convicting people promoting fraudulent sales of stock, because they usually hide behind the skirts of agents who make the false representations.

"The agents frequently work for commission, are irresponsible people, and make all sorts of representations to prospective buyers. Usually their subscription papers contain some clause to the effect that the corporation is not liable for oral representations made by agents, etc. When we go to find the agents, they have usually departed to some other part of the universe. The net result is that we find it very difficult to pin anything on the parties promoting the proposition, who claim that they had no knowledge of the misrepresentations of their agents and did not sanction them."

Enforcement of Legislation.

A large amount of discretion must be vested in the enforcing authorities, and the penalties must be sufficiently drastic to impress violators of the law.

It might be remarked that no little of the evil in connection with company promotion has arisen by reason of the fact that the Department administering the Ontario Companies Act is not required by the Act to ascertain whether the large majority of the essential requirements of a prospectus have been fulfilled by the promoters. The Act does not even require that such essential information should be given under oath. It is true that when the Department is aware of any failure to comply with any requirement, attention is called to it, and prosecutions occasionally take place, but the latter are intermittent only, and not sufficiently frequent to deter the fraudulent promoter. Also, the penalty provided by the Act for its infraction is entirely inadequate. Provision should be made for the enforcement of the prospectus sections of the Ontario Companies Act, or else the sections should be repealed altogether and placed in a Blue Sky Act. In so doing, however, very many amendments would require to be made, as many of the present requirements are obsolete and useless and much necessary information is not asked for.

On the question of the enforcing authority, it is important for us to avoid what has happened in several of the States. In the jurisdictions referred to, the enforcement of the law is delegated to County Attorneys, or in some cases it is tacked on to the Attorney-General's Department. Neither of these methods has been very successful, and in at least one instance it has utterly failed. In the case of the County Attorneys there does not appear to be any special enthusiasm shown in the enforcement; and where the Attorney-General's Department has been charged with the duty, its enforcement has not been pressed owing to criminal and other matters, seemingly more urgent, which are calling the attention of an already greatly overloaded Department of Government.

Blue Sky laws are most successfully enforced where the duty is specially charged upon some officer or Board, it being then a matter of particular interest to obtain results and justify the Act which they are administering.

Publicity.

A very important factor in the success of the Blue Sky Laws is the amount of publicity given them, and the attention called to the stringency of the provisions of the law. The success of the original Kansas law was undoubtedly largely due to the persistent and extensive advertising campaign carried on in that State, coupled with the uniform support given by newspapers of standing, both there and elsewhere. Many Blue Sky promoters finding that the way of the transgressor was hard, packed their tents and quietly stole away to pastures new.

The publicity which newspapers are able to give to fraudulent or doubtful promotions is no small factor in preventing the public from investing in worthless shares. One Toronto weekly paper, through its financial section, has done very great service in calling attention to this class of promotions, and while the voluntary information given in this way may occasionally err on the side of condemning propositions which may subsequently turn out to be meritorious, nevertheless the general result has been to save very many dollars to would-be investors.

If more publicity were required with regard to the prospectus and the plans of operation of new companies, the public would largely become accustomed to expect, and would therefore demand, more information than at present it occurs to them to ask for. This can be accomplished through the medium of the public press, whose interest and co-operation should be obtained and retained.

Co-operation.

The Government departments, banks, stock exchanges, brokers and others who might have opportunities for knowledge should be asked to co-operate with the Commissioner and inform him immediately of all new issues being offered and all new companies believed to be operating in the Province.

In New York State a committee has been formed from certain representative bodies, such as the American Bankers' Association, the Investment Bankers' Association, the Merchants' Association and others, for the purpose of having its members and agents, and also the branch banks throughout the State, report to this committee, which in turn hands over to the Attorney-General of the State all information received with respect to the sale of securities which appear to be fraudulent or worthless. In the State of Maryland there is a similar group of associations, and the results of their work are said to have been very successful.

International Clearing House.

If this Province should pass legislation I trust that effect will be given to a suggestion I made to the Regina conference, that there be established, as a branch of every Securities Department, an Interprovincial and International Securities Clearing House. By means of this, the existence and operation of fraudulent and wildcat promotions would be communicated from one jurisdiction to another, thereby enabling each jurisdiction to be prepared for them, and thus often preventing even a commencement of their operations. The various State Commissions would, I am confident, endorse and join such an organization.

Regina Conference.

At Regina I attended, as your representative, a conference of the Commissioners and Boards administering the law in the Provinces of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, and I was given the privileges of a full member of the conference in order that I might take part in the discussion. Difficulties encountered in these three Provinces were given very full consideration, and uniformity of action was arrived at wherever possible. A report of the proceedings has already been made to you.

The importance of the Conference and the value of its results cannot be over-estimated. The information which I obtained there has had a material bearing in several particulars on my conclusions in this Report, as conditions in those Provinces are very similar to our own. The volume of their operation, is, however, not so large as in Ontario, nor is their actual experience as great as in several of the States, and consequently is not of quite equal value. Moreover, the extent of mining operations, other than gas and oil, is very small.

United States Investigation.

As instructed by you I visited several States of the United States to examine the working and measure of success of their Blue Sky laws. The States selected for this purpose were representative of the two principal types of this legislation.

The State of Illinois has, probably, the most comprehensive and up-to-date law of the regulatory type.[1] Passed first in 1919, after careful consideration of the laws of other States, their Act was very considerably amended in 1921. A leading investment banker of Chicago, who is a strong opponent of this legislation, admitted to me that it was the best Act of its type in the United States. My experience of its scope and successful working, as well as the carefulness and thoroughness of its drafting, has led me to recommend many of these provisions for a Bill for this Province. I would however suggest a somewhat simpler form which, if passed, could be subsequently amended to meet the more unusual circumstances if and when they arise.

Passing on to those States which are among the exponents of fraud legislation, I interviewed the Assistant Attorney-General of the States of New Jersey and New York. Some of the statements made by these State officers have been given above.[2] I also interviewed, at Chicago and New York, a number of investment bankers, brokers, corporation attorneys and others who are in favour of fraud legislation, and from whom I received much valuable information as to the difficulties they met with in complying with the law.

[1] See Appendix "D" 3.

[2] See ante, p. 17, "Fraud Legislation," and also pp. 36, 37.

It is my duty as well as my pleasure to acknowledge the invariable courtesy I received in the United States from all those with whom I came in contact in my search for information.

Interviews and Correspondence.

In investigating this subject I have sought to obtain the views of persons and bodies representing every interest that might be affected by, or interested in, any legislation which might be introduced in the legislature of this Province. It has been my duty to make the most thorough and searching investigation into the whole question, and to consider it from every point of view. The opinions obtained from some interests affected are diametrically opposed to those of other interests, but I have endeavoured to sift and weigh every argument advanced for and against every point which may probably be suggested for legislative enactment.

I have been in communication with the various States of the United States, receiving replies either from the Commissioner administering their Act or from the Attorney-General or Secretary of State.[1]

In Canada, I have corresponded with all the Provinces to ascertain what legislation they had[2] which even remotely touched upon the subject, and have obtained much information from the three Provinces which alone have Blue Sky laws, viz: Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

I have had interviews with the President or other officer or representative of the Canadian Bankers' Association, the Investment Bankers' Association of America, the Toronto Stock Exchange, the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange, the Bond Dealers' Association of Canada, the Ontario Mining Association, the Toronto Board of Trade, and other bodies, and I have had correspondence with Boards of Trade in those cities of our own Provinces which have Blue Sky legislation.[2]

Further valuable information has been obtained from County Attorneys, corporation lawyers, mining men and, last but not least, individuals who have suffered loss through methods which it is hoped legislation will largely prevent in the future.

Proposed Legislation.

From the divergent views expressed by the laws of the various legislatures, it has been necessary to decide which ones seemed most fair and reasonable as a basis for a law of a kind which, as yet, has been untried in this Province.

I consider advisable a modified form of the existing types of legislation, in part along some lines of the Massachussetts Act; in part the plan of the Illinois Act; and in part provisions from other legislation. In each case, however, the procedure should be simplified, and provisions which do not appear to be indispensable should be omitted. In drafting a Bill there should be kept in mind the actual and practical experience of Provinces and States which have encountered most of the difficulties and have tried, with a greater or lesser degree of success, to meet them.

[1] See Appendix "B".
[2] See Appendix "A".

No law has ever been framed to which many objections have not been or might not be taken, and legislation restricting in any manner the unfettered sale of stock is likely, from its very nature, to meet with no little opposition.

There will be submitted for your consideration a draft Bill based on my investigations and embodying many of the conclusions and suggestions made in this Report. From this draft, with the addition or substitution of such provisions as you may deem advisable to meet conditions in this Province, it may be reasonably anticipated that legislation can be framed that will aid materially in preventing an evil which is now rapidly increasing.

Summary.

What I have stated with regard to conditions and legislation on the North American continent will indicate very clearly the trend of thought and action in the matter of preventing the fraudulent or incompetent company promoter from obtaining immense sums of money from the public. The money so obtained in Ontario, with which we are at present concerned, being usually withdrawn from the Province is not only diverted from, but is actually lost to, legitimate business in the Province, and to a large extent is lost to the productive industries of Canada.

It will be evident from the review above given, that the subject is a most difficult one to deal with. That any Bill suggested will give anything approaching unanimous satisfaction is not to be expected; the interests concerned are divergent, and often as far apart as the poles.

No legislation can entirely prevent the activities of the dishonest promoter, nor can it eliminate the hazards of speculative investments. It is impossible to teach discrimination to prospective investors. They must continue to be allowed to exercise their own discretion as to the character of the enterprises into which they put their money, and as to the probability of success or failure arising from causes other than fraudulent or obviously improvident financing. The chief object to be attained by legislative regulation is the elimination of false or misleading statements and the promulgation of reliable information, so that an investor with normal mental capacity may exercise the business judgment which he possesses.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATION—CANADA

AND

REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF THE LAWS

The only Provinces of Canada which have Blue Sky laws are Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

The general type of Act is the same in each of these Provinces, namely a form of regulatory law. The Acts are based on a modified form of the Kansas Act.

The paragraphs within quotation marks below are, unless otherwise stated, the words of, or are an epitome of the wording used by, the Commissioner or Board administering the Act.

ALBERTA.

The Sale of Shares Act, passed April 1916; last amended, 1918. The Act is administered by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

"There has been little complaint about the Act interfering with legitimate enterprise. As a rule it has been accepted by the public in good part. It has not hampered the development of oil or mining enterprises, although it has eliminated wild-catting in this field to a very large extent.

"A company applying for permission to sell shares must satisfy the Board as to the bona fides of the enterprise; that the company has a reasonable chance of success; and that the subscribers will have a fair run for their money.

"In the case of a mining company the Board requires a report by a competent engineer or, if a mere prospect, possibly a report by a geologist. The Board may also require a report by an engineer or geologist of its own selection.

"Promoters are frequently required to put up substantial financial assistance themselves. Promoters or vendors' stock must be put in escrow until the company proves its claims. Extravagant commissions are not allowed.

"The minimum subscription upon which a company proceeds to allotment must be a substantial one. Experience has shown that many companies never obtain anything like sufficient to begin operations, and upon winding-up proceedings the proceeds of the stock subscribed is eaten up in costs, commissions, and other expenses.

"One of the weaknesses of any Sale of Shares Act is the issuance of a certificate. The public seems to take it for granted that there is some guarantee as to the safety of the investment once the Board grants a certificate, and this idea is no doubt encouraged by the agents who sell the shares, and the investor then claims that he invested on the strength of the Board's certificate."

The Advisory Committee of the Edmonton Board of Trade states: "It is the general opinion of the business men of this Province that this law has had a most wholesome effect in the Province. The attitude of the business men here is to strengthen the position of the Board by removing all doubts as to its power and jurisdiction: that is there should be no doubt as to what power it exercises."

British Columbia.

This Province has no Blue Sky legislation, but is now considering its adoption.

The Companies Act, ss. 31 to 36, s. 83, ss. 90 to 92, and ss. 143 and 162 have stringent provisions respecting the organization of companies; regulating the sale of shares, prospectus, applications for registration of extra-Provincial companies, and sales of shares in extra-Provincial companies.

Manitoba.

The Sale of Shares Act, passed 1912; last amended 1920.

The Act is administered by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners. (one commissioner.)

"Our records of applications refused are ample justification for the statement that the Act has been successful, and of immense value in protecting the public. The Act is so elastic that no legitimate enterprise is hampered by undue restrictions.

"New companies which are unable to obtain the ordinary certificate have sufficient latitude under s. 5 for organization purposes and for the solicitation of capital from those looking for such investments.

"Mining vendors are allowed to go to the public, provided that the moneys are expended, through a trustee, in the development of the property. This provision, however, applies only to companies whose undertakings are within the Province."

The Winnipeg Board of Trade states: "The Act is working very satisfactorily, and we believe it has saved hundreds of thousands of dollars to the citizens of our Province. The Commissioner scrutinizes every stock issue that is offered to the people, and before the promoters are allowed to sell the stock, they must present sufficient evidence that they are a first class organization. The Commissioner must be satisfied that the money will be properly handled and placed in a trust company before it is expended by the promoters. We could safely recommend this system for the Province of Ontario."

New Brunswick.

This Province has no law directly governing the sale of securities.

Nova Scotia

This Province has no law restricting the sale of securities.

In 1914 a Bill respecting the sale of stocks and bonds was introduced in the Legislature, but did not become law.

Prince Edward Island

This Province has no Blue Sky legislation.

The Taxation Act, 1920, s. 120, s-ss 17 to 19, imposes a tax of $150 on every non-resident selling, or soliciting for the sale of, the stock of any company or association, incorporated or not, whose head office is not within the Province.

Stock brokers must pay a tax of from $150 to $200 if engaged in buying, selling or attempting to sell stock.

Persons engaged in the buying, selling or canvassing for the sale of stock, etc., of any corporation (except municipal or banking corporations) must furnish such information as may be required by the Provincial Treasurer.

QUEBEC

This Province has no Blue Sky legislation.

SASKATCHEWAN.

The Sale of Shares Act, passed 1920, not since amended.

The Act is administered by the Local Government Board, consisting of three members.

"The Act has been found satisfactory, and no material amendments are desired. The Board has worked harmoniously with promoters, even where incorporation has been refused, or it has been necessary for the Board to require the entire plan to be changed.

"A company whose object is the development of mines or other natural resources, and whose undertaking has not been developed so that it is known that a fair return is promised upon its shares, etc. so as to justify the ordinary certificate being issued, may apply for a special certificate permitting it to offer the shares to the public.

"The Board refuses applications of organizations with no real assets, or an undertaking which would not afford even an opportunity to the prospective shareholders, and which, moreover, had given so much of its stock as a bonus to the promoters that it would be so heavily burdened from the outset, as to make it almost impossible to give a fair return on the shares.

"The proceeds of all sales of unissued stock must be paid to an approved trustee, less a commission for sale of the stock and an allowance for expenses, and the net proceeds must be applied only to the development or operation of the undertaking.

"A shareholder may sell any of his shares personally, or through agents, or upon any stock exchange."

The Regina Board of Trade states that the Act "has, in the opinion of this Board, worked out quite satisfactorily, and has had the effect of safeguarding the public from the evils of wild-cat operators. As far as we can learn, the Act has not proven a hindrance to any legitimate business."

APPENDIX "B"

UNITED STATES LEGISLATION.

Federal Legislation.

There is, at present, no Federal Blue Sky law in the United States, but pending in the present Congress are two Bills [1] intended to supplement State legislation where such legislation exists.

State Legislation.

The three main types of State legislation are given below. Particulars of those will be found in Appendix "D."

Fraud Acts.

Maryland, New Jersey and New York have what may be termed a "Fraud Act," [2] i.e., as soon as fraud is believed to exist, proceedings are taken to stop it.

Semi-Fraud Act.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts has an Act [2] which is a modification of the regulatory type of Blue Sky legislation, with some provisions respecting fraud.

Regulatory Legislation.

The remaining States (other than those below mentioned) have an Act based on the principle of investigating securities before they are offered for sale. The Acts vary in matter, form and stringency.

No Legislation.

The States of Colorado, Delaware, Nevada, Pennsylvania and Washington and the District of Columbia have no Blue Sky legislation.

Dates of Acts.

The year in which the first Blue Sky law was passed in each State, and also the date of the last amendment, will be found in Appendix "C," in the first paragraph under each State heading.

REPORTS FROM STATE OFFICERS, UNITED STATES

Note: The statements within quotation marks below are in the words of, or are an epitome of the wording used by, an Executive Officer of the State—either the Attorney General or the official administering the Act.

Alabama

Blue Sky Law, passed 1918, amended 1920. "An Act to prevent frauds and impositions upon the people of the State, and to protect investors."

"I consider the Alabama law the most effective of any, after careful study of the law of every State.

"Blue Sky legislation does not hamper legitimate business but is a material aid to it, even such speculative enterprise as mining, etc., as it eliminates the competition of fraudulent schemes and thereby gives a legitimate speculative enterprise more of an opportunity to legitimately finance itself."

Arizona

Blue Sky Law; Revised Statutes, 1913; last amendment, 1921.

"The Dealers in Securities Law, 1921, brought under the authority of the Commission those who had been evading the law by selling stocks within the State, claiming they were owned by them as individuals, and being thus owned did not come under the Blue Sky Law.

"In the case of mining and oil companies, where the promoters pay themselves for the property and for services rendered by issuing to themselves a large portion of the capital stock, the Commission required that such property and services combined shall not be of a greater value than 50% of the entire capital. Such stock must be pooled and placed in escrow, pending further orders, and while so held the shares cannot be offered for sale or transferred, or any receipt or pool certificate representing the stock offered for sale or transferred without the consent of the Commission. This is to keep stock so issued from competing with Treasury stock being sold by the company in order to finance the enterprise.

"These Acts have not hampered mining, gas and oil companies, and the effect has been to assist them in the disposal of the securities."

Arkansas

"Investment Act," passed 1913; last amended 1921.

"The operation of the law has gone a long way to relieve against the evil. The Act is concerned only with the integrity of securities, the matter of local development not being considered."

California.

"Corporate Securities Act," passed 1917, last amended July 1921.

"The law has been eminently successful, and appears to contain all provisions necessary for the successful curbing of illegitimate concerns.

"The sale of shares by mail or advertising in newspapers has been largely prevented by publicity. When companies endeavouring to sell securities by mail or through advertising refuse to come under the jurisdiction of the Department, we list their names and warn purchasers by news items stating that those companies refused to come under our jurisdiction, and that their offers should be looked upon with suspicion. The newspapers have given entire support.

"The Act does not hamper legitimate enterprises, but encourages legitimate business by removing the competition of the illegitimate. A legitimate business welcomes the regulation and supervision of the Department."

Connecticut

"An Act concerning false statements of the value of stocks, bonds and other property," passed July 1921, and "An Act concerning the sale of certain securities," passed July 1921.

Applies only to mining and oil companies. "Has worked out satisfactorily so far."

Colorado

No law regulating the sale of stock or securities.

Delaware

No law regulating the sale of securities. General Corporations law only.

Florida

Blue Sky law, Revised Statutes 1920.

"Law not broad enough to cover persons operating under declarations of trust and the like. The Statute has not sufficient teeth to it. It does not hamper legitimate enterprises but should give more security to the prospective investor."

Georgia

Blue Sky Law passed 1913; superseded by "The Georgia Securities Law," passed 1920.

"The 1920 Act has saved the people a large sum of money. The law has not hampered legitimate business in any respect."

Iowa

Blue Sky law, passed 1913: this was declared unconstitutional and a new Act passed 1915. This was last amended July 1921.

The Act does not apply to Iowa corporations whose authorized capital stock, together with other outstanding securities, does not exceed $50,000.

Indiana

"Securities Act," passed 1920; amended March, 1921.

"Generally speaking its operation has been beneficial, but there are certain weaknesses in details which ought to be corrected. The law should make it necessary that the plan give the prospective investor at least a fair chance to realize upon his investment."

Illinois

Blue Sky law, passed 1919, amended June 1921.

"Great good has been accomplished by the law, which is working satisfactorily."

$100,000,000 annually of undesirable securities have been excluded, and it is believed that an equal or greater amount of worthless and fraudulent securities never attempt to qualify.

"The Kansas plan of issuing a certificate which might be shown and used by agents in making sales of stock, was abandoned because persons were induced to purchase stock on the strength of such certificates issued by the State, rather than upon the basis of the merit of the company and its securities. No written evidence of the right of the company to sell securities is issued, but the applicants are notified in person or by telephone.

"The Department puts no undue restrictions on mining, gas and oil companies.

"Every dealer in securities should be registered, with power in the Commission to revoke such registration. Before a dealer is registered the Commission should entirely satisfy itself that he fulfils all proper requirements. A distinction should be made between a "dealer" and an "agent." An agent should be registered if his principal resides outside the State, otherwise the principal only should be registered. A dealer should be required to list with the Commission all exempted securities which he proposes to sell, together with his claim of classification and reasons for exemption. The Commission may require further proof to establish such exemption.

"The Commission should have power to determine the wording to be used on subscription forms. The wording might vary in different cases.

"The expression 'Qualification of Securities' (S.14) does not mean 'Approval of Securities.' The Illinois Securities Commission never 'approves.'

"Illegitimate offerings (i.e. in which investigation turns out to have been necessary) are about 50% of the total of the securities offered for qualification. Of the total of illegitimate offerings from 30% to 40% are rejected upon investigation. Of the total offerings investigated, more than half are improved by reason of the suggestions or requirements of the Commission."

Idaho

Blue Sky law, passed 1913; last amended 1921.

"The law is a success if properly enforced. Owing to lack of funds for enforcing the law, salesmen and promoters from other States are able to slip in, sell a block of securities and get away.

"Amendments are desired to allow the Department to make such requirements and regulations as would best fit each case, and particularly the following:—

"Promissory notes taken in payment of stock subscriptions should be made non-negotiable, thereby enabling the maker of the note avail himself of any defense against the collection of the note which he may have on account of misrepresentation or fraud on the part of the company or agent selling the stock.

"Stock issued to promoters for patent rights, leases, etc., should be placed in escrow with the Department until the concern is on a paying basis, or until the Department sees fit to release it.

"It is advisable to require concerns selling stock, to make a statement of the amount of money necessary to be raised to finance what they propose to undertake, and to require that the proceeds from such sales be deposited in escrow in a bank, less a reasonable selling commission, until the full amount necessary to be raised has been deposited. An escrow agreement is drawn up between the company and the Department. The money deposited to be held subject to its release and the Department, and then only when the stipulated amount has been raised and the Department is satisfied the amount is sufficient to carry out the proposed plans, and that it will be used for such purpose. A definite length of time is stipulated in the agreement in which to raise the required amount.

"The law is beneficial to legitimate enterprises, even though highly speculative, such as mining, gas and oil. Legitimate concerns are glad to comply with the law and welcome supervision. A man buying oil stock for the purpose of drilling for oil generally realizes that he is making a hazardous investment, and does not complain when he realizes nothing from it, if he feels his money has been legitimately used."

Kansas

Blue Sky law, passed 1911; last amended 1919.

"The law has kept out of the State an immense amount of worthless securities. It has put some of the persistent violaters in jail and has made refugees in other States of others. The law has not eliminated the sale of worthless stock but has reduced it to a minimum.

"The State has now fewer salesmen of worthless securities than it has had for many years.

"The weak spot is in the enforcement of the Act. We are relying largely on the County Attorneys to prosecute violations."

Kentucky

Blue Sky law passed 1920.

"The law has been of inestimable value in preventing the sale of various fraudulent stocks. In the past few months there has scarely been an application for authority to sell securities, that was not of merit.

"The worst obstacle is foreign companies having use of the mails to sell stock.

"The law has not hampered speculative issues of stock but has only had the effect of forcing a promoter to make truthful statements relative to the securities he offers for sale."

Louisiana

Blue Sky law, passed 1920.

"Legitimate business has not been hampered, but has been benefited."

Mississippi

Blue Sky Law, passed 1916, amended 1920.

A number of letters written to the Secretary of State and the Attorney General of this State have failed to elicit any reply. Consequently it is impossible to give any information respecting the working and success, or otherwise, of the Blue Sky law of this State.

The Act is similar to that of Texas. It is administered by the Secretary of State. Before engaging in any effective transaction certain information must be filed.

A bond of from $1,000 to $100,000 must be filed before a permit is granted. A permit is granted if it is decided that the "sale of the stock will be fairly and honestly conducted. There is no express preservation against dealing in affected securities after filing the required information and receiving a permit. Promotion expenses are limited.

Massachusetts

Blue Sky law, passed August 1921.

"Law too recent to have produced results."

Maryland

Fraud Act, passed 1920. The Act is modelled upon the Volstead Bill now pending in Congress (See Appendix "E").

"It is to soon to test the efficacy of the law. In its present form it is inadequate to accomplish substantial results.

"Complaints are seldom made to the Attorney-General until the security has been sold and the purchaser has grown suspicious of his holding. Usually it is then too late to protect the public, and the promoters or salesmen have left the State or ceased to offer that particular security. In some cases, persons to whom questionaires were mailed, immediately put a stop to the particular operation concerning whose legality doubt had arisen.

"Bankers and brokers were responsible for the passage of the law, and have formed an organization to assist the Attorney-General in administering it."

Minnesota

Securities Law, passed 1917; last amended, 1921.

"The sale of much worthless fraudulent securities has been prevented. A number of violaters of the law have been arrested and convicted and many unscrupulous stock salesmen have left the State.

"The operation of the law has interfered so little with legitimate business as to make its effect negligible. The sale of speculative securities has not been interfered with where the personnel of the management of the company is satisfactory, and there appears to be a reasonable prospect of success, and the investor is fully advised as to the conditions."

Maine

Blue Sky Law, passed 1913; last amended, 1919, when the power of the Department was greatly strengthened.

"The Act is of great practical value, and sufficiently flexible to meet the primary evils.

"The law does not hamper legitimate enterprise, no matter how speculative. The objection to such legislation as affecting speculative enterprise is usually that the latter are financed and promoted through more or less unfair methods which create a 'ground floor' for the benefit of a favoured few."

Montana

Investment law, passed 1913.

"A Bill introduced last session, patterned after the Ohio and Kansas law, developed such opposition from the oil operators that it failed to pass.

"The Investment Act has been successful to some extent in controlling the sale of questionable securities; its limited success appears to be because the Act exempts corporations which have two-thirds of their assets located within the State, and the Department, therefore, has no control over domestic companies. Amendment is desired to make the Act apply to all companies.

"The law has not hampered legitimate enterprises, which welcome State supervision; but licensed companies find it difficult to secure stock salesmen, as most men engaged in this business prefer to sell stock without having to secure a license and make a report of their activities."

Missouri.

Blue Sky Law, passed 1913, not since amended.

"The law has rendered a substantial public service, although no adequate provision is made by the Act for its administration, and no provision for its enforcement. No particular official is charged with the responsibility of enforcing it, and violations are therefore general.

"The administration of the Act should be vested in a commission of three men who should have full power to investigate the operations of all persons dealing in securities, etc."

Michigan.

Blue Sky Law, passed 1915; last amended May 1921.

The following statements are made by the Executive Officer of the Michigan Securities Commission, who is also president of the National Association of Securities Commissioners, and, as such, is in touch with Blue Sky legislation in the various States:—

"That the law is working well is admitted even by those who opposed its passage. It has been conservatively estimated by those actually operating in the financial business that the law has saved the people of the State many millions of dollars in spurious stocks and other securities.

"The cry that the law has harmed legitimate business has been used, particularly by people we have turned down. In most instances the business they represented turned out to be illegitimate business. On this point I refer to any banker in the State.

"From the standpoint of those who are enforcing compulsory Blue Sky laws we look upon so-called "Fraud Acts" as absolutely worthless."

[As to capitalization and percentage allowed salesmen, see "Columbia News and Courier," September 19th, 1921.]

New Hampshire.

Blue Sky Law passed 1917; amended February, 1921.

"Where the Department has had knowledge of the soliciting or offering of securities in the State by mail and has called the attention of dealers to the provisions of the law, they have as a rule been willing to meet the intention of the law.

"Newspapers printed within the State have co-operated heartily in not publishing advertisements of unlicensed dealers.

"We do not think that our law has in any way hampered legitimate enterprises."

North Dakota

Blue Sky law, passed 1913; Revised Act, 1915.

"We have been quite successful in enforcing the law."

Nebraska

Blue Sky law, passed 1913, re-enacted April, 1921.

"The legislation is beneficial, and once it has been worked out beyond the experimental stage will be entirely effectual. We see no gross defects in the present law.

"A great amount of discretion must be vested in the enforcing authorities, and the penalties must be sufficiently drastic to impress violators of the law.

"1,500 agents were licensed during twelve months.

"The net cost of the law for twenty-one months was $23,000.

"The Bureau was able to weed out millions of dollars of watered stock and was able to recover for stockholders approximately $10,000,000 in securities which promoters were attempting to get away with.

"As to the claim that such legislation hinders legitimate business, we have found that the latter is not so urgent against the legislation as is illegitimate business. In the United States Supreme Court Case, Merrick v. Halsey, 242, U.S. 568, McKenna, J., in sustaining the legislation, said:

" 'It burdens honest business, it is true, but burdens it only that, under its forms, dishonest business may not be done. Expenses and inconvenience may be caused, but to arrest the power of the State by such considerations would make it impotent to discharge its functions.'

"With regard to speculative companies, all we require is that their cards be placed on the table and that the general public be given a fair square speculation. Our experience is that in the majority of such cases the cards have been stacked against the public, and that the true element of speculation has been removed.

"The Federal law pertaining to the fraudulent use of the mails has not been effective. It applies only after the damage has been done. Further, the majority of promotion frauds are so large and complicated that by the time the Post Office Inspector ascertains the character of the fraud and the damage committed, the promoters are out of reach. The Bureau intends to handle the interstate mail proposition through the medium of publicity by exposing the facts whenever we can get them."

North Carolina

Blue Sky law, Con. Statutes, 1913; last amended 1921.

"A salesman must have resided for two years in the State before selling stock.

"Legitimate enterprises are not hampered, but the law enables them to do business without being under suspicion."

Nevada

No Blue Sky law.

New Jersey

Fraud legislation passed in 1920.

The Act follows the form of the Volstead Bill now before Congress.[1]

"No test case has been adjudicated by the courts. Only two or three alleged violations of the Act have been called to the attention of the Department and these were not well-founded.

"The powers possessed by the Attorney General's Department are limited by the restrictions of the Act. The provisions of the Act should be broadened. It will be necessary to secure additional legislation to make the law really operative and effective.

"The law as originally drafted was the ordinary type of Blue Sky legislation. The present Act was a compromise, owing to strong opposition from various interests.

"Newspaper files state that every profession and business in the State is organized to endeavour to prevent legislation hostile to its own interests. Among those interests so organized are the bankers, under the name of 'State Bankers' Association'."

"Some of the field of Blue Sky legislation is already covered by a strict Public Utilities Act which regulates certain companies. The Public Utilities Commission has power not only to authorize the incorporation, but to say what information is required and to authorize the sale of stock, the rates chargeable, etc. in the case of railroad, tramway, express, gas, oil, electric, heat, power, water, telegraph and telephone companies.

"Am strongly in favour of the registration of dealers, but there is a feeling in the State that there is too much 'regulation'. The Act does not enable a fraud to be detected in time to prevent the mischief, but as against this is the 'vice of too much regulation.'"

New Mexico

"Blue Sky law, passed June 1921 "The Act was adopted from the revised Kansas law, and is very drastic.

"We have had so few applications that we are hardly in a position to advance expert opinions as to the merits for or against the Act.

"Legitimate enterprises are not hampered. As a rule an application can be passed upon and a permit issued within two weeks time, and if a company or promoter feels that they have been injured by these laws, their enterprise certainly will bear investigation."

New York.

Fraud Act, passed May, 1921. Follows the form of the Volstead Bill.[1] This Act is the first and only legislation affecting the sale of stocks. A Blue Sky Bill, recently introduced in the Senate, was defeated in the House.

The Assistant Attorney General says: "A more stringent law than the present one would be impracticable on account of New York being a great financial centre, and on account of the delay an investigation by a commission might entail."

The Department has only recently been organized.

[See also, ante, p. 17.]

Oklahoma

Blue Sky law passed 1919, not since amended.

"A great protection to the investing public. Money previously going to unscrupulous promoters and into enterprises destined to be failures, is now turned into legitimate channels of business. Has worked hardships to some legitimate businesses but, on the whole, the good accomplished outweighs the harmful effects, and justifies the law.

"Amendments desired (among others): that the Commission be authorized to hold in escrow securities proposed to be issued in exchange for property, when the value of such property cannot be determined, until such time as the value is approved by the earning power of the company."

Ohio

Securities Law, passed 1913; last amended, 1921.

"While the law imposes some burdens on legitimate enterprises, yet it has not the effect of hampering legitimate business.

"The Attorney General has given an opinion following the decided cases, that where circulars or letters have been sent into the State where such circulars or letters are prohibited, so sending them is a violation of the law of the State. Physical presence in the State is not necessary to make the person or corporation guilty."

Oregon.

Blue Sky Law, passed 1911, amended 1921.

"The law has been quite successful in meeting the difficulties sought to be remedied.

"The Act has not had the effect of hampering legitimate enterprise, but on the contrary has been of value in securing capital for development of our natural resources."

Pennsylvania

No Blue Sky Law. "The only legislation is an Act (passed 1902, No. 302) to license and regulate foreign companies, etc., which cannot be made very effective.

"Efforts to pass a Blue Sky Law at the last two Sessions of the Legislature met with such opposition that it was impossible to pass a satisfactory enactment."

Rhode Island

Securities Act, passed June, 1921.

Law very successful. Many persons who were doing business have discontinued because they were not allowed to be registered to sell their securities."

South Carolina

Blue Sky Law, passed 1915.

"The tendency is to remove exemption and to require the State's permit in many classes of sales which by law are not entirely free. The principle of the law is to protect the buyer and not the seller.

"The laws against fraud are not a preventative and are hardly a remedy, as in most cases they lock the stable door after the horse is stolen.

"The commission allowed to salesmen is restricted to 15%.

"The Convention of Commissioners held at Washington was unanimous that the Fraud Acts are out of date as preventative measures. We regard the Volstead Bill as a mere subterfuge promoted by those who would prefer no legislation, and who have always fought bitterly Blue Sky Legislation. I do not think there is any proposition anywhere to substitute a Fraud Act for Blue Sky Legislation."

South Dakota

Blue Sky law, passed 1919; amended March 1921.

"The law has been said to be drastic, but I cannot see why a corporation that desires to organize and conduct its business along legitimate lines cannot comply with it."

Tennessee

Blue Sky law, passed 1913.

"This law has facilitated rather than hampered legitimate business enterprises. We apply the law rather liberally, looking largely to the personnel of the concern, especially if a speculative company."

Texas

Blue Sky law, passed 1920.

"The law only covers corporations. The greatest trouble has been by so-called declaration of trust concerns or associations organized under the common law as limited partenerships.

"Before a corporation can organize it must get all the stock subscribed and 50% of the stock subscribed paid in in cash or its equivalent. Thus there is no treasury stock subscribed, and no room for any stock-selling except to regular brokers handling it for the individual stockholder.

"Where a person wishes to sell stock he must file a bond for the full amount of the stock he intends to sell.

"The law does not accomplish much except as a moral influence. It does not retard the organizing of legitimate corporations, and wildcat corporations are deterred by reason of the bond."

Utah

Securities Act, passed 1919, amended 1921.

"The law has not had the effect of restraining trade, but it prevents stock-selling propositions of no merit, or which are inadequately handled by persons without knowledge of the business.

"Utah has large tracts of oil lands of which the State encourages development, but this cannot come through the unchecked sale of worthless securities or inadequate plans of development.

"The Press Chambers of Commerce are co-operating to make the law a success. The newspapers are refusing to publish advertisements for the sale of stocks that have not passed the Commission.

"The law does not hamper legitimate development of mining, gas and oil; our mining companies that have passed the Commision find a much more ready market for their securities.

"The vital necessities for the success of Securities Acts is a proper interpretation of what securities may be offered and what may not, or what are exempted."

VERMONT.

Blue Sky Law, passed 1912, amended 1917.

"The people of the State have been saved a good many thousands of dollars since the law became effective.

"We have been able to keep a fairly close check on the companies to whom licences have been granted."

VIRGINIA

Blue Sky law, passed 1918, amended 1920.

"Present Act fairly successful, but amendments are desired, one being to appoint an inspector who will conduct prosecutions on behalf of the Department, also that the fees be reduced to an amount sufficient to run the Department."

WASHINGTON

No Blue Sky law. A Bill passed the last Session of the Legislature, but was vetoed by the Governor, not, however, it is understood, by reason of his objecting to the principle of the Bill.

"The present Corporation laws give the State Department no supervision over corporations transacting business in the State."

WEST VIRGINIA

Speculative Securities Act, passed 1913; re-enacted July, 1921.

"It has not interfered with legitimate enterprises, which are ready and willing to comply with the Act."

WISCONSIN.

Blue Sky Law, passed 1919, last amended July 1921.

"The present Securities Law has been in successful operation for little more than two years.

"Securities are classed as follows: Class A are securities based on established value or income. Class B are securities based on prospective income and are known as "Speculative Securities."

"The responsible financial institutions have given us their hearty co-operation and we do not feel that they regard the law as an insurmountable burden.

"Speculative enterprises, of course, feel that the law interferes with their stock-selling. This State was overridden with oil and mining securities prior to the passage of the Act, and many of the securities offered were fraudulent.

"We do not discourage legitimate speculation. If we are satisfied that the promoters are in good faith we are glad to permit them to solicit funds for the undertaking, but we want to know that the promoters are taking the same chances as the persons from whom they solicit funds."

WYOMING

Blue Sky law, passed 1919: last amended April 1921.

"The law has not hampered the development of oil and mining properties within the State."

APPENDIX "D"

NOTES ON THE FRAUD ACTS IN THE UNITED STATES.

New York, New Jersey and Maryland.

(Fraud Acts.)

In each of these States the Act provides that if it shall appear to the Attorney General that any person is employing any device to defraud, and he believes it to be in the public interest that an investigation be made, he may require such person to file with him a statement as to all the facts.

In New Jersey and Maryland, the Attorney General may issue an order requiring a guilty party to desist from his fraudulent practices. In New Jersey he may issue a preliminary restraining order. In Maryland, if "an irreparable public injury is imminent," he may issue such order immediately, with a request for information.

In New York, the Attorney General must bring an action to enjoin such person from his fraudulent practices.

Massachusetts.

(Semi-Fraud Act.)

This Act has the usual provisions of the ordinary type of Blue Sky legislation and also those of the Fraud Act, i.e., to prevent the sale of securities after the fraud has been discovered.

There is a list of securities which are exempt from the Act, but these may be investigated if it appears likely that their sale would result in fraud.

Securities not exempt may be sold by a registered broker or salesman, after giving notice of intention to offer them for sale and filing certain information.

If the Commission thinks that the sale of any security would result in fraud, it may issue a temporary order restraining the sale. The Attorney General may also forthwith apply for an injunction to stop further sales.

Any person aggrieved by any action of the Commission may have a public hearing before a majority of the members. An appeal from the Commission may be taken to the courts.

Brokers and salesmen applying for registration must furnish a certificate of character, and pay a fee of $50 for a broker and $2 for a salesman. No written evidence of registration is issued, and no reference must be made to the fact that the Act has been complied with. The name and address of a broker must appear on everything issued by him.

Illinois.

(Regulatory Act.)

Securities and transactions are divided into four classes. Classes A and B are exempt from the Act, as being securities whose inherent qualities assure their sale without the perpetration of fraud.

Class C and Class D are securities based respectively on established and prospective income. Certain information must be furnished in the statement filed.

Class C securities may be sold before filing the statement, upon certain conditions, including the giving of a bond for $50,000.

Class D securities may not be sold until certain documents, satisfactory to the Secretary of State, are filed. The issuer must receive in cash not less than 80% of the proceeds of each sale, without any deduction whatsoever. The proceeds of sales may be required to be held intact until the completion of the sale of the securities.

Securities in Class D which are issued for a patent right, copyright, trade-mark, process, or good-will, or for promotion expenses or other intangible assets, must be delivered in escrow to a bank or trust company, and in case of dissolution or insolvency do not participate in the assets until the owners of all other securities have been paid in full.

When the Secretary of State accepts for filing the documentary information asked for, the securities may be sold, but "no written or printed evidence of the compliance with this Act shall be issued."

An appeal lies to the courts. "The burden of proof in all questions in controversy shall rest upon the petitioner."

If the Secretary of State believes that any statement submitted or filed is inadequate or tends to work a fraud on the purchaser, or if any securities are offered for sale contrary to the Act, he may apply for an injunction to restrain the further sale, and may also cancel permission to sell the securities. He may also make any investigation he deems proper.

In Classes C and D the fee on filing statements is one twentieth of 1% of the amount of securities to be offered for sale, but in no case less than $25 or more than $300.

Graded penalties, from $100 to $25,000, are provided for the various offences against the Act, and imprisonment may be added.

Sales which are not in accordance with the information filed are prima facie fraudulent. Any sale made contrary to the Act is voidable at the election of the purchaser, and those concerned in the sale are liable to the purchaser for the amount paid, and costs.

APPENDIX "E"

PROPOSED UNITED STATES FEDERAL LEGISLATION.

Bills now pending before Congress, at Washington.

Volstead Bill.[1]

Summary of Bill 7868, House of Representatives.

A Committee appointed by the Federal Reserve Banks is required to keep itself informed concerning securities sold or offered for sale.

When the Committee ascertains that, in the selling of any securities involving the use of the United States mails, any agency of inter-state or foreign commerce (e.g. a common carrier) is employing fraud, the Committee reports to the Attorney General, who may require such person to file a statement, etc. He then takes evidence, and may issue an order requiring the guilty party to desist. Also if it appears to him that "an irreparable public injury is imminent" he may issue an order before investigation.

The penalty for violation of the Act is a fine of not more than $10,000 or ten years imprisonment, or both.

Denison Bill.

Summary of Bill 7215, House of Representatives.

This Bill prohibits the carrying by the U.S. mails, or by any railroad or express company or other agency of inter-state commerce, of any security for sale or delivery in any State in which it is, by the law of such State, unlawful to sell such securities, and prohibits placing in the mails, or delivery to any railroad, express, telegraph, or telephone company or other agency of inter-state commerce, any letter, message, circular, etc., intended to obtain orders for securities when such letter, message or circular is addressed to another State in which, by the law of such State, it is unlawful to sell or offer such securities.

A comprehensive list is given of securities which are to be exempt from this Act, and which the promoters of the Bill hope may be eventually adopted by each State as the securities which are to be exempted from the application of the State laws.

Sales made contrary to the Act are voidable at the option of the purchaser, and the seller and his agents are liable for the amounts paid to them.

[1] It seems probable that this Bill will be abandoned by the promoters, who have obtained concessions in the Denison Bill, which latter, as amended, appears to meet the views of the interests which had previously opposed it.

INTERIM REPORT

RESPECTING

Extension of Land Titles System in Northern Ontario

OF THE

Commission to Inquire into, Consider and Report upon the Best Mode of Selecting, Appointing, and Recommending Sheriffs, etc., etc.

PRINTED BY ORDER OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF ONTARIO

1922

To His Honour Henry Cockshutt,

May it Please Your Honour:

Having been appointed by Royal Commission to inquire into, consider and report upon (among other things) the question as to whether or not the operation of the Land Titles Act should be extended in whole or in part throughout the Province of Ontario we respectfully submit this interim report on the extension of the operation of the said Act in certain Registry Divisions in the Northern part of the Province. We are not yet prepared to submit a report on the advisability of extending the operation of the Act throughout the whole of Ontario.

Situation in Northern Ontario.

In the northern part of Ontario there are nine Registry Divisions in which the Local Master of Titles and the Registrar of Deeds are one and the same person and the work under the Land Titles Act, (commonly called the Torrens Act) and under the Registry Act is all carried on in the same office under the same head. The offices for the Registry Divisions mentioned are located at Bracebridge, Fort Frances, Fort William, Gore Bay, Haileybury, Kenora, North Bay, Port Arthur and Sudbury. In Parry Sound the Land Titles Office and the Registry Office, though side by side, are under different heads.

Increased Area Under Land Titles Act.

The area under the Land Titles Act is steadily increasing because all the patents issued by the Province for lands located in these Registry Divisions since the Land Titles Act went into operation in the year 1884, have, as provided by the Legislature, been entered in the Land Titles Office. A number of parcels that were under the Registry Act have also been transferred to the Land Titles Office upon application of the owners.

Dominion Patents of Indian Lands.

There are a number of Indian Reserves in Northern Ontario the title to which is vested in the Dominion Government. At the present time when patents for any of these Indian lands are issued by the Dominion Government, they go, not as in the case of patents issued by the Provincial Government, to the Master of Titles, but to the Registry Office. We are strongly of opinion that these patents should go to the Land Titles Office for the Division in which the lands patented are located and should be entered there as Provincial Patents are. Doubtless the Dominion Government would co-operate, if necessary, to this end.

Present Opportunity.

As the lands in Northern Ontario were patented at a much later date than the lands in the older portions of the Province, the titles, as a rule, are comparatively short, and the work that would have to be performed to bring them under the Land Titles Act and issue certificates of title to the owners would be comparatively light. Then, too, the Masters of Titles in some of the largest of the offices mentioned are men who have been either Registrars or Masters of Titles, or both, for many years and have become familiar with the titles to the lands in their respective Divisions. In our opinion, advantage should be taken of the comparative shortness of the titles, and of the fact that the knowledge of the officials mentioned is now available, to bring the lands in these Divisions under the Land Titles Act. It would be a great misfortune if the opportunity to avail ourselves of the knowledge of these officials—a knowledge which cannot be indefinitely at our disposal—should be lost: if the titles under the old system should continue to grow in length; and if the difficulties which we now meet in the older part of the Province should accumulate in the new districts.

We have taken the matter up with Mr. George W. Holmes, the Master of Titles at Toronto, who has a general supervision of the offices in the North and has recently returned from an inspection of these offices, and he strongly recommends the bringing of all titles under the Land Titles Act.

"There is," said Mr. Holmes, "unanimous feeling in the North Country that it would be more satisfactory."

In speaking of the knowledge of the present Registrars, Mr. Holmes says:—

"I found that most of the men in the North Country doing this work were old men and they knew the titles well. Take a man like Mr. Munro (Registrar of Deeds and Local Master of Titles at Port Arthur); if he should die we could never put another man there who would know the titles so well; he knows all about the titles. This work should have been done five years ago."

Another Registrar whose knowledge of titles in his district is invaluable is Mr. J. E. Lount of Bracebridge, who has held office for fifty years.

Proposed Extension of Land Titles Act.

After a fixed date, say, July 1st, 1922, no further transfers of any lands located in the Registry Divisions mentioned should be recorded in the Registry Office, but all transfers on and after that date should be made under the Land Titles Act. The procedure required to bring property under the Land Titles Act should be made as simple and inexpensive as possible. A general notice might be published in the local papers that lands in the Division would be brought under the Land Titles Act after a certain date and that any person having an unrecorded claim to or interest in any property should notify the Local Master of Titles of such claim or be forever barred. No further advertisement should be required unless specially ordered by the Master of Titles. Whenever it is proposed to put any certain parcel of land under the Land Titles Act a notice of such intention might also be posted up in the Local Court House for a certain time before a Certificate of Title is issued. Probably in some cases special notice to parties who may appear on the record as having an interest in the property in question would have to be given, but there would be comparatively few of such cases. In nearly all cases the work required to be done to place any parcel of land under the Land Titles Act, could be done by the Local Master of Titles with such assistance as might be required from the applicant: occasionally it might become necessary for the applicant to employ a solicitor. In the event of the vendor so desiring, he could be at once registered as owner, with a Possessory Title, and if no adverse claim were established an absolute certificate could be issued to him as soon as the time fixed by the notice posted in the Court House had expired. If a title should be found to be defective, so that an absolute Certificate of Title could not be given, a Certificate of Possessory Title should be issued to the purchaser. This would give the purchaser all the title which the vendor possessed, and if no claim should be made and established within a certain number of years, a certificate of absolute title could be issued.

We were much interested to learn from Mr. Holmes that he knew of no adverse claim having been made to property being put under the Land Titles Act through the publication in the press of an advertisement requesting all persons having claims against the property to prove them.

Local Masters of Title Prepared to Co-operate.

Mr. Holmes or the members of this Commission have discussed the foregoing proposal with most of the Local Masters of Title in Northern Ontario, and we believe they are all prepared to render the services that would be required of them in bringing the lands in their respective Divisions under the Land Titles Act for a fee of $6.00 in every case where the land in question does not exceed $3,000 in value, and an additional fee of 50 cents for every additional $1,000 of value or fraction thereof: the maximum fee not exceeding $25.00. This would include the fee for registration of transfer which is $3.00. In some cases this might be a liberal fee for the work involved. In other cases the fee would probably be most inadequate. On the average, it would, we think, be a reasonable fee for the Local Master of Titles, having in view the wide knowledge of titles that he possesses. No one else could afford to do the work at such a figure. It should be subject to no reduction in respect of percentage payable to the Government on net income as defined in the Registry Act. In addition to the fee payable to the Local Master of Titles for bringing a parcel of land under the Land Titles Act the applicant would have to pay the Assurance Fee, that is, the fee which goes into the fund out of which any losses are paid which have been caused by any mistake or omission on the part of a Master of Titles in respect of any land to which a Certificate of Title may be given. This fee is payable at the time when the land is bought under the Land Titles Act, and not thereafter. It amounts to one-fourth of one per cent. on the value of the lands and one-eighth of one per cent. of the value of the buildings thereon and the total amounts to about the same as the Land Transfer Tax now payable to the Province. There would also be the fees payable to the Sheriff for Certificate as to executions in his hands against lands and the fee payable to the Local Treasurer for Certificate as to taxes. In our opinion the fee payable to the Sheriff for his Certificate in such cases might well be limited to fifty cents.

Encouragement by Legislature Desirable.

It is greatly in the interest of the community as a whole that the title of lands and their appurtenances should be secure and that they should be transferable at little expense. It is in investments in lands and buildings that the savings of the people are mainly placed, and the placing of real property under the Land Titles Act should be encouraged by the Legislature. We recommend that the land transfer fee payable to the Government on sales of property should, in the first instance when the property is brought under the Land Titles Act in these Divisions, be applied, to its extent, on account of the Assurance Fee, so that the expense that the owner would be under would be limited to the fee payable to the local Master of Titles and the fee payable into the Assurance Fund less the amount of Land Transfer Tax at the time the property be brought under the Act.

Advantage to Owner.

The total expense to the owner of the land would thus be comparatively light and he would receive in return a certificate under the seal of the Local Master of Titles that he was absolute owner of the property. This would be a trifling sum to pay for such a certificate, and we believe that the advantage of having it and of being able to make all future transfers under the Land Titles Act without the purchaser being at the expense of searching the title back of the certificate, would far more than compensate for the outlay.

Our Land Titles Act is a source of pride to Canadians living near the International Boundary. Mr. Keating, the Local Master of Titles at Fort Frances, one of the ablest and most obliging officials in Northern Ontario, said to us at our sitting at Fort Frances:

"When they (the patentees) bring their patents in it does not require any argument to have them place the land under the Act. They get for one dollar what they have to pay hundreds of dollars for in the United States."

Mr. F. Jevne, District Attorney residing at the Town of International Falls, Minnesota, who gave evidence before us at our sitting at Fort Frances, in referring to the Land Titles System, said:

"I prefer the Torrens (Land Titles) System. It is far better than the system we have. I have property on both sides of the river; I have several hundreds of acres of land on this (the Ontario) side, and I think the Torrens system is far more satisfactory than the Registry system; under the Torrens system we get a certificate of title upon which we can rely. There is a very strong move on our side to institute the Torrens system. . . . . There is great satisfaction and a feeling of security when you have a Torrens title."

Mr. Jevne further stated to us that property on the Canadian side of the boundary that is under the Land Titles Act is regarded as worth at least a dollar an acre more than if it were not under the Act.

Power of Masters of Titles to Bring Lands Under Act.

The property brought under the Act should not be limited to land being sold, but every person and corporation, whether selling land or not, should have the opportunity of having his, her or its land in these Districts brought under the Land Titles Act on the same terms as those hereinbefore outlined.

We recommend that the Legislature go further than this and authorize the Masters of Titles in the offices mentioned to proceed to put any lands in their respective Districts under the Land Titles Act whether or not it is being transferred and whether or not application for transfer to the Land Titles Act be made by the owner. Thus a local Master of Titles in putting a property under the Land Titles Act might find that the title to an adjoining property, or adjoining properties, was practically the same and his work would be lessened and the convenience of all parties would probably be served if both properties were brought under the Land Titles Act at the same time. Or it might be found that a common right of way existed between a property being brought under the Act and an adjoining property and that for this reason the placing of both properties under the Act at the same time would be desirable. But we would not limit the properties that a Local Master of Titles might bring under the Act to the classes mentioned, but would give him the right to proceed to place any parcel whatever under the Act subject to the provision that the property should be land in actual use and occupation and that the assent of the Inspector hereinafter mentioned to the land being brought under the Act should first be given. The fee payable to the Master of Titles and the Assurance Fee should be made a charge on the property brought under the Act and should be payable before any instrument could be recorded against it. Notice of the intention of a Local Master of Titles to bring a property under the Act should be given to the owner and when the transfer to the Land Titles Office is completed notice should be given by the Local Master of Titles to the owner of the amount of the lien upon the property for the Assurance Fee and the charges before mentioned. The fee payable to the local Master of Titles for placing a property under the Land Titles Act should, when not paid by the owner, be advanced to him by the Government and collected by the Government when the first instrument is recorded against the property.

Tax Sales and New Plans.

All lands sold for taxes in the Districts mentioned should immediately upon the issue of the Tax Deed be placed under the Act and no plans of subdivisions should be filed except in Land Titles Offices.

Local Master of Titles Should Issue Certificates of Title.

At the present time the Local Masters of Titles are not empowered to receive or hear applications to have land in their respective divisions brought under the Land Titles Act, but applications are made direct to the Master of Titles at Toronto who passes upon them. To confine the power to issue certificates of title to the Master of Titles at Toronto we regard as an unnecessary precaution, and one that tends to protract and delay proceedings. The local Masters of Titles are careful and experienced men and in our opinion the receiving and hearing of applications and the granting of certificates of title in all cases where the value of the property does not exceed $10,000 might be left to the Local Master of Titles if he is a barrister or solicitor, and if the local Master of Titles is not a barrister or solicitor then he should have the right to issue certificates of title in all cases where the value of the property does not exceed $3,000. in value. The granting of certificates of title should, however, be subject to this proviso; that where the values are greater than hereinbefore mentioned and where the Local Master of Titles places the land under the Land Titles Act on the strength of an affidavit made by himself on his own personal knowledge, or where the owner does not claim under a patent or unbroken chain of title from the patentee or from some owner whose title has been declared valid by the Courts or by the Legislature, the Local Master of Titles shall not issue the final certificate without the approval of the Inspector hereinafter mentioned.

An Inspector of Land Titles Offices.

We recommend the appointment of an Inspector of Land Titles and Registry Offices for the Registry Divisions named, who shall have his office, say, at North Bay, and to whom the applications in the case of properties exceeding $10,000, or $3,000, in value, as the case may be, or included in the exceptions mentioned in the next preceding paragraph, should be submitted, and that no certificates be granted in respect of any such properties unless signed by the Inspector. This Inspector might also inspect all other Land Titles Offices in Ontario. We see no reason why the Master of Titles at Toronto should be required to inspect other offices. He has sufficient work at his own office to engage his whole time. The inspector should be a lawyer who has had practical experience under the Land Titles Act, and should receive an adequate salary and travelling expenses. The travelling expenses of the Master of Titles at Toronto for inspecting Land Titles Offices would be saved if this Inspector were appointed.

Arrears of Assurance Fees.

Under the existing law no transfer of any land for which a patent has been sent to a local Master of Titles may be recorded unless the Assurance Fee in respect of the property is first paid. We find that there are thousands of parcels of land in the north country for which patents have been issued but of which no transfer has been made or is ever likely to be made. This involves in the various offices the keeping of long lists of properties upon which the Assurance Fee has not been paid and these lists have to be checked over yearly if proper audit of the Assurance Fees be made. The Assurance Fee payable on nearly every property on these lists would be a trifling sum and the sum paid yearly on account of arrears is probably less than the cost of auditing these long and practically permanent lists. We recommend that hereafter no patent be issued unless the Assurance Fee on the property comprised in the patent be first paid. Some method should, if possible, be devised to get rid of these long lists of arrears or to relieve the inspector of the work of auditing them year after year.

Transfer Tax on Patents.

At the present time a transfer tax is payable on each patent issued and is collected by the local Master of Titles to whom the patent is sent. In a large proportion of cases the tax amounts to only a few cents. In some instances it is only two cents. It might be well for the Legislature to consider whether a transfer tax on patents should be continued. We are strongly of opinion that if it is continued the tax on patents should be paid direct to the Government with the purchase money and that the various Masters of Titles should not be required to keep account of it and collect it. To place the burden of collecting the tax upon the Masters of Titles involves work for them out of all proportion to the amount collected and engages time that might be used to much greater public advantage.

Rules.

In the event of our proposals being adopted, appropriate rules should be made for the administration of the law.

The Honourable W. R. Rollo, Minister of Labour,

Toronto.

Sir,

I have the honour to submit herewith the First Annual Report of the Minimum Wage Board.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,
J. W. Macmillan,
Chairman.

ANNUAL REPORT, 1921.

At the Industrial Conference called by the Dominion Government in Ottawa in September, 1919, where the employers and employees of Canada met in friendly deliberation, a resolution was unanimously adopted that Minimum Wage Laws for women and girls should be enacted by the several provinces. Joined with this recommendation was the further suggestion that an attempt should be made at co-ordination between the several provinces in respect of the wage rates thus legally enjoined. Already at that time Minimum Wage Laws existed and had been in force in the Western Provinces. Quebec also had written such a law upon her Statutes. Since then, Ontario and Nova Scotia have passed Minimum Wage Laws. Thus all the Provinces of the Dominion excepting New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island now possess such laws.

Ontario may fairly claim to be the leading industrial Province of Canada. No other Province musters so large an army of employees, nor has spread its industries over so wide an area. Not only are the larger cities filled with factories, but many of the small towns and even villages are also seats of industrial activity. Besides, there are over one hundred thousand retail stores in Ontario, of which a considerable number employ women. These facts suggest something of the size and complexity of the problem with which your Board is called upon to deal.

During the ten months of its existence, the Board has held one hundred and two meetings. Thus each member has contributed a large amount of time to this work. The peculiar constitution of the Board, whereby it consists of an equal number of representatives of employers and employees, makes it desirable that there should be a full attendance at each meeting. Thus meetings have had to be arranged to fit in with the demands of the other interests of the several members; a thing not always easy to do. The first tasks of the Board were largely exploratory. Rules for its own guidance had to be drawn up. Few statistics of any value were available. The numerous trades had not been classified in any fashion that served the purposes of the Board, nor was it clear what were the special problems in one trade or another. Other departments of Government, such as the Factory Inspection Department and the Workmen's Compensation Board, readily gave much timely help, but, after all, the questions to be dealt with were new and the Board had to begin at the beginning. Yet despite these obstacles, it may be asserted that few Minimum Wage Boards in any Province or State have, during their first year's existence, covered as much ground or compassed as much work as has the Board of this Province.

The Board is fortunate in the nature of its task, which rests upon an economic and moral principle so simple and convincing that all admit its cogency. This principle is the right of the worker to live from her work. It asserts the value and dignity of human life within the industrial sphere. It does not fix wages, but sets levels below which wages may not fall. On this account, the Board, though composed of members drawn from widely different classes of the community and possessing greatly divergent interests, has been able to act in constant harmony. During the whole period of its activity, it has not once divided upon any question representing the usual contentions between capital and labour. This same spirit of agreement and co-operation has ruled in the conferences of employers and employees which the Board has summoned. No employer hesitates to assert his belief in the principle that his employees should be paid enough to provide them with food, clothing, shelter and such simple comforts and enjoyments as are requisite to the proper conduct of life.

Thus the orders issued by the Board have behind them the general approval of those engaged in the industries to which they apply. Whatever disagreement has emerged has been in respect to unimportant details. It is not too much to claim that the Board's orders are in accord with the business judgment and enlightened goodwill of the industries concerned.

The Board accordingly wishes to express its gratitude to those employers and employees of the Province whose assistance it has received. The several employers' associations have uniformly placed at the disposal of the Board their stores of information and their knowledge of interior matters in their industries, and have readily co-operated with the Board to the fullest possible extent. It has not been so easy to get into touch with the employees owing to the prevalent lack of organization among them. In the few trades which are organized the officials of the unions have afforded the same cordial and competent help which we have learned to look for from the employers' associations. But, for most of the trades, we have been forced to select as best we could representative workers, who have indeed given quite able and valuable assistance, but who naturally lacked the breadth of knowledge and definite authority which goes with organization.

Cost of Living Budget.

After the Board had completed its own organization, its first task was to draw up a budget of the cost of living of a woman worker in the city of Toronto. It seemed wise to study conditions in the capital city of the Province first, both because the seat of the Board's meetings is there, and because it is the chief industrial community in the Province. The laundry industry was first studied, as from a survey published by the Bureau of Labour in 1920, low wages seemed customary in it. It is but fair to say that our investigations, made later, showed that some laundries were paying good wages. It is only within limits that comparisons of wages can be made between one trade and another. Wide variations are found in every trade.

The Board compiled a budget for a female laundry-worker in Toronto in the month of February, 1921. This was approved, with slight alterations, by the conference of representatives from the industry, and a minimum wage rate of $12.00 per week was formulated.

Several months later, when saleswomen in retail stores came under discussion, this budget was revised. In spite of a decrease in certain prices, the higher cost of living for a worker in this industry led to the total being raised to twelve dollars and fifty-six cents ($12.56) per week. This budget is as follows:—

Board and lodging ....@ $7.00 per week	$364 00	$364 00
CLOTHING.
Footwear and repairs	21 00
Underwear	8 50
Stockings	6 75
Nightgowns	4 00
Petticoats	5 00
Corsets	5 00
Corset covers	4 00
Kimona	2 00

Hats	15 00
Suits (½ cost, to wear 2 years,)	12 50
Winter coat (½ cost, to wear 2 years,)	10 00
Winter dresses (½ cost, to wear 2 years,)	7 50
Summer dresses	12 00
Shirt waists	8 25
Sweater	3 25
Aprons	3 75
Handkerchiefs	1 50
Gloves	5 00
Scarfs	1 25
Umbrella	2 00
Total expenses for clothing		$138 25
SUNDRIES
Laundry	$52 00
Doctor, dentist, optician	20 00
Car fare	20 00
Reading matter	6 00

Total expenses for year		653 25
Board and lodging per week		7 00
Clothing per week		2 66
Sundries per week		2 90
Total per week		12 56

As prices vary, sometimes with considerable rapidity, and thus such budgets require revision, the Board decided that each of its orders, all of which are based upon the cost of living, should be annually revised. This ensures certainty and regularity of revision, whereas, were revisions to depend upon the request or complaint of either workers or employers, no such certainty or regularity would be attained.

Getting Information

The next task of the Board was to gather wage sheets from the several laundries, dry-cleaning establishments and dye-works of the Province, in which undertaking the Laundrymen's Association and the laundrymen generally greatly assisted the Board. These wage statistics, as already indicated, when gathered, disclosed quite surprising variations. The prevailing notion that wages are standardized throughout given localities or trades is quite incorrect, in the women's employments. All the later wage investigations conducted by the Board have revealed the same state of affairs. Indeed, similar investigations in all parts of the world have disclosed the same condition. The fact is that women's wages are without standards. The strange spectacle may be seen of two factories or stores which appear to a casual observer to be precisely alike, situate within a few blocks of each other, buying the same raw material in the same market, selling the same finished product in the same market, procuring their workers from the same labour market, using the same machinery and methods of doing business—yet one of these two twin-like establishments may be paying wages ten, or twenty, or thirty per cent. higher than the other, and, very frequently, the establishment paying the higher wage is the more prosperous of the two. It is apparent, then, that the comparisons which are often made between wages in one city and another, or in one Province and another, have by no means the substantial foundations which are generally assumed to exist. And, moreover, the fixing of minimum wage rates can never mean universal and equal increase of wages throughout any trade or in any locality. As a matter of fact, they generally mean the raising of the standards of those establishments paying lower wages to a level already occupied by some of their competitors. One incidental consequence is that the better type of employer is secured against an unfair type of business competition.

During the year, the Board has visited several parts of the Province. The industries with which it deals are scattered widely. It has accordingly sought, by holding several conferences with employers and employees in local centres, by visiting industrial plants, and by holding public meetings, to acquaint itself with the nature of its tasks and to spread information as to its purpose and methods. The most extensive trip taken was to the northwestern section of Ontario, visiting Fort William, Port Arthur, Sault Ste. Marie, and North Bay. Other visits were to London, Hamilton and Ottawa. Members of the Board have also gone, representing it to Windsor, Chatham, Sarnia, Stratford and St. Mary's. A special investigator spent several weeks enquiring into the cost of living in small towns. The Board can testify to the courtesy with which its approaches were uniformly met and to the co-operation which employers, employees and many others commonly afforded.

The Board applied its first order to the city of Toronto. This was soon extended, with suitable modifications, to the cities having a population of more than fifty thousand. A third division was made of the remainder of the Province.

When other industries came under investigation, some of which are not so much confined to the cities and larger towns, it became apparent that the smaller towns and villages, as well as the country districts, required to be studied intimately. For example, retail stores and telephone systems are scattered impartially throughout all sections of the Province. The cost of living in these small places assumes a new phase.

In these latter places, most female workers live at home or with friends, and the contributions which they make in return for their support are not according to any commercial standard. It was suggested to the Board that the wage rates in such places might disregard this element, on the ground that board and lodging often cost the worker nothing. With this position the Minimum Wage Board could not agree, feeling that any gift to a woman worker from her father or relative should be for herself and not to be handed on to her employer. A second suggestion, that only the additional cost of the food that she consumed should enter into the budget calculation was also rejected, on the ground that the principle of the living wage required that she should be an independent and self-supporting member of the household. Accordingly, the Board was led to formulate a second budget, in which the cost of living for an independent adult female worker in a home conducted on minimum comfort lines in a small place, should be determined. This proved to be by no means a simple problem and the result arrived at requires to be modified by several considerations which it did not seem advisable to attempt to estimate in money values. This calculation is as follows:

COST OF LIVING IN SMALL PLACES.

THE FAMILY:

Five members, (standard unit and verified by investigation): man, wife, boy of twelve, girl of six and boy of two.

Their joint food requirements equal that of 3.35 adult males, or 3.75 adult females.

Other common expenditures in the same proportion.

SUMMARY OF COSTS:

Food: (from several calculations)	$2 94 per week
Housing: (see later pages)	1 70
Clothing: (individual, from city budget)	2 66
Sundries: (individual, from city budget, less laundry and car fare	1 52
Total	$8 82

On the basis of 77% living at home and 23% boarding at $5.50 per week, (such figures have been disclosed by investigations made by the Board), the cost-of-living works out to $9.01 per week.

In all of the smaller towns and villages some girls are boarding; in some of these places they are few, in others more numerous. They pay from $5.00 to $6.00 per week. (October, 1921)

This budget will apply most directly to the employees in retail stores and telephone systems. Fewer factories are to be found in these smaller places.

Orders Issued.

The orders which the Board have issued up to October 31st, 1921, will be found at the end of the report. Order No. 2 deals with a large group of manufacturing industries. The nucleating idea in the grouping of these industries is that they commonly employ larger numbers of young girls than are to be found in most of the other industries. It will be seen that this group divides itself into two parts, one of which consists of the trades allied to paper box making, and the other of the trades allied to candy making.

At the close of the statistical year, the Board is engaged in extending its orders, with suitable modifications, to the entirety of the Province. It has also under way, investigations of the textile industry and of the numerous telephone systems in the Province. Each of these industries represents a large number of workers.

Effect of the Orders.

While it is too soon to make a statement regarding the effect of the orders of the Board which shall have wide statistical value, it is yet possible to recite certain facts, which suggest the nature and scope of the improvement which is being accomplished. The period of inspection and enforcement is just beginning. A second survey of the wage sheets in the establishments concerned, will be required before any definite and final comparison can be made between wage conditions before and after the issuance of the Board's orders.

However, many incidental evidences come in of the efficacy of the Minimum Wage Law. A manager of a large institution writes that at a meeting of Directors —"I was authorized to raise the wages of all employees below your minimum." A factory inspector reports of a factory employing hundreds of young women and girls: "They have promised to withhold executing a contemplated ten per cent. reduction and are anxious to make the required adjustments." One employer, who has taken an active interest in the formulation of the orders applicable to his industry, writes: "I wish to express my gratification at the very painstaking way you have considered this question, and the very wholesome moderation with which you attack it."

Occasional evidence has reached the Board of decided increases following the issuing of an order. These increases tend to run throughout the entire wage schedule, disproving, as is constantly the case in Minimum Wage administration, the pessimistic forecast that the minimum may become the maximum. There is no evidence that an elevation of the lower rates in any establishment has the effect of depressing the higher wage rates. On the contrary, the tendency is that the lifting of the lower wages tends to lift also, though to a less extent, the higher wages.

Still further, the Board has learned of a number of increases made in anticipation of the action of the Board. This also is a prevalent and characteristic feature of Minimum Wage administration everywhere. Thus an employer takes credit to himself for increasing wages and denies the efficacy of the Board's order. Of course, it matters little where the credit is apportioned, if the wages are lifted to a living level. But the effect is to cheat the statistical tables.

The Board believes that the general welfare of the industries dealt with is promoted by its action. The conferences which call together representatives from different plants serve the purpose of focusing attention upon the things in any industry which are of common interest to both employers and employees, and thus the spirit of harmony is developed. Again, the meeting together of several employers to discuss wage conditions in their common industry is of great value. This is a topic which is seldom discussed in employers' associations. Many employers hold the belief that the same rate of wages prevails in all the plants throughout their industry. The discovery that wages vary widely and that the more successful businesses are often those paying the higher wages, has the effect of turning their attention toward other methods of lessening cost production than by beating down wages. This discovery may be, for an employer of little experience and low efficiency, the beginning of a better type of business operation. The testimony of Minimum Wage Boards in all parts of the world is to this effect. With longer and larger service, the Board confidently expects the same results.

Business Conditions.

The period during which the Board has been active has been one of business depression, when wage reductions were everywhere taking place. Any attempt to increase wages becomes difficult at such a time. It is to the credit of the employers that they have in no case opposed the efforts of the Board to draw the cost-of-living line at the bottom of their wage sheets. With reductions of wages above that line the Board has nothing to do. The effect of its orders has sometimes been, not so much to increase wages as to prevent their falling to unwholesome levels. Compared with a period of expansion such as we passed through three years ago, when the cost of living was mounting and the tendency was that wages should increase, a time like the present is distinctly unfavorable for the operations of the Minimum Wage Board.

On several occasions the Board was strongly urged on this account to do nothing. Some employers, whose good faith and disinterestedness could not be questioned, who would gain nothing personally from inaction on the part of the Board, argued that business conditions were so disturbed that any interference by law would only increase the disturbance and do more harm than good. This did not appeal to the Board, who felt it impossible to refuse assistance to workers decidedly below the cost-of-living line. And these employers, after listening to the Board, and learning of the wide variations in women's wages, generally changed their opinion, and agreed that the Board should intervene to prevent wages being forced down to unfair or oppressive levels. The Board has all along been careful to make its orders conform strictly with its authority, so as not to exceed a real minimum.

Methods of the Board

It is sometimes asked why the Board does not simply announce one flat rate for all women workers in the Province, or several flat rates for several geographical divisions of the Province. The cost of living does not vary so much between one trade and another, but that such a flat rate might possibly be determined.

That this is not a successful method of operation the experience of the few Provinces and States which have employed it makes evident. The standard minimum wage is not the only question which the Board must consider. Indeed, a flat rate law scarcely requires a Board, and may be written into a Factory Act, as has several times been done with unfortunate results. The Board has to shade and divide the standard minimum wage for part-time workers, for handicapped workers, for piece workers and for apprentices. These matters vary between workers and trades, and require separate consideration. But the greater objection to the flat rate plan, is that it fails to elicit the sympathy and co-operation of the people concerned. It is very important that the approval and support of employers should be secured, or at least of the larger number and better type of employers. A public opinion is thus created within the trades, which vindicates and enforces the orders issued, promotes harmony between employer and employed, and augments the total efficiency of each trade. It is in the intimate and sympathetic study of the trades, in the informal and friendly discussions in the conferences, that the mental climate is produced which wins and holds the support of the people of the trades, for the principle of "The right to live from one's work."

Permits.

The Board has issued ten permits to handicapped workers to the end of the statistical year. Three of these were on account of physical handicaps, two because of advanced age, three because of mental incapacity, and two to juveniles who had begun to work at fourteen years of age, and who are still plainly incapable of earning the standard experienced adult minimum wage.

Enforcement.

As has already been intimated, the period of inspection and enforcement is just beginning. Each order of the Board is printed and posted in each establishment to which it applies and the publicity thus secured is a powerful motive to obedience. Thus each employee easily learns what is the minimum rate of wages which she should be paid and is informed whither she should direct any complaints. The factory inspectors are uniformly reporting any cases of dereliction in putting up these posters in any of the plants which they visit in the regular course of their labours. A still more intimate programme of co-operation with the Factory Inspection Department is being worked out as the year closes, it being manifestly unwise to duplicate inspection or to involve the Province in unnecessary expense. The comparatively few complaints which have reached the Board have been taken up directly with the employers concerned and in each case have resulted in the difficulty being overcome. So far, the Board has not met any employer who has adopted an antagonistic or contumacious attitude.

The Question of Hours.

A serious and increasing difficulty arises from the time periods which are in vogue in the several establishments. The custom throughout the Province is that the work period per week is less than the maximum allowed by law. Only a very few establishments have been found which kept their female employees at work a full sixty hours per week. The forty-eight hour week is quite common, and many factories and stores work even a shorter period. The Board has followed the practice of accepting the work week in vogue in any plant, as a standard upon which calculations of wages may be based. The difficulty is sharpened when the wage rates are applied to part-time employment, and in determining the deductions to be made for absence. The employers, as a whole, have played fairly with the Board, but several instances have been alleged where the employer has lengthened his nominal work period and by calculating the wages for the actual work period upon that basis, has succeeded in lessening or destroying the increases, which the Board had intended should be paid. And, though such cases as have been reported to the Board have been satisfactorily dealt with, it is manifest that there exists at this point a breach in the social defences of woman's labour which can only be repaired by more effective legislation.

Moreover, many employers complain of the unfairness in competition which the present conditions allow. There are certain cases where one factory has a work period ten hours longer than that of another, with which it is in competition on otherwise equal terms. This disparity in hours has thrust itself into discussion at many of the conferences. One conference, indeed, insisted on passing a resolution which requested that the Board be given the same sort of control over the hours which it now possesses over wages. The Board is, of course, unable to smooth out the difficulties raised by this anomalous condition and is forced to fall back upon the sense of fair play among the employers. Unfortunately, an occasional employer has little sense of fair play.

Co-ordination.

In the resolution adopted by the Industrial Conference at Ottawa in September, 1919, the desire was expressed that there should be co-ordination between the several Provinces in respect of Minimum wage orders. Your Board has been in correspondence with similar Boards in other Provinces, looking to some joint meeting where the possibilities of co-ordination might be discussed. Its approaches have received cordial responses from the other Boards, and it is probable that, as soon as financial conditions become stabilized, such a joint meeting will be held.

As each Province is in competition with all the other Provinces the comparative cost of manufacturing is important. In the cost of manufacturing the item of wages is always a real consideration. No reliable statistics exist which show the difference in wages between one Province and another. It is desirable that the prevailing suspicions and rumours which make the several Provinces look jealously at one another, should either be vindicated or destroyed by a calm examination of the actual facts. It is also desirable that no Province of Canada should cherish the doubtful advantage in competition of keeping her workers below decent living conditions. Such a condition in any Province would inevitably react upon all the Provinces. On the other hand, any Province accused of such a policy deserves a chance to defend or justify herself. Moreover, all Minimum Wage Boards know that great variations in wages exist within each Province, so that one does not need to travel away from home to find high and low wages competing with each other. Your Board feels that only good could result from a frank and sympathetic conference of Minimum Wage Boards from all over Canada. To this end it plans to continue its attempts toward possible co-ordination.

Conclusion.

One of the leading employers in Canada informed the Board that when he first met Minimum Wage administration in a sister Province he had been disposed to be resentful of the increases forced in his wage-scale, but, that after experience of the working out of the law, he had found that the efficiency of his employees had been so promoted that the wage-cost had become a smaller part of his business expenses. He assured the Board of his approval and co-operation in anything they might require of him in Ontario.

From very many testimonies on the part of employers, workers and investigating bodies—in Australasia, Europe and America—one may be selected as showing the way in which minimum wage laws affect the workers. These are the words of the President of a large retail store in Tacoma, Washington, U.S.A.—"I am a strong advocate of a state law fixing a minimum wage for women. From personal knowledge I am convinced that it has been a benefit to the women wage earners of this State as well as to the employers. I am opposed to a wage that eliminates initiative and individual effort. I am strongly in favour of a wage sufficient to cover the necessaries of life and let the worker compete for the wage that furnishes the luxuries. I find by that method, we get greater efficiency."

Properly speaking, a minimum wage law does not "regulate wages." It merely fixes a starting line from which the self-regulation of wages may begin. It does not hinder, but promotes free and healthful emulation in both employers and employees.

The Ontario Public Service Superannuation Act (With Amendments to 1922).	25

Toronto, April 11th, 1922.

To His Honour

Henry Cockshutt, Esq.,

Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario.

May it Please Your Honour:

The undersigned has the honour to present to your Honour the first Annual Report of the Public Service Superannuation Board, being for the twelve months ended 31st October, 1921.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. Drury,
Prime Minister.

First Annual Report

of the

Public Service Superannuation Board

To the Honourable
The Prime Minister of Ontario.

Sir,

The Public Service Superannuation Board has the honour to submit its First Annual Report.

The Ontario Public Service Superannuation Act was assented to June 4, 1920, and became effective on June 15, 1920.

Section 23 of the Act provides that the Act shall be administered by a board to be known as the Public Service Superannuation Board, which shall consist of the President of the Executive Council, who shall be the Chairman thereof, the Civil Service Commissioner, one representative to be appointed by each of the recognized political parties in the Legislature, and a representative of the Ontario Civil Service Association.

Pursuant to this Section, an Order-in-Council was approved by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, October 25, 1920, constituting the Board as follows:

Hon. E. C. Drury.....President of the Council, Chairman.
J. M. McCutcheon.....Civil Service Commissioner, Toronto.
Malcolm MacVicar, M.P.P.....Belmont.
Frank H. Greenlaw, M.P.P.....St. Catharines.
L. Homfray Irving.....Toronto.
S. L. Squire.....Toronto.
Edmund Harley.....Toronto.

Mr. MacVicar is the representative of the U.F.O. party; Mr. Greenlaw of the Labour party; Mr. Irving of the Liberal party; Mr. Squire of the Conservative party, and Mr. Harley of the Civil Service Association.

The first meeting of the Board was held at the Parliament Buildings on October 27, 1920. The total number of meetings held during the fiscal year ending October 31, 1921, was eighteen.

This Report covers the period from June 15, 1920, the date upon which the Act came into force, until October 31, 1921.

During this period, the Board reported to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council the names of one hundred and thirty-three employees who had attained the age of seventy years and were eligible for superannuation. Of these, seventy-five have been superannuated.

The total number of employees superannuated during the year, including those who were retired at their own option and those who were retired on account of physical disability, was one hundred.

The information required under Section 29 of the Act is contained in tables in Appendix A of this Report.

Table 1 contains the names of employees who were superannuated after attaining the age of seventy years. There were eighty-two in this class.

Table 2 contains the names of those who were retired from the Service before attaining the age of seventy years. This table is made up of two classes of employees, 1, those who retired at their own option under Section 17 (2) of the Act, which permits the retirement of an employee who has served thirty years or more and has attained the age of sixty-five years; six employees took advantage of this option; 2, those who have been retired under Section 5 (b) of the Act, which provides for the superannuation of employees who have served at least ten years in the Public Service and are retired therefrom for any cause other than misconduct or improper behaviour on their part and who are declared by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council upon the report of the Civil Service Commissioner to be entitled to superannuation. The number of persons superannuated under the authority of this Section was twelve, the cause of retirement in each case being physical disability. It is anticipated that a few persons who were superannuated on account of total physical disability may recover. These cases will be reviewed by the Board periodically.

Table 3 is a record of the death cases. Sub-division A of this table contains the names of seven superannuates who died during the year. B contains the names of eighteen employees who had served ten years or more but who had not attained the retirement age at time of death. C contains the names of five employees who died before having served ten years. No pensions are payable in these cases, but a lump sum not exceeding the total of the contributions made by the employee, together with interest at the rate of five per cent., is granted to the deceased's personal representative or to a member of his family.

Table 4 contains the names of widows receiving allowances under the Act. Four of these are widows of superannuates, and fifteen, widows of employees who died before attaining the age of seventy years. The ages of these widows range from thirty-eight years to seventy-six years, their average age being sixty-one years.

Contributions to the Public Service Superannuation Fund

Under the Act contributions are made to the Public Service Superannuation Fund by the Government and by the employees. Deductions are made monthly from the salary of every employee to whom the Act applies and the amount so deducted is placed to the credit of the Fund in the Public Service Superannuation Fund Account. The percentage to be deducted is determined in accordance with the scale set forth in Section 11 (2), and ranges from two and one-half per cent. of the salaries of employees who are under twenty-one years of age to five per cent. for employees who are forty-five years of age or over. During the year the contributions made to the Fund by 2,884 employees amounted to $164,481.98. The deductions from salaries were commenced in the month of November, 1920.

An analysis of the percentages deducted from the salaries of the 2,884 employees who contributed to the Fund shows the following results:

2½%	from	132	employees
2¾%	"	269	"
3 %	"	235	"
3¼%	"	207	"
3½%	"	214	"
3¾%	"	132	"
4 %	"	126	"
4¼%	"	112	"
4½%	"	132	"
4¾%	"	125	"
5 %	"	1,200	"

These figures are important inasmuch as they have a significant bearing upon the future of the Fund. They show that during the year forty-two per cent. of the employees contributed five per cent. of their salaries. These represent those who were forty-five years of age or over. After the next fiscal year during which many persons now employed temporarily will be appointed to the permanent staff, the percentage of those contributing five per cent. of their salaries will gradually diminish. Thirty-seven per cent. of the employees contributed 3½% or less of their salaries. These are employees under thirty-five years of age. The average percentage contributed was 4.1.

Section 12 of the Act provides that whenever any amount is credited to the Fund by way of deductions from the salaries of employees, an equivalent amount shall be credited to the Fund as the contribution of the Government thereto.

Provision is made in Section 13 of the Act for the crediting of interest to the Fund.

Contributions from employees to the Fund are compulsory. Deductions are required to be made monthly from the salary of every employee to whom the Act applies. The employee has no option in the matter. The interests involved justify the compulsory system, just as the good of a community as a whole requires that all persons shall pay taxes. If the plan were optional, there would in all probability be many employees who would fail to co-operate with the Government in making provision for themselves against infirmity or old age.

Refunds

Section 8 provides that where an employee dies while in the Public Service, before having served ten years, there shall be granted to his personal representatives or to a member of his family, a lump sum not exceeding such employee's contributions, with interest at five per cent. The total amount granted under this Section was $103.08.

Section 9 provides for the return of contributions with interest at five per cent. to employees who leave the Service before being entitled to superannuation. The refunds granted under this Section numbered eighty-two and amounted to $2,273.68, the average refund being $27.72.

The total refunds granted under both these Sections amounted to $2,376.76.

The Public Service Superannuation Fund

Table 5 shows the receipts and payments during the year, and is in accordance with and based upon the Financial Statement submitted to the Board by the Provincial Auditor. It will be observed that the amount credited to the Fund on account of deductions from the salaries of employees was $164,481.98 and that the Government's contribution to the Fund, including interest, amounted to $167,840.44, the total receipts being $332,322.46.

The total payments amounted to $62,709.95, distributed as follows: Allowances to Superannuates, $49,304.63; lump sum payments to Superannuates, $5,942.40; pensions to Widows, $5,086.16; refunds, $2,376.76.

The balance at the credit of the Fund as at October 31, 1921, was $268,702.37.

Cost of Administration

The Act provides that the cost of administration shall be borne by the Province and shall be a charge upon and payable out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund. The payments made during the year in connection with the administration of the Act amounted to $1,537.05. The expenditure is shown in detail in Table 6.

The Valuing of Perquisites

Section 10 of the Act provides that where in addition to a cash salary an employee enjoys emoluments, perquisites, or privileges incidental to his office, the Board shall fix the value of such emoluments, perquisites or privileges. Under the authority of this Section, the Board appointed a committee to appraise the perquisites received by certain employees in the Service. This committee visited several of the Ontario Hospitals and other institutions in this connection during the year and expects to complete this work and make its report early next year.

Inasmuch as the deductions under the Act were commenced in the month of November, 1920, and in making such deductions the emoluments, perquisites, or privileges are deemed to form part of the remuneration of an employee receiving them, the valuation placed thereon by the Civil Service Commissioner was adopted tentatively by the Board.

Insurance of Employees

Section 6 of the Act provides that every male employee, if married at the date of his entering the Service, or if married subsequently and before he has been ten years in the service, shall furnish to the Board from time to time as required, a certificate that his life is insured in some reliable insurance company for an amount of not less than $5,000 and for a period of at least ten years from the date of his entering the Service, and in default of his furnishing such certificate the Board may insure the life of such employee and the cost of such insurance shall be deducted from his salary.

Upon investigation, it is found that a large number of employees to whom this Section applies would be required to insure their lives for amounts ranging from a few hundred dollars to five thousand dollars. Nearly two hundred would be required to insure for the full amount and a considerable number for $3,000 and $4,000. Early in February, the Board called for tenders for Group Term Insurance to cover employees in this class, but as the rates submitted were higher than anticipated, the average premium for a policy of a thousand dollars covering the group with ages ranging from twenty-one to sixty-nine being over $14, and as payment of the premiums would undoubtedly prove a hardship, especially in the case of the lower salaried employees who make up a very large percentage of the group, it was decided to request that the operation of this Section be temporarily suspended pending amendment and consideration of the Board's proposal to recommend Legislation enabling the Government to make insurance contracts with employees in the Public Service.

The Working of the Act

The Act has been in operation for a period of sixteen and a half months during which it has given a large measure of satisfaction to both Government and employees. It makes generous provision for those who are retired upon attaining superannuation age and for their widows or dependent children. As Table 2 of this Report shows, the Act has also proved a beneficial measure for those who are compelled before attaining the age of superannuation to discontinue their duties owing to total physical incapacity. In a few cases dealt with, the allowances as provided for by the Act are too small, but this can be overcome by an amendment fixing a minimum annual allowance. The Act fixes the maximum annual allowance at $2,000, and it is felt by the Board that a reasonable minimum allowance should also be fixed.

Experience gained thus far under the Act confirms the widely accepted view which obtains in countries where pension systems have long been in force, that a superannuation law is in the best interests of the Public Service, of the Government, and of the people. The best interests of all three, when properly understood, are identical.

The Act compels the employee of the Government to save in a systematic way for his old age, which, experience has shown, he seldom does on his own initiative. If he leaves the Service for any reason before he is entitled to a superannuation allowance, his contributions, with interest at five per cent. per annum, are returned to him. If he dies before having served ten years, a lump sum not exceeding his total contributions, with interest at the rate of five per cent. is granted to his personal representatives or to a member of his family. If he should die before reaching the age of superannuation and after serving continuously for ten years, his widow or dependent children are entitled to substantial benefits in the form of a pension. If he lives, he is sure of an allowance, payable monthly, when, through physical disability or old age, he is no longer fit to perform his duties. After the death of a superannuate, one-half of his pension is continued to his widow during her life or her widowhood, or if such superannuate is a widower or if his wife having survived him remarries, one-half of his superannuation allowance is paid to his children who have not attained the age of eighteen years and until they have attained that age.

The provision for the payment of a pension to the widow or dependent children of an employee is made in recognition of the principle that, economically speaking, an employee's family is part of himself, and unless this is recognized it will react detrimentally on the Service of which he forms a part.

The operation of the Act has already had a stabilizing effect upon the Service, the economic value of which it would be difficult to determine. It is tending to secure continuity of service. Employees who have many years to their credit for pension, and this is true of a very large percentage, will think twice before leaving the Service to accept positions elsewhere.

The practice of keeping the names of employees on the Government pay roll long after they have become inefficient results in immeasurable waste and loss. It chokes the avenues of promotion, usually continues the use of obsolete and costly methods, hampers departmental work, and adds considerably to the cost of administration. The cost of retaining a single civil servant in an important position after he has become incompetent cannot be readily estimated, but it is likely to be several times the cost of his superannuation. It is difficult to gauge with precision the effect on the morale of a staff of retaining in the Service those who have reached the period of old age inefficiency, but it is well known that the retention of such employees usually causes stagnation and operates against effective service. Only by retiring the inefficient can the avenues of promotion be kept open and the services of competent employees be retained. A well-devised plan of superannuation is an economic measure of first importance. Without a system of this kind there is a tendency for the Public Service to degenerate into a charitable institution, continuing employees in the Service long after they can efficiently fulfil their duties. Under the Act, employees who are unable through age or infirmity to perform their duties can be retired immediately and their positions filled by those who are younger or stronger.

The general effect of an adequate retirement system is to promote the efficient and economical working of the Public Service, and in so far as a Government consults the public interest, it establishes a retirement system mainly as a business proposition to secure better service. The public wants protection against losses due to inefficiency. It wants high-grade service which it realizes is not likely to be obtained unless reasonable permanency of tenure is guaranteed to its employees, a consideration which logically implies superannuation. The public also desires to be relieved of the expense of supporting through charity those who are forced to leave the Service through incapacity or old age, and is therefore appreciative of the social and economic value of such a system.

The operation of the Act has already stimulated the Service by creating vacancies which have led to several series of promotions. It has provided a new outlook for public servants and supplied them with an incentive which expresses itself in more efficient service. It has also resulted in considerable economy. The superannuation of an employee makes possible reorganization which frequently results in a reduction of the staff. In many cases it has not been necessary to appoint successors to those who have been superannuated.

Amendments

Experience under the operation of the Act has shown the need of certain amendments which it is the intention of the Board to recommend for consideration at the next Session of the Legislature. Reference has been made elsewhere in this Report to the desirability of fixing a minimum annual allowance and of making better provision for the insurance of employees in the Public Service. The Board also feels that authority should be granted for the review of cases where employees are superannuated under Section 5 (b) of the Act, on account of physical disability. A few other proposed amendments will also be submitted for consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

The Public Service Superannuation Board,

J. M. McCutcheon,
Secretary.

The Amending Act, 12-13 Geo. V., Chapter 5, was assented to June 13, 1922.

HIS MAJESTY, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, enacts as follows:—

1. This Act may be cited as The Ontario Public Service Superannuation Act, 1920.

2. In this Act:

(a) "Board" shall mean board appointed under the authority of this Act to administer the same;

(b) "Employee" shall mean and include every person employed in the service of the Crown as representing the Province of Ontario who receives a stated annual salary with or without perquisites or emoluments in addition thereto, and the Provincial Auditor, the officers, clerks, and servants in the Audit Office and the officers and employees of the Assembly, but shall not include any person employed in a part time capacity or appointed for a temporary purpose or for a stated period or employed temporarily in any work or service for the Government of Ontario; (As amended by S-2, C.5, 1922).

(c) "Fund" shall mean Public Service Superannuation Fund;

(e) "Regulations" shall mean regulations made under the authority of this Act.

3. There shall be established a fund to be known as the Public Service Superannuation Fund and an account shall be opened in the books of the Treasurer of Ontario to be known as the Public Service Superannuation Fund Account.

4. The Fund shall be formed of contributions from the salaries of the employees and payments and credits to be made thereto on behalf of the Government as hereinafter provided.

5. Subject to the provisions of this Act and to the regulations there shall be granted a yearly superannuation allowance to:

(a) Every employee who having attained the age of seventy years, and having served at least ten years continuously in the public service retires therefrom;

(b) Every employee who, having served at least ten years continuously in the public service, is retired therefrom on account of ill-health or physical incapacity, and who is declared by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council upon the report of the Civil Service Commissioner to be entitled to superannuation. (As amended by S-3, C.5, 1922).

(1) The Board shall have power to review from time to time the case of an employee who is superannuated on account of ill-health or physical incapacity and, where such employee recovers, the Board shall report his case to the Government, who may offer him further employment. (Added by S-3(1), C.5, 1922).

(2) Where an employee, who has been superannuated on account of ill-health or physical incapacity, upon recovery is offered re-employment by the Government, but does not accept such re-employment, the Board may, on the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, discontinue the superannuation allowance granted to such employee. (Added by S-3(2), C.5, 1922).

(3) Where an employee who has been superannuated on account of ill-health or physical incapacity is re-employed by the Government, his superannuation allowance shall be suspended during the time of his re-employment, and the period of such further employment shall be counted in determining the superannuation allowance to which he is entitled at his final retirement. (Added by S-3(3), C.5, 1922).

6. Every male employee, if married at the date of his entering the service, or if married subsequently and before he has been for ten years in the service, shall furnish to the Board from time to time as required, a certificate that his life is insured in favour of his dependent or dependents being within the class of preferred beneficiaries within the meaning of The Ontario Insurance Act, in some reliable insurance company for an amount of not less than $2,000 and for a period of at least ten years from the date of his entering the service, and in default of his furnishing such certificate, the Board may insure the life of such employee and the cost of such insurance shall be deducted from his salary. (As amended by S-4, C.5, 1922).

7. Where an employee who would have been entitled upon his retirement to the superannuation allowance, dies after having served for at least ten years continuously in the public service, there shall be granted to his personal representatives or to a member of his family, a lump sum not exceeding one year's salary at the rate of the average yearly salary of such employee during the last three years of his service, or a lump sum not exceeding the contributions made by him under this Act during his lifetime with interest at five per cent. per annum compounded yearly whichever may be the greater.

(a) Or, in case such employee dies leaving a widow or infant children under the age of eighteen years, one-half of the superannuation allowance to which such employee would have been entitled had he been superannuated at the date of his death shall be paid to the widow for her life or during her widowhood, but if the wife of such employee dies before him, or where, having survived him, she dies or marries again leaving infant children by him, such half superannuation allowance shall be paid to those children of such employee if any, who shall not have attained the age of eighteen years, and until they do attain such age.

8. Where an employee dies while in the public service before having served for ten years, there shall be granted to his personal representatives, or to a member of his family, a lump sum not exceeding the total of the contributions made by such employee under this Act with interest at five per cent. per annum. (As amended by S-5, C.5, 1922).

9. Where an employee retires voluntarily from the service, or his office is abolished before the time when a superannuation allowance could be granted to him, the sums which have been deducted from his salary under this Act shall be forthwith returned to him with interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum. (As amended by S-6, C.5, 1922).

10. Where in addition to a cash salary an employee enjoys emoluments, perquisites or privileges incidental to his office, the Board shall fix the value of such emoluments, perquisites or privileges, and the same shall be added to, and for the purposes of this Act shall be deemed to form part of his salary, and the deductions required by this Act shall be made upon that basis from the cash salary received by him.

11.—(1) Commencing with the month of November, 1920, and thereafter, there shall be deducted from the salary of every employee monthly an amount equal to the percentage of his salary according to the scale set out in sub-section 2 of this section, and the amount so deducted shall be placed to the credit of the fund in the Public Service Superannuation Fund Account.

(2) The percentage to be deducted from the salary of an employee shall be as follows:

of this Act when he is not less than forty-one years of age but less than forty-three years of age—four and one-half per cent.; (As amended S-7, C.5, 1922).

(j) If the employee is in the public service at the time of the commencement of this Act and is not less than forty-three years of age but less than forty-five years of age—or enters the service after the commencement of this Act when he is not less than forty-three years of age but less than forty-five years of age—four and three-quarters per cent.; (As amended by S-7, C.5, 1922).

(k) If the employee is in the public service at the time of the commencement of this Act and is forty-five years of age or more, or enters the service after the commencement of this Act when he is forty-five years of age or more, five per cent. (As amended by S-7, C.5, 1922).

(3) A person who before the first day of November, 1920, was temporarily employed in the public service, and who has been subsequently or is hereafter appointed to a permanent position in the public service and whose service in such temporary employment has been continuous up to the date of such permanent appointment, shall have deductions made from his salary in accordance with the provisions of subsection 2 as from the first day of November 1920. (Added by S-8(3), C.5, 1922).

(4) A person who has been appointed temporarily to the public service on or after the first day of November, 1920, and who is subsequently appointed to a permanent position in the service and whose temporary employment has been continuous up to the date of such permanent employment may within one month after his permanent appointment, give notice in writing to the Board to deduct from his salary an amount sufficient to cover the amount which would have been payable by him had he been appointed permanently at the date of his temporary appointment, and in the event of his so doing he shall be entitled to credit for the period of his temporary employment in reckoning the amount of any annual allowance subsequently payable to him under this Act, but in the event of his failing to give such notice the period of such temporary employment shall not be included in determining the length of the period of his employment. (Added by S-8(4), C.5, 1922).

12. Whenever any amount is credited to the fund by way of deductions from the salaries of the employees an equivalent amount shall be credited to the fund as the contribution of the Government thereto, but any refunds made under section 9 shall be credited to the Government as part of and shall be deducted from the contribution of the Government under this section. (As amended by S-9, C 5, 1922).

13. There shall be credited to the fund by the Government interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum compounded annually, and such interest shall be made up as of the close of each fiscal year upon any balance at the credit of the fund as the contribution of employees or of the Government at the commencement of the fiscal year and all sums contributed by the employees and by the Government during the year.

14. Until the contributions by the employees and the Government are sufficient to equal the benefits provided for and payable to employees under this Act, and thereafter whenever the amount at the credit of the fund is insufficient to meet the payments required on account of benefits to employees provided by this Act, the deficiency shall be made up out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

15. The costs of the administration of this Act shall be borne by the Province of Ontario and shall be payable out of such moneys as may be appropriated from time to time by the Legislature for that purpose.

16.—(1) The superannuation allowance payable to any employee shall be calculated upon the average yearly salary of the employee during the last three years of his service and shall not exceed one-fiftieth part of such annual salary multiplied by the total number of full years of service and any fraction of a year of continuous service, and including service previous to appointment by Order-in-Council where such service has been continuous and the employee has contributed as provided by subsections 3 and 4 of section 11, but no more than thirty years of service shall be reckoned nor shall the yearly superannuation allowance exceed in any case the sum of $2,000, nor in the case of an employee superannuated under section 17 shall such superannuation allowance be less than $360, but in no case shall the annual allowance exceed the final annual salary of the employee. (As amended by S-10, C.5, 1922).

(2) The amendment made by subsection 1 shall take effect as from the 15th day of June, 1920. (Added by S-10 (2), C.5, 1922).

17.—(1) Except as provided in subsection three of this section and subject to the provisions of sections 26 and 27, and notwithstanding anything contained in any Act relating to any department, branch, or office in the public service or in any other Act of this Legislature, every employee, no matter by what tenure he holds office, shall retire from the service of the Government upon attaining the age of seventy years.

(2) An employee who has served for thirty years or more in the service of the Government and has attained the age of sixty-five years may be retired at his option or at the option of the Government and shall be entitled to the superannuation allowance hereinbefore provided.

(3) Where the Lieutenant-Governor in Council decides that it is in the public interest to retain the services of an employee who has attained the age of seventy years before or after the commencement of this Act, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may, with the consent of such employee, direct that he be continued in the service for a further period upon such terms as to remuneration during service, and as to superannuation or retiring allowance upon retirement as the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may deem expedient.

18. Where an employee who is granted a superannuation allowance under this Act dies before having received in all an amount equal to one year's salary at the rate of his annual yearly salary during the last three years of his service, there shall be paid to the personal representatives of such person, or to a member of his family, as the Board may direct, a sum equal to the remainder of such amount, or where such employee dies leaving a widow, or child under the age of eighteen years, one-half of the superannuation allowance to which the deceased was entitled shall be continued to the widow of such employee for her life or during her widowhood, but if such employee is a widower or if his wife having survived him, remarries, such one-half superannuation allowance shall be paid to the children of such employee, if any, who have not attained the age of eighteen years and until they have attained that age.

(a) Nothing in this section shall apply to a widow, under fifty years of age, of an employee to whom she was married after he reached the age of sixty years.

19. An employee who is in the service of the Government at the commencement of this Act and who retires on account of having reached the age of retirement before he has been ten years in the service shall be paid out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund an amount equal to one-tenth of his annual salary multiplied by the number of years he has been in the service, but such amount shall in no case exceed $2,000. (As amended by S-11, C.5, 1922).

20. An employee who is in the service of the Government at the time of the commencement of this Act and who is retired at any time after the passing of this Act on account of having reached the age of retirement after having been at least ten years in the service, shall receive annually as a superannuation allowance at least one-half of the salary which he was receiving immediately preceding his superannuation, but such allowance shall in no case exceed annually the sum of $2,000.

21. The superannuation allowance payable to any employee under this Act or to his widow or infant children shall be paid in monthly instalments in the manner hereinafter provided.

22. The interest of any employee in the fund under this Act or in any retiring allowance or pension payable out of the fund shall be exempt from provincial and municipal taxes and shall not be subject to garnishment or attachment or seizure or any legal process and shall be unassignable.

23. This Act shall be administered by a board to be known as the Public Service Superannuation Board, which shall consist of the President of the Executive Council, who shall be the chairman thereof, the Civil Service Commissioner, one representative to be appointed by each of the recognized political parties in the Legislature, and a representative of the Ontario Civil Service Association.

23a.—(1) There shall be payable to every member of the board who is not in receipt of a salary from the Crown, out of any moneys appropriated for the administration of this Act, an allowance not exceeding $15 per diem for every day's attendance at a meeting of the board, and the said sum shall be payable by the Treasurer of Ontario upon the certificate of the chairman of the board. (Added by S-2(1), C.3, 1921).

(2) Notwithstanding anything in the Legislative Assembly Act or any other Act contained, a member of the board heretofore appointed who is also a member of the Legislature shall not be rendered ineligible or be disqualified from sitting and voting in the Assembly, nor incur any other penalty or liability whatsoever by reason of his receiving payment under subsection 1. (Added by S-2(2), C.3, 1921).

24. No employee shall be entitled to receive any payment on account of superannuation allowance until the board has reported that he is entitled thereto under the provisions of this Act.

25. The Board, subject to the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, may make regulations—

(a) Providing for the proofs to be furnished before granting any allowance under this Act;

(b) Generally for the better carrying out of the provisions of this Act.

26. Superannuation shall be compulsory for every employee eligible therefor and to whom it is offered by the Government, and such offer shall in no manner be considered as a censure upon an employee.

27. Where a question arises as to the application of this Act to any officer, clerk or servant in the employment of the Government or as to any class of employees, the same shall be determined by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

28—(1) The payments and credits required to be made by the Government by way of contributions to the fund and for interest and the benefits payable under this Act to employees or their representatives, and the costs and expenses incurred in the administration of this Act shall be a charge upon and shall be payable out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

(2) The payment of any benefit to an employee or his representatives under this Act, and the payment of the expenses incurred in the administration of the fund, shall be made upon a requisition in writing signed by the chairman of the Board and directing the issue of the cheque of the Treasurer of Ontario for the amount named in the requisition, and such direction shall be final and conclusive, and the cheque of the Treasurer of Ontario shall be issued for the amount stated in the requisition and the Auditor shall countersign the same, anything in the Audit Act to the contrary notwithstanding.

29. There shall be laid before the Legislative Assembly within one week after the commencement of each Session a return showing:—

(a) The names of all civil servants who have retired from the public service, or who have died during the last preceding fiscal year;

(b) The offices held by them or the nature of their employment respectively;

(c) The amount of salary payable to each at the time of retirement or death;

30. (Repealed by S. 12, C. 5, 1922.)

31. An employee who is in receipt of benefits from any other superannuation Act or fund to which the Government contributes shall not be eligible for benefits under this Act.

But:

(a) An employee who at the time of the commencement of this Act is in receipt of benefits from any fund for superannuated teachers shall be entitled upon his retirement to receive from the fund any sum provided by this Act less the amount of any pension payable to him as a superannuated teacher, and

(b) An employee who is at the time of the passing of this Act a contributor to any such fund for superannuated teachers shall make his election in writing before the first day of July, 1920, as to whether he will remain a contributor to such fund or will become a contributor to and entitled to share in the benefits of the fund established under this Act, and if he elects to become a contributor to the fund established under this Act he shall cease to be a contributor to or to be entitled to the benefit of any such fund for superannuated teachers, and shall become subject to the provisions of this Act.

32. This Act shall come into force and take effect on the 15th day of June, 1920.

13.—(1) The Ontario Public Service Superannuation Act, 1920, shall extend and apply to any person holding the office of sheriff of a county or district in Ontario whether such sheriff is paid by fees or salary, or partly by fees and partly by salary, and a sheriff shall be deemed to be an "employee" within the meaning of this Act, but any amount payable on account of superannuation allowances under this section granted to sheriffs who have, at the time of the commencement of this Act, attained the age of seventy years, or who shall attain the age of seventy years before November 1, 1930, shall be added to the contribution of the Government to the Ontario Public Service Superannuation Fund and shall be chargeable to the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

(2) The contribution to be made to the Public Service Superannuation Fund by a sheriff shall be the same percentage of his net income from fees and other emoluments and any salary or allowance paid to him by the Province for the fiscal year next preceding that in which the contribution is made, as the percentage to be deducted from the salary of an employee under subsection 2 of section 11 of the said Act.

(a) In this subsection "net income" shall have the same meaning as in The Public Officers Fees Act.

(3) The Lieutenant-Governor in Council upon the recommendation of the Public Service Superannuation Board may make regulations respecting the time and manner in which contributions to the said fund shall be made by sheriffs, and generally for the better carrying out of the provisions of this section.

FOREWORD

In August 1920, the Mothers' Allowances Commission had its first session at No. 15 Queen's Park. All members were present. The Commission had the pleasure during the day, of conference with the Honourable W. R. Rollo, Minister of Labour, under whose department the Mothers' Allowances Act is administered.

The immediate task undertaken by the Commission according to the Act was the appointment of a Local Board in each city, separated town, county, Judicial district, a total of ninety-six Boards in the Province. Each Local Board consists of five members, except in a few instances where circumstances made it desirable to appoint six members. All members of Local Boards serve gratuitously, only travelling expenses in attendance upon meetings being paid upon presentation of vouchers signed by the Chairman of the Board.

As the municipalities pay fifty per cent. of the cost of allowances, the mayors of cities and separated towns, the wardens of counties, and the judges of judicial districts were invited to nominate two of the members of each of the Local Boards. The Commission appoints the Board. The Boards were appointed without regard to politics, the one consideration being to have a representative Board of citizens of good standing in the community, and sympathetic with the Act.

The total amount contributed by the municipalities is paid to the beneficiaries, as the Government in addition to paying fifty per cent. of allowances, pays the whole cost of administration. In unorganized districts the Government assumes the entire cost.

Much delay was occasioned in the appointment of Boards through the failure of a number of mayors and wardens to nominate the representatives of the municipalities. Eventually, however, after very considerable correspondence, the Boards were all appointed and organized. Each Board appointed its own Chairman, Vice-Chairman, and secretary. With two or three exceptions, the Boards have rendered excellent service, receiving and passing upon all applications within their territory, and as far as possible, giving a general oversight to all matters relating to the applicants and beneficiaries within their municipalities.

The Chairman, Vice-Chairman, or one of the members of the Commission, have met the Local Boards of Peterborough, Toronto, Windsor, Brantford, London, Woodstock, Kitchener, Saulte Ste. Marie, Port Arthur & Thunder Bay, Fort William, Galt, Belleville, Trenton, Chatham, St. Thomas, St. Catharines, Hamilton, Ottawa, Kingston, Stratford, Sarnia, Niagara Falls, Guelph, Oxford, Waterloo, Lincoln, Middlesex, Ontario, Simcoe, Dundas, Wentworth, Huron, Lambton, Haldimand, York, Welland, Kenora, Sudbury, Algoma, Muncey, Ingersoll. It is hoped it may be possible to meet the other Local Boards during the year.

In Indian Reserves, the Board includes representative missionaries in the Reserve, and the Indian Agent. The allowance is administered by the Indian Agent or by a member of the Board. As the Indians are wards of the Federal Government, arrangements have been made through the Department of Indian affairs at Ottawa, whereby the Department reimburses the Province to the extent of one half of the allowance granted. Very few Indians have become beneficiaries.

Allowances are not passed by the Commission without the recommendation of the Local Boards. Large numbers of applications approved by Local Boards have been declared ineligible by the Commission. Many of these were sent by the Local Boards for a ruling by the Commission. With fuller information relating to the Act and its Amendments and the regulations and resolutions governing its administration, the Local Boards are sending on now, comparatively few ineligible cases.

As the work of the Commission is provincial in its scope, it was decided, in the appointment of the staff, to advertise in the papers of the larger cities of the province, inviting applications for the positions to be filled. Over three hundred applied as investigators and about one hundred and twenty-five made applications for the position of executive secretary. The Commission considered carefully all applications and did not recommend appointments until those most fitted for the position had been interviewed.

The organization of the province for the purposes of investigation and supervision occupied much time. A statement is given in the report showing the names of the investigators and the Districts assigned to them. Two of these are French women, who speak both languages.

Forms of application, instructions to Local Boards, bulletins, etc., had all to be prepared and printed in English and French, before the actual work of considering applications could be undertaken. The necessary regulations governing the administration of the Act had of course to be prepared and submitted to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

No sooner was it announced that the Commission had been appointed than applications and inquiries by letter began to pour in at the office of the Commission in great numbers. From many sources, the cry came to pass allowances quickly. The Commission believing, however, that the best interests of all would be conserved, if the administration of the Act was placed from the beginning upon a sound basis, decided not to recommend allowances until approved by a Local Board and investigated by a member of the Provincial staff.

Everything possible was done to hasten the organization of the office, the appointing of investigators, the creation of Local Boards, in order that the actual work of recommending allowances under the provisions of the Act might be undertaken. A special staff of temporary investigators was appointed to expedite the work of investigation.

It was early realized that there would be a very large number of applications, many more than at first anticipated, and it was decided to strike a flat rate of payment until the probable number of beneficiaries could be determined, and the probable cost to the province. It was agreed to pay a maximum of $55 monthly in the city and $45 monthly in towns, villages, and rural districts. At a later date it was agreed to pay $5 monthly for each additional child in families of over five children if under sixteen years of age, and if the circumstances of the family warranted the increase. It was also decided in view of the great number of applications that only those that were really in need of immediate help should be recommended for an allowance. In consequence, no widow with an equity of more than $2500 in her own home, unless in special circumstances may receive an allowance. She may have in addition not more than $350 in liquid assets.

The Commission has encouraged the applicants with cash on hand, and living in rented houses to invest in a home and become eligible, and those with homes have been encouraged to retain them. In a number of cases where the house was poor and unsanitary, money held by the widow over the amount stated, has been used to make it habitable.

In deciding upon the amount to be recommended for any applicant, consideration is given to the wages of older children, and to any source of income, and deduction made accordingly. To place the woman with equity in a house upon the same basis as the woman paying rent, a small deduction is made in the allowance recommended.

Arrangements with the Patriotic Fund have been made as follows:—

"That in the cases where recipients of the Canadian Patriotic Fund are eligible under the Mothers' Allowances Act and such recipients make application for allowance to the Mothers' Allowances Commission, the Commission shall allow the amount of its award in eligible cases, such amounts being allowed upon the same basis as those granted to other applicants in similar circumstances. The supervision of the family to which such Mothers' Allowance is granted shall be wholly under the Mothers' Allowances Commission."

The allowance being received by any applicant from the Workmen's Compensation Act is supplemented, if the allowance is less than the amount paid to beneficiaries under the Mothers' Allowances Act.

We receive from the Official Guardian all necessary information in relation to monies held by him on behalf of the children of beneficiaries and the amount being paid to the mother toward the maintenance of the children.

When a mother applies for an allowance on the ground that her husband is in an asylum, an official statement to that effect is secured from the Public Trustee.

Applications on the ground of the total and permanent incapacitation of the father must be accompanied by a statement showing the specific cause of incapacitation and its probable duration, submitted by a reputable physician on a form supplied by the Commission for that purpose.

Foster mother applications are made out on specially prepared forms. Certificates of marriage, birth, and death, must be submitted by the applicant.

The Commission does not pretend to deal with cases of family desertion. This appalling problem must be met by the Government in a more fundamental way. It was possible for the Commission through the provisions of the Act of 1920 to consider a woman legally a widow who "had not heard of or from her husband for a period of seven years." The amended Act of 1921 permits the Commission to recommend an allowance where the presumption of death is five years. A statutory declaration carefully prepared must be made by each applicant under the amended clause.

The Commission does not consider it wise to recommend an amendment to the Act, providing that an allowance may be granted to the widow with one child. The widows with one child number almost as many as all widows with two or more children. Amendments to the Act 1921 made it possible, however, for the Commission to recommend an allowance to a mother with one child under sixteen years, if under her care there was a husband totally and permanently incapacitated, or a child over sixteen years permanently incapacitated.

Applications that have to be refused or cancelled because the "mother is not a fit and proper person" are referred with a complete report to the Children's Aid Society or to the organization most interested in the family.

The Commission has considered every application entirely upon its merits. In reaching its conclusions the Commission has been influenced by the belief that the sentiment upon which the Act was built was aroused by the conception of the needs of the widow with young children and no resources, and by the belief that the Act was framed in the interests of the children.

Reports from investigators published in this report show already gratifying results obtained through the provisions of the Act. The constructive and rehabilitative work of the supervisor is of great value and it would be difficult to overestimate its importance.

Need for Government action in relation to family desertion, the feeble minded, venereal disease problems, better housing conditions and thorough medical inspection of rural schools are all indicated in the reports. The social tragedies revealed in our records are indeed sad.

The Municipalities have been cordial in their relationships with the Commission and each Municipality has contributed its share of the cost of the allowances. A monthly list of beneficiaries is forwarded to each Municipality and monthly returns made. Adjustments between Municipalities due to the change in residence of beneficiaries are made by the Accountant and the utmost care is exercised in the Accountant's Department to have Municipalities charged only with their share of the amount paid to the beneficiaries within their borders. If a beneficiary has been more than a year in the Municipality from which she moves, that Municipality is charged for the share of the allowance until there has been established residence of one year in another Municipality: Beneficiaries are required to secure the consent of the Commission before removing from one Municipality to another.

The attitude of the Government to the Commission has been as outlined in a letter sent by the Prime Minister to an applicant in response to her appeal for his influence on her behalf:—"I would beg to remind you that the Government or any member of it has not the power to say who shall or shall not receive allowances under the Mothers' Allowances Act. That matter is entirely in the hands of the members of the Mothers' Allowances Commission. I think when you consider the matter, that you will see that it is quite proper that it should be so. Governments are, after all, dependent upon the good will of the people and are always under the temptation to do things that would bring them popular support, either in the mass or individually. To give to any Government power to say who shall or shall not be beneficiaries under such an Act as the Mothers' Allowances Act, would be so dangerous that it should not be for one moment considered. It would open a way to practices which, in the public interest, should not be allowed. It would become almost inevitably a means for the exercise of patronage and favoritism. For that reason, the Mothers' Allowances Act provides for the administration of the Act by a Commission, which is, properly I think, as independent of the Government or any other influence, as the Judges on the Bench. Neither I nor any other member of the Government can interfere with the work of the Commission. The most I can do is to draw the attention of the Commission to your case. They must take full responsibility for action."

The Commission has appreciated very much the courtesy and practical assistance of the Honorable W. R. Rollo, Minister of Labour, in all matters relating to the administration of the Mothers' Allowances Act.

Signed on behalf of the Commisssion.

PETER BRYCE, Chairman.

The decrease in the average amount of allowance paid may be explained as follows:—

1. The necessity in the early days of the administration of giving needy cases precedence.

2. The adoption later of the resolutions with reference to property and wage earners.

The increase in the number of payments and the increase in the amount of allowance is shown in Diagrams 1 and 2.

DIFFICULTIES OF TRAVEL AND TRANSPORTATION

The Investigators have large districts to cover and are handicapped by lack of transportation facilities. Sometimes a visit entails a drive or horse-back ride of thirty miles and where liveries are scarce, long walks of twelve to fifteen miles.

An application was recently received from a district so inaccessible that it was necessary for the visitor to stay overnight at the nearest railway stop in order to drive fifty-six miles the next day to her destination.

In the North the Investigator has found it necessary to travel by hand-car back into the mining districts. Train crews have let her ride miles on a freight train, having supper in the caboose and helping to wash the dishes. Some of her travelling has been done by stone-boat.

The hardships of winter travelling are great, with delays in train service on snow blocked lines and long drives in heavy snow and zero weather. Some of these drives in the North are through snow so deep that is has to be left to the horses to stick to the trail.

In the Spring, the bad condition of the roads makes many districts impossible of access for many weeks and itineraries have to be arranged so as to cover these territories while the frost holds.

Among other difficulties of which complaint has been made is that of poor train service on branch lines with perhaps only one train in twenty-four hours, meaning a whole day spent in making one visit.

Much time is lost through the misleading nature of rural route addresses, sometimes taking the visitor miles out of her way.

The lack of accommodation in small towns and villages makes it very difficult to arrange any itinerary where the train service is poor.

Applicants who move without giving notification of their change of address or who absent themselves from home on long visits without letting the visitor know, are also responsible for much delay and unnecessary expenditure both of time and money.

Many of those applying for allowances are working all day in store or factory, making it necessary to visit them at night and where the visitor is unable to give notice of her visit, several visits may be made before finding the applicant at home.

These handicaps make it difficult to cover such a large area and the efforts of the investigators to do so with as little loss of time and money as possible have been praiseworthy.

Duties of Investigators

(a) Investigation of Applications for Allowances:—

When the Commission is notified by the Local Board that an application has been made and is approved by the Local Board, the name is given the Investigator for that district for home visit and investigation. Certain forms have been prepared designed to give the Commission information on the points on which its decision is to be made and these forms require to be filled out. Certificates of marriage, of birth and of death are required and if not in possession of applicant she is instructed how to obtain them from the Registrar-General's Department. Baptismal certificates are not accepted.

The Investigator's report, in conjunction with that of the Local Board, informs the Commission as to the fitness of the mother to bring up her children and to maintain proper standards in the home and that the other members of the household and the home environment are such as to be conducive to the welfare of the children.

Inquiry is made as to the financial standing of the family, its earning ability, the ability of relatives to contribute to its support, its property holdings, negotiable assets and its debts, together with a rough outline of the cost of maintenance of the family.

This investigation is made in such a way that the applicant may regard it as easy and dignified to make an application for an allowance which she is made to feel is no "charity" and involves no sacrifice of her independence. Good investigation prevents the hasty granting of allowances which may later have to be cancelled.

The experience of other Mothers' Allowances Commissions show that the best results can only be obtained by careful, painstaking investigation and that the time which this takes is time well spent.

Page 22 of the Administration of the Aid-To-Mothers-Law in Illinois, has a table showing that only 15.6 per cent. of these applicants were granted pensions within two months of the time of application and that 84.2 per cent. waited for longer periods. "To those familiar with relief problems this needs no explanation. The court must choose between making a thorough, which means a slow, investigation and granting pensions after an incomplete investigation, with the danger of having to withdraw them later. That the court has done well to choose the former method will scarcely be questioned. Those who criticise private charitable agencies for 'taking so much time to investigate' have learned that a public agency must follow the same methods if its work is to be well done."

(b) Planning for the Family

The Investigator, on the granting of the allowance, helps the mother to work out a suitable plan under which the home may be maintained. This involves the consideration and arrangement of such questions as the mother's own employment, its nature and its hours, providing for the maximum amount of time the mother can be at home with her children, the employment of children of earning age and the amount of their contributions to the home, the choice of a home, its convenience to school and work, its environment and housing conditions and the expenditure of the allowance in the most advantageous and economical way.

(c) Supervision.

The Investigators are required to visit beneficiaries regularly with frequent reports to the Commission as to home conditions and the welfare of the children, as to the advisability of continuing or discontinuing the allowance, as to changes of circumstances indicating that the allowance should be increased or decreased and as to the mother's ability to wisely expend the allowance.

The advice and help of the Investigators is given the beneficiaries wherever it is needed or asked for. In the majority of cases, however, their supervision is limited to friendly visiting. It is not the wish of the Commission that there should be any weakening of the beneficiary's feeling of independence, or taking away of the family's own initiative.

In many cases the Investigator can be of service in securing of opportunities for the family, as for instance in the securing of employment for children of wage earning age and in advice and help in the matter of employment of the children as they approach that age.

Special watch is kept over the health of the family, the proper feeding and clothing of the children, housing conditions and the moral atmosphere of the home.

Special Points Noted by Investigation Department During Year.

School Attendance

In very few cases has it been found that mothers are lax in this regard, the majority being eager to secure the fullest possible educational advantages for their children.

In a few isolated cases it has been necessary to report to the school authorities children wrongly kept at home, or exemption papers secured by falsifying age or misrepresentation of the need in the home.

The Investigators have commented upon the eagerness of the mothers to avail themselves of the co-operation of the Mothers' Allowances Act and the Adolescent School Attendance Act. Very few are asking for the exemption of the children over fourteen, the result being the prevention of children being prematurely sent to work and giving many children a chance for more intelligent choice of occupation.

One family was found with five members living within half a mile of the school, none of the children attending school and none of the older members of the family ever having attended school. None could read or write and the mother gave the explanation that they had never been suitably clothed. Since the granting of the Mothers' Allowance satisfactory reports are being received regarding their school attendance.

One mother who before an allowance was granted was cooking in a lumber camp while her children looked after themselves writes:—"I am not going out to work now, I am looking after my garden and children. It has always been my greatest desire to get my children to school and for a country school I think they have done splendidly for we don't always have our school start as soon as it is time on account of having to send so far for a teacher. Rest assured that when our teacher comes, the children will attend regularly for that was always my great desire to give them as much schooling as I can."

Another says: "My older children had to leave school and go to work as soon as they were able and now they are unskilled workers, Now that I have a regular allowance coming in, my little ones shall have the chance denied the older ones."

An Investigator reports that in one case where school exemption had been secured on account of the small family income, the Investigator was able to obtain a scholarship from a Philanthropic Agency to partially replace the amount earned by the child who then returned to school and in another similar case a scholarship will be granted by the same agency as soon as a Mothers' Allowance is granted.

In some unorganized districts where there is no high school, arrangements have been made by which the children live in the nearest town from Monday to Friday each week, working for their board and attending school.

Health

At the end of a year's experience it has been extremely gratifying to the visitors in the homes of the beneficiaries to see the improvement in the health of the mothers and their children. All the visitors speak of the change in the faces of the mothers from whose faces the tired and worried look is disappearing. "Pinched and thin faces have filled out and many a mother speaks of the comfort of being able to rest when she had wondered how much longer she could stand the exhaustion that came from working all day and every day away from home and then at home, working late into the night doing the family washing, mending and cooking."

The haunting fear of sickness that would prevent the mother from keeping the home together often was the conducive factor to the very sickness she feared and many mothers who were so overworked and discouraged that they felt they could go on no longer, now show signs of regaining their strength since the strain has been lifted.

The general health of the children has also benefitted. The burden of the upkeep of the home being wholly or partially lifted from the shoulders of the mother, she has had more time to spare for keeping a cleaner, more healthy and wholesome home, preparing more nourishing food and watching more closely the physical development of her children.

Mothers have been able to remain at home and nurse their children when they were ill instead of having to leave them to the care of others for fear of losing their employment and wages. Mothers with young infants have been enabled to nurse their children instead of the artificial feeding to which they would have had to resort were they forced into full time employment. Some families have been able to move to better and more healthy neighborhoods.

The Investigators particularly note delicate children and those with physical defects to which, perhaps, the mother had never had time to give attention, or was ignorant of how to remedy. Mentally deficient, deaf or blind children are looked after and where institutional care or sanitorium treatment is needed this is advised by the Investigators and assistance is given in arranging for it.

One little four year old girl was a cripple from knock-knees. She was taken to an Orthopaedic Specialist and her legs were straightened by operations and the mother is carefully following the doctor's instructions as to her care and nourishment.

A mother writes that one of her children has actually doubled in weight during the months she has been receiving the allowance. Others report a gain of from three to sixteen pounds in a few months.

One beneficiary says "Harold was all the time bothered with indigestion from eating school lunches and I don't have any trouble with him now."

Hospitals, doctors and public health nurses have been very ready to cooperate and in some districts the school nurse and the Mothers' Allowances Investigator have visited together all the pensioned families, instructing and advising them in matters of hygiene and sanitation.

In one home the mother has one side paralyzed and is wholly dependent on the Mothers' Allowance and what help a married brother can give and there is a family of five children of whom one child had tonsils so badly diseased as to retard her school progress.

In this town, two of the local Doctors were approached and agreed to give their services free of charge. The operation was performed and the child has returned to school in good health.

BENEFICIARIES WHOSE EARNING POWERS ARE AFFECTED.

Poor Health	Tuberculosis	Venereal Disease	Mental Deficiency	Crippled
201	15	2	5	11

Where the mother has a communicable disease in a stage that causes her to be a menace to others she cannot be regarded as an eligible applicant but in a very few cases an allowance is being paid to tuberculous mothers who are taking sanitarium treatment which they were never free to do before. The children in these cases are being cared for by the grandmother and in every case the mother is improving rapidly under treatment and will soon be able to rejoin her family.

The Employment of Mothers.

For the present the allowance paid under the Mothers' Allowances Act is insufficient to maintain the family and can only be regarded as supplementary to the mother's own earnings or other source of income.

In every case, however, an effort has been made to obtain part time instead of full time employment for the mother in order that she may arrange to spend more time in the home or to arrange for her to earn without leaving the home, as by keeping roomers, dressmaking or doing laundry work in the home.

In this connection we have found large firms and heads of their departments very ready to co-operate and even in the slack season they have endeavored to make provision for the widow with dependent children, on part time work.

In deciding how much time the mother may be employed away from home the Commission is largely guided by the arrangements made for the care of the children during the mother's absence and by the age of these children. Where they can be left with some responsible adult relative, such as a grandmother, aunt or older sister and do not suffer during the mother's absence from the home, much more latitude may be allowed in this respect. Night work is discouraged as it has been found unsatisfactory from the point of view of the children's welfare.

Where the children are of school age it is particularly desirable that the mother should be at home when the children come home from school. The hours from four until the time of the evening meal being those when the children left free to roam the streets are liable to fall into mischief and bad company.

An application was made by a mother with two children whose father had died about two years previously since which time the mother had tried to maintain a home by factory work. Twice during that time the mother had had to give up the struggle and go to live with her father, the children being separated and placed with different relatives. When the Investigator visited the mother told her that this was her third attempt and if she failed this time she would never try again. She was very soon after in receipt of her allowance and she had no further difficulty in keeping this home together. There is little difficulty in getting mothers to see that their best service is to their children in their own home, not through their greater earning power when separated from them.

Reunited Families

Institutions	Relatives	Other sources—such as boarding houses
35	40	6

The most important effect of the Mothers' Allowances Act is that of keeping homes together and making it possible for mothers who have been forced to separate their families to bring them together again. On all sides mothers have said that but for the allowance they would have been forced to part with their children.

In one district alone during the year the visitor reports seventeen families brought together, the children having formerly been distributed amongst relatives or placed in institutions. In the same district five families on the verge of separation found it possible to keep the home together on their earnings when supplemented by an allowance where the personal effort of the mothers alone would have been insufficient to prevent separation.

In another district four homes in one part of the country were about to be broken up by a child-placing agency, there seeming to be no other way of providing for these children. A Mothers' Allowance was granted in all these cases and the homes were kept together and are showing marked improvement in cleanliness and standard of living.

The effect is as beneficial upon the mothers as upon the children, as one mother said to the visitor, she needed the children as badly as they needed her; that when her children were taken away from her she seemed to have no anchorage and, relieved of responsibility, she was in danger of drifting. Some of the happiest consequences of the allowances are among these reunited families.

A mother after struggling for eight years to support herself and two very young children, finally collapsed and on the investigation of her application for an allowance she was found in an hospital physically and nervously exhausted. The children were in an orphanage. In all these years she had not had a home, working almost altogether in the country or in small towns as she found it easier there to keep her children with her. The prospect of being granted an allowance lifted a load of anxiety and hastened her recovery. The Investigator interested friends in the donating of furniture and furnishings for the starting of a little home. The mother is now very happily settled in a little flat and has steady work three days a week as auxiliary nurse in one of the hospitals and the happiness of the children in their homelike surroundings is touching to see.

In another family the husband was incapacitated from supporting the family, by tuberculosis of the lungs in an advanced stage, and he was obliged to go to a sanitarium. There were five children, the youngest only a few months old. The husband and wife came from Russian Poland only about ten years ago.

When the application for an allowance was made the mother was boarding in the home of another Polish family and working daily in a factory. She had found it impossible to maintain the family on her own earnings and the children had been placed in an Orphanage. She kept repeating to the Investigator—"Oh, I am sorry for my baby." When the possibilities of an allowance were explained to her, with pathetic impatience she began searching for a little home of her own. After several unsuccessful attempts she found a little frame house at a low rental, very simple but roomy. She saw the possibilities of it, however, and soon had the walls tinted and her little stock of furniture in place and brought home five happy children from the Orphanage. The Investigator said it would be hard to find a happier scene than that family reunion.

A grateful mother who was enabled to get her children out of an institution and move from the city, where she had been working, to a small town, wrote to the Commission—"I feel that I must write you a note to thank you most sincerely for all the kindness you have shown to me in getting me the pension. It is indeed a great blessing to have my little boys with me after being separated for nearly four years and only God knows how grateful I am for it. Little Jack that was so sick at the Home is getting along splendidly. The air here seems so pure and lovely after being so confined.

Self-respect Maintained

By the majority of beneficiaries the allowance is felt to be a reward for service, not a form of public relief. This feeling is fostered by the Commission and its representatives by an insistence upon the mother's responsibility to the State in the bringing up of its citizens. The impersonal payment of the allowances by cheque through the mail also contributes to this absence of any humiliating feeling of "charity." Family pride is recognized by the Investigators as being a valuable asset to the state and one which we cannot afford to break down.

An application was received from a widow with four children under five years of age. Her husband, a professional man, had had a struggle to establish himself and was just beginning to succeed when he died very suddenly, leaving only a very small insurance and after the funeral expenses were paid, the widow had only enough left to make a small cash payment on a home—finding it impossible to rent a house with such a family of young children. She, herself, had been a professional woman before her marriage and could earn a good living for herself and children if she left them. She decided to try this plan and engaged a woman to look after the children. This proved very unsatisfactory, the children being neglected and becoming ill and she felt she must stay with them. She then tried keeping roomers but this was unsuccessful owing to the distance from town and the presence of young children in the home. She was trying to resign herself to the idea of placing the children in an institution and giving up her home when the Mothers' Allowances Act came into operation. An allowance was granted at once and the visitor persuaded the mother to take an infant to board so as to supplement her allowance. Her steady income, and small earnings without leaving her home, so encouraged the beneficiary that she became ambitious and an arrangement was made for her to handle a line of children's wear. One of her upstairs rooms was fitted up, cards were sent out and the little business launched. The Investigators remark upon the contrast between the mother's despondency and depression before the allowance was granted and her happiness and contentment now with her four little children with her in a comfortable little home.

Improvement in Home Conditions.

The Investigators have particularly noted a marvellous improvement in home conditions in many of the families under their supervision even in the short time the allowances have been paid.

In some of these homes an entirely new atmosphere has been created; new furnishings have replaced shabby or scanty furnishings; rough floors that were difficult to clean have been covered; whole clothes have replaced ragged ones; cleanliness and neatness await the visitor instead of untidiness. All because the mothers have at their disposal time and strength formerly spent in the struggle to keep the family warmed and fed. They have time to buy economically; to sew where before they had to buy ready-to-wear articles; time to cook wholesome dishes instead of using canned goods. One mother said to me "I can save almost as much as I used to earn because while I was at work the children wasted good food and burned more gas than I did."

Many beneficiaries have been enabled to move to better neighbourhoods where the children have found a more suitable environment. One Investigator says that the change in many homes is nothing short of remarkable. The mother has lost her worried look, the children are better fed and clothed and attending school regularly. Many of them are paying a little monthly on their old debts which have weighed heavily on their minds. The regularity of the allowance allows the beneficiary to plan her expenditure as she has never been able to do before.

The happier appearance of the children has also been noticed. The mother, sure of a certain regular income which will ensure the payment of rent or grocer, or other item of the living expenses, is able to spend more time at home and is not overworked or anxious and consequently not so irritable, reacting favourably on the home atmosphere.

Mothers and children are taking a pride in their homes and gardens and making great efforts to beautify and make them comfortable under the stimulus of being more at home and more at leisure. This has had a noticeable effect on the attitude of the older children who become more interested in a home that is attractive and to which they can ask their friends without embarrassment and they are consequently more ready to contribute to the support of such a home.

A beneficiary with an incapacitated husband and three children when first visited was going out washing every day of the week and scrubbing two nights from 12 p.m. to 4 a.m. in a hotel rotunda. She is now able to remain at home part time and the home shows decided improvement. This woman says she has just had her first pair of new shoes in five years.

In another instance a mother and four children lived in an isolated rural district in the back part of a house. There was no income whatever in this home except the mother's irregular earnings, occasional days washing or picking potatoes. This family now has a proper home and food, the mother having been found part time work and granted an allowance. She is keeping a cow and has a well kept garden.

From a small town came an application from a mother with seven children under fourteen with only four young wage-earners to maintain the whole family. This family was living in a small tumble-down frame house, having chinks in the doors and windows. Since the granting of an allowance, they have been able to move into a decent warm house and are adequately fed and clothed.

An application was received from another mother who, with her five children, was living in the home of her father whose farm was small and who had seven other members of his family dependent on him. The applicant's husband and all his brothers and sisters had died of tuberculosis and she and her children all seemed delicate and undernourished and cheerless. Her only asset was a mortgage of $1,000. She was encouraged to invest this in a little house costing $850, and she and her children are now settled in their own little home and with the help of the Mothers' Allowance she is able to live on the produce of her garden, cow and hens. Her relatives supply only her fuel.

One of the city investigators tells the story of a widow who for three years kept herself and two children on $5 a week, her own earnings. She received no assistance of any kind except a few clothes given her by the landlady of her rooming house. She had but two meals a day and on Sunday just a cup of tea. She was determined to keep her children and would not ask assistance. She had six little cups and divided her money weekly into—"rent, clothing, food, church, sundries and children," and when the money in any cup was spent they did without. Two years ago her salary was increased to $11 per week, and she was able to take another room and add a little to the family's comfort. Since the granting of a Mothers' Allowance, a wonderful change has taken place in this home. The family now occupies three rooms and the happiness and cheerfulness since the lifting of the burden of the fear of separation is marked—the mother for the first time in years was able to stay in bed for a week during illness, and could do it contentedly knowing that there was no danger of want while her allowance cheque was certain to come.

An investigator in another city writes—"From the time of her husband's death until she received the allowance, Mrs. X. was a source of concern to the various social agencies co-operating to assist her. She looked frail, was never well and received treatment at the Anti-Tuberculosis Dispensary because the physician considered her predisposed to that disease. The house was always untidy and the children neglected, left in the care of an aged relative while the mother gossiped at the neighbours. One day she received an allowance cheque for $40 and was assured that if she did what was right, this would come every month. She felt she need no longer eat only half as much as she would like in order that her children might have more: she realized that next winter the family would not have to shiver round a meagre fire and go to bed almost before dark to keep warm; she rejoiced that she need not again go through the humiliation of sitting on a bench at the City Relief Office waiting her turn to ask for an order of fuel which would never last half as long as it was supposed to. Part of her first cheque was spent for a ton of coal and the investigator was invited into the cellar to see it. The Doctor at the Dispensary says: "Mrs. X. has not been here for two months. She is so much better she does not need the tonic I had been prescribing. Instead of running the streets she is now found at home with the children, knitting or sewing for them. The house is clean and the allowance supplemented by her earnings by morning office cleaning is so well spent so far that a small amount is saved some months to pay off the mortgage on the house."

Another example of an awakened interest in improvement of the home conditions is that of Mrs. A. who, ever since her husband's death three years ago, has supported her family by taking in washing for six or seven weekly customers. She had no stationary tubs and was obliged to heat all the water on an oil stove. Her ambition was to save enough to buy a coal stove and to some day move to a house with modern conveniences.

The sixteen-year-old daughter had to be taken from school when the father died and she was paying into the home everything she earned. The mother and daughter were tired and discouraged and losing heart in the struggle when a Mother's Allowance was granted. To-day this home has undergone a transformation. During the summer, when there was little expense for heat and clothing, enough was saved to buy a second-hand coal stove which a neighbour attached to a boiler and put a hot water front in for the cost of the material only. The daughter saved enough to buy two chairs and a pretty table cover. Fresh clean curtains in the windows and a well washed and mended rag rug on the floor has made the place homelike and attractive. The result of a little more leisure to plan and a little more margin for saving. The mother says "Now I have my daughter at home in the evenings and she is not ashamed to bring her friends here instead of meeting them on the street or in other peoples' homes."

Again a family living in a mere shed on the outskirts of the city were practically dependent on public and private relief. The mother was trying to gain a living by working as a waitress in a factory lunch-room. She had miles to walk to her work, and as she was of middle age and not strong, this work was beyond her strength and she lost many a day's work through the illness of herself and others of her family, occasioned by the poor living conditions. She was, however, afraid to give up this factory work, not being able to afford the time it would take to secure day work which is better paid. The Mothers' Allowances gave her a chance to re-establish herself in a better home and to take time to look about, secure three good places where she obtained cleaning work, employing her two and one-half days each week. This employment supplements her allowance to the extent of $23 per month. As need arises she puts in extra work, but always has at least part of the week at home where the result of this needed attention is shown. Naturally careful and thrifty, the granting of an allowance has given her a chance to develop those housewifely instincts which make money saved, money earned.

One more example is that of a widow in a town in Eastern Ontario whose husband had been employed as caretaker of a public school. After his death, the trustees, realizing the difficulties in which the widow and her children were placed, allowed her to carry on the work as caretaker in order that the children might be kept together. At five every morning this faithful mother set out to the school, cleaning and sweeping, attending the furnace, shovelling snow and then at 9 o'clock she returned home tired and hungry to an untidy house where the children had dressed themselves, got their own breakfast and set out to school. After a day spent in doing her own housework, getting her children's dinner and washing and mending their clothes, she would set out again at 4 in the afternoon to tidy the school and bank the fires for the night, and it was after dark when she finally got home to finish her day's work there. She had few debts and was said to manage well but her health and the children's welfare suffered.

When an allowance was granted she was able to give up the work at the school and all work outside the home. Laundry work for two families weekly is done in the home. She has repapered her little rented home, hung fresh curtains in the windows and a cherry plant on the window-sill gives a home-like, comfortable appearance to a home, where the four children are always happy, neat and well cared for.

Reasons for Cancellation and Ineligibility.

(a) Unfitness of Mother.

The emphasis in deciding whether an allowance should be granted or not is in every case placed upon the welfare of the children. If it is felt that the mother is disqualified for maintaining a home of the proper standards by reason of a record of immorality, neglect of her children, or of feeble mindedness, with its consequent shiftlessness, inefficiency and dirt, the application is referred to the Children's Aid Society for disposal. The mother is regarded as an applicant for employment as a guardian of future citizens of the State, and if she does not measure up to the state's standards for such guardians, other arrangements must be sought in the best interests of the children and to prevent increase in the number of dependents of this nature. Where an allowance is granted and complaint is made of poor standards in the home, the beneficiary is informed that the allowance is of a temporary nature only, and will be continued only, while the Commission is satisfied as to the children's welfare—very rarely has it been found necessary to issue such a warning. Where a warning has been issued and the mother will not co-operate with the visitor in improving the conditions to which exception has been taken, little good can be accomplished by the continuance of an allowance, and the family is usually referred to the Children's Aid. The findings of the Commission in this respect are very similar to the experience of the Illinois Administrators of Mothers' Pensions.

"The Administration of the Aid-to-Mothers Law."

"In the words of the case record, eighteen of these mothers who were applicants refused to co-operate. This may, of course, mean a number of things. For example, a woman refuses to co-operate when she says that she is too sick to work but will not go to the doctor for examination; or when she will not give such necessary information as the names and addresses of relatives, place of her marriage, or the dates of birth of the children. Not infrequently a woman is placed in the group of refusing to co-operate when she insists upon taking men to room in her home, because the Court quite rightly considers this a dangerous practice for the widow with young children."

"She may refuse to move from an insanitary house or a demoralizing neighbourhood; she may insist on keeping male boarders or lodgers, or the husband may be the victim of an infectious disease dangerous to the members of his family and may refuse to leave the home. The Court may become convinced that not even with an allowance can the home be kept at that level for which the County is willing to be responsible."

(The Illinois Administrators' Policy is to exclude men roomers from the homes of beneficiaries. The Ontario Mothers' Allowances Commission, however, admits of two or more male roomers. One male roomer is not permitted.)

"The Administration of the Aid-to-Mothers Law in Illinois."

"Rejecting or dismissing applications is a very important part of the work of the pension or Aid-to-Mothers Department of the Court, and if the work of the Department is to be understood it is quite as necessary to study the rejected applications as those accepted. A woman who is found upon preliminary questioning to be plainly ineligible for a pension, is not allowed to file her application. If she is destitute and ineligible for a pension, she is told that she must apply to some relief agency and is told where to go. If it is not clear that an applicant is ineligible, the application is filed, the Court Officer investigates and the Committee, on the basis of this investigation, recommends that the application be granted or dismissed. In other cases where the home is clearly unfit, not only is the application dismissed, but also a petition is filed in order to have the children declared dependent under the section of the Juvenile Court Law which authorizes the Court to remove children from the custody of unfit parents. If this drastic remedy is not taken the co-operation of some other disciplinary agency may be sought."

It is not the wish of the Commission to cause any weakening of the family's own energy and self reliance and where it is felt that it is or should be self-maintaining no allowance is granted. The earnings of older children are considered and their ability to contribute to the home. In this connection it has sometimes been of use where it was felt that the older children were not assuming the responsibility they should, to draw the family's attention to the Act Providing for the Maintenance of Parents by their children.

The inter-related problem of unemployment often makes this question a difficult one, but in order to confine the limits of the Mothers' Allowances Act it has been found necessary to consider the matter of unemployment as separate to the Mothers' Allowance question, and where the family could be self-maintaining without an allowance, were all the members employed, it is not considered eligible unless there are special circumstances to be considered such as incapacitating sickness amongst the wage-earners.

The number of beneficiaries who have remarried is gratifying: this return to the normal home where the man is the wage-earner and the mother the homemaker constituting the best solution of the problem of the support and care of these dependent children. Two of these mothers, one of whom returned her last cheque to the Treasury, have written as follows:—

"Enclosed find pensions allowance cheque for September which I am returning as I was married the latter part of August. I am very grateful for the assistance received from the Board, as one left with little children only knows the handicap it is to struggle along. Again thanking the Department and its kind assistants, trusting this worthy cause will be continued."

"I am leaving for the West next week and I am to be married as soon as I arrive out there. I wish to thank you for the kindness you have shown since June, 1921, for without your help, I don't know what would have become of my children and myself. I thought it better to advise you of my marriage as you have been so kind to me. Hoping you will always be able to continue the wonderful work, helping numerous mothers. Thanking you again for your kindness, I am."

When a beneficiary has lived one or more continuous years in a Municipality prior to making application, that Municipality is chargeable with 50 per cent.

When a beneficiary moves from one municipality to another, she continues to receive full allowance (on County basis), the Municipality from which she moves paying one half of the allowance until a year in the Municipality to which she moves.

When an applicant who is otherwise eligible is not so qualified as to residence, i.e., has not lived a continuous year prior to application in municipality of present residence, she shall not be eligible for the fifty per cent. of the allowance paid by the municipality until she had completed a year of residence therein. In such cases, the beneficiary will only be eligible for the Provincial half of the allowance until such year of residence is completed.

The whole of the administration expenses is borne by the Province. The total sum contributed by municipalities is paid in allowances to beneficiaries.

Local Boards.

Ninety-six Local Boards were appointed. Each City, Separated Town, County and Judicial District has a Board, with the exception of the District of Thunder Bay, which is represented on the Local Board of the City of Port Arthur.

The District of Kenora was divided into three sections for the purpose of administration of Mothers' Allowances; the District of Parry Sound into two, and the District of Nipissing into two. Each section of these districts has a Local Board.

Local Boards have been appointed for certain Indian Reserves. In some instances the representative of a Reserve has been placed on the Local Board of a Municipality contiguous to the Reserve.

All members of Local Boards serve gratuitously. They receive payment for travelling expenses and are supplied with files and other necessary office supplies.

The clause lettered a in section 3 of The Mothers' Allowances Act is amended by striking out the words "in Ontario" in the second line and substituting therefor the words "in Canada" and by adding at the end of the said clause after the word "family" the words "or of a man who has deserted her and who has not been heard of for at least five years" so that the clause will read as follows: 1920, c. 89, s. 3, amended.

1920, c. 89, amended.

5. The Mothers' Allowances Act is amended by adding thereto the following section:

Allowance in special cases.

3*a*. In cases presenting special circumstances where investigation has shown the advisability of an allowance being granted to the children dependent upon a mother or foster-mother who is not strictly eligible under the terms of section 3 of this Act, the commission may recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council the granting of an allowance and the amount of the same, and the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may consider any such recommendation and direct the payment of an allowance accordingly.

Commencement of Act.

7. This Act shall come into force on the day upon which it receives the Royal Assent.

BULLETIN NO. 1

A Memorandum prepared by the Mothers' Allowances Commission for the Guidance of Applicants and Beneficiaries under the Act.

TORONTO, Sept. 1, 1920.

The Mothers' Allowances Act, under certain conditions, provides for the payment of a monthly allowance toward the support of dependant children in the care of their mothers.

I. Applications.

1. Applications are considered only when the mother of the children is a widow or the wife of an inmate of a hospital for the insane in Ontario, or of a man who is permanently disabled and incapable of contributing to the support of his family.

2. The mother must have been resident in Canada at the time of the death or total disability of the father of the children on whose behalf the allowance is to be made, and for a period of three years immediately prior to the application for an allowance.

3. The mother must be resident in Ontario at the time of the application for an allowance and must have been living in Ontario for the two years immediately prior to this date.

4. The mother must continue to live in Ontario with her dependent children so long as they are receiving an allowance. Any change of residence must be reported at once.

5. The mother must be a British subject by birth or naturalization or the wife or widow of a British subject.

6. The mother must be a fit and proper person to have the care and custody of her children.

7. The mother must have two or more of her own children under fourteen years of age living with her, and must show that she cannot care properly for them without the assistance of an allowance under the Act. Where a mother has two or more children, even if they are now being cared for in institutional homes, it is quite legitimate for her to make application for an allowance in order that she may make a home for them.

II. Administration.

The Mothers' Allowances Act is administered for the Province by a Commission with offices located at 604 Jarvis Street, Toronto. Every city, separated town and county, however, will soon have a local board, and application for an allowance should be made in the first instance to this Board. Where there is no local board in the district, applications may be sent directly to the Provincial Commission, Toronto.

III. Investigations.

The members of the Commission do not wish applicants to be considered as applying for charity; rather, the mother, when in receipt of an allowance, is to be regarded as an employee of the Ontario Government receiving remuneration for services rendered in the proper care of her children.

It is the duty, therefore, of the Commission and of the local board to investigate carefully the fitness of the applicant for her position.

Certificates of marriage and the birth certificates of the children may be required for examination, and where the mother is a widow, the death certificate of her husband.

IV. Supervision of Beneficiaries.

The mother, as an employee of the Government, must not only satisfy the Commission of her fitness to receive an allowance at the time of her application, but she must satisfy them that she is fulfilling the trust which is being placed in her, and co-operation with the official visitors of the Commission and local boards is necessary toward this end. Satisfactory reports of the health and general welfare of the children must be received if the allowance is to be continued.

V. Amount of Allowance.

The Act does not state any fixed sum or schedule according to which the payment of allowances will be made. The Commission, however, will fix the maximum and minimum allowances which will be granted, and each family will receive individual consideration within these limits. Allowances will be granted in accordance with a cost-of-living budget prepared after due study of the present assets and resources of the family and its needs. No allowances will be paid before October 1st, 1920, and time will be required for the investigation of each particular case before payment can be expected. As far as possible, applications are considered in the order in which they are received.

BULLETIN NO. 2.

Regulations re Appointment of Local Boards.

1. A local board shall consist in general of five members, who shall give their services without remuneration, and of whom not less than two shall be women. The Commission may, in any instance, for reason, provide for a larger or a smaller number of members on a local board.

2. The governing body of each county, city, separated town, district, or of any defined territory in Ontario, as the case may be, may choose two members for the local board. The remaining three members shall be chosen by the Commission and the five members so chosen shall be appointed by the Commission and shall together constitute the local board.

3. Should the governing body of a county, city, separated town or district fail to choose these two members for the local board, after having been requested to do so through its Mayor, Warden or other chief representative, then the Commission may appoint five persons to form a local board.

4. The person whose name appears first in the list of members appointed to the local board, shall convene its first meeting. At this first meeting it shall be the duty of the board to appoint from their members a chairman, a vice-chairman and a secretary; and to consider the time and place of their regular meetings.

5. The members of the local board shall be appointed for a period of one year, dating from October 1st, 1920, and annually thereafter from October 1st: members shall be eligible for re-appointment.

6. In the event of a vacancy due to the death or resignation of a member or to other cause, the local board may recommend and the Commission shall appoint a successor to the retired member.

7. Three members of a local board shall constitute a quorum.

8. Should any member of a local board be absent without valid reason from three successive meetings, the chairman may declare the seat of that member vacant, and the local board may then recommend to the Commission a successor to act for the unexpired portion of the year.

9. In general, applications for allowances shall be made in the first instance to the local board, which shall consider the same in relation to the terms of The Mothers' Allowances Act and Regulations, and shall forward the same with their report and recommendations to the Commission.

10. In order to assure publicity, the Secretary of the local board shall announce through the local press, the personnel of the membership of the board, and the fact that they are prepared to receive application for allowances under The Mothers' Allowances Act.

Toronto, September 15th, 1920.

BULLETIN NO. 3.

Duties of Local Board

Local Publicity

1. The Local Board shall use any means in its power to keep before the community the meaning and purpose of the Mothers' Allowances Act and the methods of its application. The Local Board shall have permission to publish, without any expense to the Commission, any literature sent from the Offices of the Provincial Commission.

2. The name of the applicant and the details of the application shall be considered confidential.

Receipt of Application

3. The Local Board shall receive all applications, which shall be filled in under the supervision of a member of the Board except in the cases of Counties and Judicial Districts, when applications may be received by individual members of the Board, or the Clerk of the Township in which the applicant resides. Application forms shall be made in duplicate, the one to be forwarded to the Provincial Commission and the other to be retained by the Local Board.

4. The Local Board shall forward to the Commission information concerning any changes in the domestic condition of the recipient of an allowance which will, in any way, affect the amount to be paid. Reports in reference to such matters shall be forwarded to the Commission as occasion arises.

5. A quarterly report of the operations of the Local Board shall be made on the form supplied by the Commission and forwarded to the Provincial Commission on the 1st day of October, January, April and June of each year.

6. Local Boards shall forward to the Provincial Commission a record of each application made, whether or not such application comes within the meaning of the Act. This will give the Commission information respecting the number of deserted wives, widows with one child, unmarried mothers, and other similar cases.

October 1st, 1920.

BULLETIN NO. 4.

The Mothers' Allowances Act, under certain conditions, provides for the payment of a monthly allowance toward the support of dependent children.

1. Applications are considered when the mother of the children is a widow or the wife of an inmate of a hospital for the insane in Canada, or of a man who is permanently disabled and incapable of contributing to the support of his family.

2. The mother must have been resident in Canada at the time of the death or total disability of the father of the children on whose behalf the allowance is to be made and for a period of three years immediately prior to the application for an allowance.

3. The mother must be resident in Ontario at the time of the application for an allowance and must have been living in Ontario for two years immediately prior to this date.

4. The applicant must have been resident continuously for at least one year in the Municipality in which she now resides, (see section 8, (3) Mothers' Allowances Act, 1920). If an applicant has removed from the Municipality in which she has been resident, to another Municipality in which she is not qualified under section 8, sub-section 3, of the Mothers' Allowances Act, 1920, she will only be eligible for that half of the allowance payable by the Province until she has resided in the new Municipality continuously for one year.

5. The mother must continue to live in Ontario with her dependent children so long as they are receiving an allowance.

6. The mother must be a British subject by birth or naturalization or the wife or widow of a British subject.

7. The mother must be a fit and proper person to have the care and custody of her children.

8. If the mother is a widow she must have two or more of her own children under fourteen years of age living with her, or one of her own children under fourteen years of age and one over fourteen years of age, totally and permanently incapacitated, both in her care; or if the wife of a husband totally and permanently incapacitated she must have one of her own children under fourteen years of age and the husband both in her care, or if she is the wife of a man in a hospital for the insane in Canada, she must have two or more children under fourteen years of age in her care.

A mother with children in institutional homes may make application for an allowance, but it is expected that she, on or before receipt of an allowance, will make a home for the children. Allowances are not paid to mothers whose children are in institutions.

9. The mother is not eligible for an allowance under the Act if she has adequate means to care properly for her children.

10. Provision is also made for the granting of an allowance to a woman who is married or unmarried and has resident with her and in her care two or more orphan children under fourteen years or age, and is the grandmother, sister, aunt or other suitable person acting as the foster mother of such children and has not adequate means to care properly for them without the assistance of an allowance under the Act.

All qualifications as to length of residence, naturalization, etc., apply also in this case and in cases cited in the following sections.

11. In cases of presumption of death, application will be considered if the mother can submit legal proof in the form of a statutory declaration showing evidence of not having heard of or from her husband for a period of five years prior to the making of application and showing that no support either directly or indirectly was received from the husband during that period. In such cases the mother must have two or more children of her own under fourteen years of age in her care.

12. Effect of the Adolescent School Attendance Act, 1919.

Where, in the foregoing, reference is made to the age of fourteen years in the case of any child or children towards whose support an allowance may be paid, such reference on and after the coming into effect of the Adolescent School Attendance Act, 1919, or any part thereof, shall be read as if the words "sixteen years" were substituted for "fourteen years."

Administration

The Mothers' Allowances Act is administered for the Province by a Commission with offices located at 46 Richmond Street West, Toronto. Every city, separated town, county and judicial district has a Local Board and application for an allowance should be made in the first instance to a member of this Board. Where a member of a Local Board is not convenient, application may be made to a Municipal Clerk or in the case of a resident of an Indian Reserve, to the Indian Agent.

Investigation

The Commission does not wish applicants to be considered as applying for charity; but that the mother be regarded as an employee of the state, receiving remuneration for services rendered in the proper care of her children.

It is the duty of the Commission and the Local Board to investigate carefully the fitness of the applicant for her position. Certificates of marriage and the birth certificates of the children for whom application is made, are required for examination; where the mother is a widow the death certificate of her husband is required as is also a medical certificate in case of incapacitation and such other certificates as the Commission may at any time request. In the case of foster mothers, certificates of the death of both parents are necessary.

If certificates are not at hand, please apply enclosing 25c fee for verification of each certificate required, to a member of the Local Board for forms on which to make application to the Registrar-General's Department at the Parliament Buildings, Queen's Park, Toronto. The form of certificate of incapacitation or of statutory declaration may also be secured from a member of the Local Board, or the offices of the Commission.

Supervision of Beneficiaries

The mother, as an employee of the Government, must not only satisfy the Commission of her fitness to receive an allowance at the time of her application, but she must satisfy it that she is fulfilling the trust which is being placed in her and co-operation with the official visitors of the Commission and Local Boards is necessary toward this end. Satisfactory reports of the health and general welfare of the children must be received if the allowance is to be continued.

Amount of Allowance

The following rates are used as the basis of calculation;

City Rates:

Beneficiary with two children .....$40 per month
Beneficiary with three children .....$45 per month
Beneficiary with four children .....$50 per month
Beneficiary with five or more children .....$55 per month

Rates in Municipalities which are not cities are $10 lower than the above.

In calculating the amount of an allowance, reductions are made for equity in real property and the earnings of wage-earning children. Questions of amount of property held, amount of each and other assets are also considered.

Financial Liability of Municipalities under the Mothers' Allowances Act.

1. Where the person to whom an allowance is payable has resided in the Municipality continuously for at least one year immediately prior to the application to the Local Board for an allowance under the Act, that Municipality is chargeable with half the amount of allowance. See Section 8, sub-section 3.

2. When the person to whom an allowance is payable has resided but a few months in a Municipality from which she applies, that Municipality will not be financially liable for half the allowance until she has resided a continuous year in that Municipality.

In cases of this kind, the Municipality from which beneficiary moved (if said beneficiary has resided there for one or more continuous years immediately prior to her removal), shall be liable for the number of months necessary to elapse to make up the continuous year in the Municipality in which she is now resident.

3. When a person is considered otherwise eligible but cannot qualify under either of the above regulations; i.e., had no continuous year of residence in her immediate past, she shall only be deemed eligible for that half of the allowance payable by the Province until such time as she shall have qualified according to the Act, as to residence, when the half chargeable to the Municipality may be added.

4. Where the person to whom an allowance is payable under this Act is found by the Commission to be a resident of some place in a provisional judicial district, other than a city, contributions shall not be required under this section, but the whole amount of such allowance shall be borne by the Province. Section 8, sub-section 6.

Change of Residence

It is necessary to have information sent to the Mothers' Allowances Commission if any beneficiary desires to change her residence stating reasons for such change. This is especially necessary where the change means residence in a different Municipality (see above).

How Payments are Made

Payments are made by cheque from the Treasury of Ontario. Payments are not due until the end of the month.

Any mother who does not receive her usual cheque, or notification of cancellation, suspension, or reduction, should at the beginning of the following month, write the Accountant, Mothers' Allowances Commission, 46 Richmond Street West, Toronto, Ontario.

May it Please Your Honour;

E. C. Drury,

Prime Minister.

Fourth Annual Report

of the

Civil Service Commissioner

for Ontario

To the Honourable,
The Prime Minister of Ontario.

Sir,

In compliance with Section 11 of The Ontario Public Service Act, 1918, I have the honour to submit my Report for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1921.

The year covered by this Report, like the years preceding it both during and since the war, was characterized by economic and social unrest and by abnormal conditions generally. It was a period of marked reactions, reflecting a world-wide depression. The tendency since July 1920, when the cost-of-living curve reached its peak in Canada, has been in the direction of a return to normal conditions.

Applications.

Partly as a result of the acute unemployment situation which prevailed throughout most of the year, the number of applicants for positions in the Public Service was much larger than in former years. Approximately 1,600 persons made application through this office alone. More than five hundred of these applications were from men with Military Service to their credit.

Classification of Positions.

While the Report on the Classification of the Public Service, which was submitted to the Government in February, 1920, and later tabled in the Legislature, was not formally adopted by legislation, it was actually given effect when the salaries were adjusted by Order-in-Council in 1920, and confirmed in the Estimates of 1921 and 1922. Since July 1920, appointments, promotions, transfers and salary increases, with few exceptions, have been made in accordance with the Classification.

It is only by maintaining a proper classification of the positions in the Public Service that the best results in connection with problems relating to employment can be secured for both the Government and its working forces. The Classification is elastic enough to meet changing conditions and to provide for the normal growth of departments and for the expansion of Government activities. Provision is made therein for establishing additional classes together with rates of compensation, combining or eliminating existing classes, and for amending the schedules of classification or compensation. The consistent application of the principles underlying the Classification will aid materially in preserving the integrity of the merit system as applied to employment problems. The practical results so far obtained have, on the whole, been very satisfactory. Every effort is being made to place employees on an equitable basis and to maintain right conditions and right methods in the Service. It is recognized that an efficient personnel cannot be secured and retained unless right conditions and right methods prevail in the Service, and such conditions and methods depend primarily upon the proper classification of the positions therein.

Appointments.

As indicated in the tables in the Appendix of this Report, the certificates issued under The Ontario Public Service Act, 1918, during the fiscal year ending October 31, 1921, were as follows: for permanent appointments 940; for new temporary appointments 591; for temporary renewals 804; Total 2,335.

The large increase in the number of permanent appointments over the number of such appointments in the preceding fiscal year was due to the policy to promote to the permanent staff temporary employees whose services in permanent positions had been satisfactory and to the desire on the part of such employees to secure the protection and the benefits afforded by The Ontario Public Service Superannuation Act, which came into force on June 15, 1920.

The 940 certificates issued in connection with permanent appointments were distributed as follows: 625 temporary employees were appointed to the permanent staff; 120 new employees were appointed directly to the permanent staff; 71 permanent employees were promoted in position; 12 permanent employees were transferred from one permanent position to another; 7 permanent employees were transferred from one department to another; and 79 permanent employees were reappointed to the permanent staff, due mainly to reorganization in one of the departments and to the desire to bring a group of employees in the Outside Service of another department within the scope of The Ontario Public Service Superannuation Act; and 26 certificates were issued for permanent appointments that were pending on October 31.

The total number of new employees entering the Public Service during the year and appointed under Certificate was 711. Of this number, 120 were appointed to the permanent staff and 591 to the temporary staff.

Those appointed to the temporary staff include (1) persons employed for a brief probationary period before being appointed to the permanent staff, (2) persons employed to do work of a purely temporary nature, such as that in connection with the Departmental Examinations under the Department of Education, (3) persons employed to assist departments during emergent periods.

Resignations.

The total number of employees who discontinued their duties during the year, as reported to my office, was 492. Of this number, 117 resigned from the permanent staff; 271 discontinued their duties on the temporary staff; and 104 permanent employees were retired under the provisions of The Ontario Public Service Superannuation Act.

Promotions.

There were over eighty promotions during the year. This is a particularly gratifying feature. The recognition of the principle of promotion is producing excellent results. It provides a strong stimulus to efficient service. Employees generally can serve with greater contentment and satisfaction when they know that individual merit receives recognition in the form of advancement in position when openings occur. Considerable emphasis has always been placed upon the principle of promotion in private business enterprises of all kinds where the value of its consistent application has been amply demonstrated in increased production, efficiency and economy. It is not urged that the promotion principle should be applied in filling all vacancies or all new positions in the Public Service, as it is undoubtedly advisable to let in new blood frequently. The merits of each case, as governed by the best interests of the Service, should determine what positions should be filled by promotion and what positions by new appointment.

Salaries.

General increases in salaries were not granted during the year. There were, however, increases given in special cases. Employees who were advanced in position received increased remuneration from the date of promotion, and slight adjustments were made in accordance with the classification schedule when persons employed temporarily were appointed to the permanent staff. There were also a few adjustments made where considerable expansion in duties and responsibilities had developed and where staffs had been consolidated and reorganized.

The bonus granted by the Government to employees on account of the high cost of living was discontinued on April 30, 1921.

Another feature which affected the remuneration of permanent employees during the year was the deductions from their salaries, required under the provisions of The Ontario Public Service Superannuation Act, which were commenced in the month of November.

According to the Labour Gazette, issued by the Department of Labour, Ottawa, the cost of living declined about sixteen per cent. during the year, but was at the end of October still more than fifty per cent. higher than in 1914. Rents were increased during the year and the reduction in the cost of fuel was very slight.

Organization.

A well-organized department is never overmanned. Occasionally there is need for increasing a staff during pressure periods, a condition which should be met by transfers from other departments or branches, or by brief temporary appointments, but no department should be staffed to carry the peak load. As a general rule, the temporary staff in any department should be relatively small and consist chiefly of those occupying permanent positions during a probationary period, which in most instances should not exceed six months. Efficiency and economy in the dispatch of departmental business can best be secured when a proper relation exists between the real requirements of the department and the daily output of each class of employee. This comparison supplies the basis for determining the number of positions required. Overmanning inevitably results in the deterioration of the service. It is infinitely better to have a slightly undermanned staff than to have one employee too many. Personnel administration is the direction and co-ordination of the human relations of any organization with the view of getting maximum production with a minimum of effort and friction and with proper regard for the well-being of the workers.

All officials in charge of the direction and supervision of the work of employees, whether in small or large units, should have a keen sense of their responsibilities in respect to the efficient and economic dispatch of public business. It is their duty to eliminate waste and extravagance of every kind and to see that the Government is getting a fair and proper return for every expenditure made.

The Merit System.

I again strongly recommend the application of the merit system to all employment problems arising in the Public Service. Due recognition of the principle of merit means careful selection in making appointments. It secures for the vacant position the best qualified available applicant. It tends to insure security of tenure to employees. It means the handling of all problems relating to employment, promotion, compensation and organization in such a way as to bring about an effective and economical administration of Government business. The growing demands of modern government, with its changing activities and enlarging functions, require a well-equipped and efficient body of employees who are prepared to invest themselves in the work of the state. There is greater need now than ever before in the administration of public affairs for high-grade, intelligent service and for the maintenance of a high-degree of business efficiency. The time is not far distant when greater attention will be given the problem of training employees for public service. Private employers are learning that it is good business to train, educate and promote their employees and to be interested in their welfare. The tendency in private business is to follow the progress of the employee throughout his tenure, record his efficiency, furnish incentives by promotion and increased compensation, and to endeavour to enlarge his capacity for more responsible service. The methods and principles which have been tested by private employers and adopted as a matter of good business are equally applicable to the Public Service.

Respectfully submitted,

J. M. McCutcheon,

Civil Service Commissioner.
